James Beckett wrote, This is not a good show, but God help me, I laughed a little at how adamant it was. Lynzee Loveridge wrote that she is edited airing on a Japanese satellite station. Nick Creamer wrote that the episode certainly knows how to create a sexually charged scene, and even has production values to make his characters look really attractive. Theron Martin wrote If you find suppositories and someone holding on to pee to be sexy then you may like this, but it's definitely only aimed at a certain kind of twist. [38] Allen Moody of them Anime Reviews gave the anime show 1 out of 5 stars, observing the tediously repetitive fanservice formula in use and heavy censorship that None of this is really funny-as it is presented, not sexy either- Found the groping scenes to be endlessly repetitive, and along with all the relative humiliation and embarrassment of women here, they finally completely worn down my patience.
