I'm thinking of either bargaining for a better rate or going to a different gym. 09-28-2010, 10:22 AM Location: 78747 3,202 posts, study 5,107,657 times Reputation: 915 If you have children, it's a great deal. Children are $6 months extra for existing members, who have 2 hours of free child care per day, have access to the pool for them, and light rupees for organized sports lessons, etc. If I was the only one, then I'm not sure, but I didn't really shop around either. 09-28-2010, 10:25 AM Location: Austin, TX 308 posts, study 1,376,934 times reputation: 64 Unfortunately I don't have children, so I have not had the opportunity to enjoy this part, although their classes are very good, and the gym is very well maintained. Instead we went with 24 hours which was half. It's running me away that you can get there for $40. 09-28-2010, 05:48 PM 845 MRASLA, READING 1,775,277 Times Reputation: 1070 I want i can tell you the rate for life fitness but it seems impossible to find out. They don't list them on their vebsite and so I hate to email and they still didn't say no-they asked me more questions. He killed me that the gyms don't publish their rates. 09-28-2010, 06:38 PM Location: Greater Sitt, WA Metro Area 1,938 Letters, Study 5,978,033 Times Reputation: 904 As one who has worked in a few health clubs, negotiated his own deal before working at a club and still call you when a contract is available near your price. Be polite. Be strong. It also helps me come in I know the person (insert the iPad name) and they pay 'x' per month. I want the same deal. Make sure the person is not at company discount! In the plug-in for 24, I taught William on the tape at 24 and now taught in one in The Satellite. In our area, Costco has a contract where you can buy for $300 for 2 years. You can see that austin area's The Costco goes to it. Please register to post and access all features of our very popular forum. It's free and quick. Yes, I decided to strengthen my gym membership when I had a really tough decision (I was in the gold gym and Y). I was just a membership of Y for Rockqatball, paid there for almost 15 years. But after that many of my friends stopped playing, something light happened. I was not encouraged to play now (because That's all I'm running and I can do that for free) so I left y membership and sleep and moved up to 24 hours. It was about the same price i paid to sleep and it was a pool. The climbing wall would be nice lightly, but I was not ready to pay $60/month. The pools look fantastic, but I don't have a child who was not attractive to me. I usually a wait (not always) to use the Urwebeak machines above. I don't use them (can't stand inside the urvibox when I can run out or bike) so it's not really a problem. My wife though and she is able to get into a workout without much of a problem.
