Simply put, many of your efforts in this game revolves around unlocking powerful characters and further upgrading them by investing resources. However, the challenge here, aside from being lucky enough to summon character S or SS, knowing which character to hold, and that to ignore. At MMGlobal, there are over 60 different characters that you can summon, by the time we are writing this article. About 20 of these characters are ranked S and SS, which means that, thankfully, you don't have many problems deciding who to keep. Given that SS ratings are very rare (1.5% chance of getting them from summons), they are also quite strong. However, if you are looking for the best of the best, then you just don't settle for any maid. In this guide, we want to share the choice for the best characters for each role in the Global Memorial Mirage. However, if you set on summoning the best characters from the beginning, we suggest taking a look at our guide on rerolling in MMGlobal first. The best DPS maids dealing damage in this game is not so much about hitting hard with regular attacks, but about destroying your enemies with your character skills. While DPS characters have above-average damage in physical attacks, their skills are the ones that shine them as the best heroes for this role can often destroy the entire enemy team once they manage to unleash a certain ability. Some of the characters that match these descriptions include arguably one of the strongest characters, which can carry you through many one-time upgraded story missions. If you add Athena to your team early, you will have no problem completing until season 5 onwards. However, in order to unleash your full potential, and unlock your defensive skills you must upgrade your ASAP. Athena shines for her AoE injury, as well as for her skills which can do great damage to the enemy in That buffeted her Many ways. His main skill, Holy Blade, deals numerous hits to the entire enemy team while also hitting them and granting Athena immunity to all damage and control effects. Meanwhile, his second skill, the Holy Warrior, hurts and pushes back a single opponent, destroying all his debuffs and granting him an increase in the pace of attack and escape. Her third skill, Purify Blade, is the reason Athena is exceptionally strong. Aside from damaging all enemies in your path, this reduces your damage ability by 90% for 4 seconds, increasing the viability of your enemies substantially. Along with Athena, Hades is another heavy hetera that can carry you through most story missions at the Mirage Memorial. He specializes in keeping enemies powerless while chipping away his HP. He is much more selfish at the fact that he does not fend off his debuffs or buffs, but has skills that increase his viability. You could say that since he's not a team player much, Hades is a great independent servant and doesn't need much support to do his job. His first two skills, Dead Silence and Dark Paradise, deal damage to many enemies while hitting them into the air. While airborne, the enemies are helpless and cannot fight each other. Meanwhile Hades' third skill, Samsara, makes him a spooky figure and gains complete immunity and damages everything around him the whole time. While our first two proposals revolve further around single-target DPS, Susanoo is all the opposite. This servant has skills that affect the entire enemy team. When paired with other characters who can attack many enemies at once, he can basically work short of any group of enemies. However, Susanoo is not as strong as our other DPS proposals, especially when faced against tough enemies only like employers. Playing The Mirage Of World Memorial in BlueStacks is his first skill, avalanche, damage of all enemy teams and reduces his attack and speed of movement by 50% for 8 seconds, greatly reducing their damage as they won't be able to attack as often. His second skill, Palm of Death, strikes enemies back while granting Susan and Max defense, allowing him to tank most attacks for 4 seconds. His third skill, interception, made him a scary force on the battlefield as he trades damage to everything around him while increasing his offense for 8 seconds. This skill also numbs enemies for 3 seconds. The best tank maids when it comes to tanks in the Mirage of The World Memorial, the idea is to attract the attention of enemies, keep them powerless, and absorb damage so that other party members are not required. Yet the best characters in this role, while not as strong as pure DPS servants, can also do decent damage to the enemy. Here are some of our picks for large tanks in MMGlobal: combining big offense with better than average defenses, it's a force to be afraid of on the field. He can launch enemies into the air, leaving them helpless, with his first skill, suppressing chaos. In addition, this skill also damages the enemy 6 times, potentially dealing tons of damage. His second skill, while also damaging many enemies, grants him swifck status and increases his physical and magical defenses significantly for 10 seconds, allowing him to tank each enemy. Nobu is one of the few stable tanks in The Memorial Global Mirage. While technically not a tank, his skill set allows him to stand on the front lines and absorb tons of damage since he can heal himself with his Scythe ghost skill. In addition, he can greatly reduce the physical attacking characteristics of his enemies with his ghost strike skill. This second skill means that not only can he increase his viability, but also his entire team. As if having great defensive options wasn't enough, Nobu was also able to increase his attacking speed for 4 seconds with his crescent-slash skill. In general, this servant has the potential to do a lot of damage that will only outsse