This verb sorting will give them practical practice with this often tricky theme! In this activity, your students will sort this list of 20 English offers into two categories: saber or horsemeat. You can easily adapt this activity for other times by simply providing your own list. In addition to practical practice, this resource also includes two versions of the same sentence sheet. This resource contains: one sentence sorting a page sheet of twenty English sentences with dotted lines for a cutting sheet where students choose between a saber and a conocer and explain why the chosen time is the right sheet, where students choose between a saber and a conocer and Offer offers The keys to the sheet are sorting sentences and both sheets to use the resource and table content This action works well individually and in small groups and will be a great introductory activity (using inductive reasoning), application or review activities. Although designed to be used in level two, it also makes a great review for a Spanish three or four.