his survival. The best support maids are a supporting figure in Mirage Memorial Global, any serviceman who focuses more on rejecting the enemy, healing its allies or giving positive effects to the party instead of having the skills to harm the enemy. Here are two examples of characters that can satisfy this role. Atlas as one of the best supporting characters in the game, has skills to both debuffing the damage of enemies, as well as to keep your party alive and well. His first two skills, light storms and dust storms, both reduce the attack of his enemies. However, the former also reduces the morale of the enemy team by up to 100, while the latter has a chance of turning the enemy into your team for 4 seconds. His third skill, AoE's healing rainstorm centered around his main goal. Atlas is great because while it doesn't do much damage, it can severely cripple an opponent's performance and turn them into sitting ducks so that your party can easily erase them. This maid supports more criminalism as she has the skills to harm the enemy while supplementing her healing prowess. His first two skills, the tocratic code and the dictator, severely harm the enemy. In addition, the former eliminates all those interested in damaged targets, while the latter reduces its attacking speed by 50% for 4 seconds. His third skill is just a standard healing spell, but that can also hit all enemies around the target. Like Atlas, Hamurabi can passively boost the morale of the entire party and give them access to their skills much faster. If you are looking to build a powerful team in the Mirage of The World Memorial, then you'd better try for each of the characters we listed on this list. By adding only one or two of the servants we mentioned above, you will be Easily beat most stages in the main campaign, as well as a very good foundation for building a great team later in the endgame. Mirage Memorial Global is an MMORPG character series that features famous characters from history and emiltology who are reimagined as beautiful servants. Available on Android and iOS platforms, the game starts with an epic battle between Angel Gabriel and Lucifer. Despite having a whole team of heroes by his side, Gabriel loses the battle when Lucifer decides to divide reality and separate all his enemies around different worlds. By the time Gabriel reaches his senses, the real Lucifer is hiding, and chaos has spread throughout the earth. It is up to you, his master, to gather more servants and lead them to the hunt for the real Lucifer. It will be hard to travel. You have to hire the best servants possible and give them the power to equip them with the best gear and enhance your skills. There are many things you have to do before the final battle. Fear not, though, as we have come up with a detailed guide to the global beginner memorial mirror, including a number of useful tips, games and strategies to restore order in the world and defeat Lucifer! 1. Starting with the Aristotle trial the game has dozens of things to do for you. Various dungeons, daily events, competitions, bonuses, etc. There. It can be overwhelming for a novice to try to mean everything at once. The best place to start is the Aristotle trials. These are challenges that are categorized into three basic, medium, and advanced rows. Obviously you'll be able to complete all of this on your first day, but it's a good idea to regularly check out Aristotle's list to see which ones you can work on. These tasks are designed to help you stay on track in terms of progress in the game. As an added bonus, you will get rewards for each task you complete. If you complete all tasks under one category, you will earn a graduation bonus and open the next category of tasks. Whenever you are unsure what to do next, check the duties in the Aristotle courts and see what to do for the next review on the list. 2. How to collect your team from you playing a gacha game, you can expect to get a lot of extra characters that will likely never see the battlefield in your lifetime. How to decide which one Along, and which one would leave them on the couch? The first thing to look at is their rarity. The highest rating is rare SS. You want a whole team full of minimum S rank maids, and ideally a full SS when you progress further. This may seem like a spicy need, but the game is actually very generous with crystal, premium currency. Just hold summons and you'll have a whole mix of rare S characters even before your second day in the game ends. Related: Mirage Memorial World Row List. The best maids in the game consider their second elemental servant desire. There are five elements in the Global Memorial Mirage: fire, wind, water, light, and dark. The fire is strong against the wind. The wind is strong against the water. Water is strong against fire. Light and darkness are strong against each other. With that in mind, you want a regular mix that has different elements. If you have a homogeneous combination, you will be putting yourself at a disadvantage, not only in PVE, but in the PVP where players can easily cope with their entire team. In the advanced stages of the game, you will be able to level up the extra characters to afford. When that time arrives, you'll be able to adjust your team according to the enemy squad. Until then, your best bet is to maintain a balanced mix that is prepared for different scenarios. 3. Level up your maids there are plenty of ways to power up your maids, and train more rush games through all of them. You probably get through the whole training and still feel lost at the end of it all. We'll get into Nate Grite's details later. Now, the most basic way to increase the fighting power of your maids is simply to level them up. Maids gain experience through battle. You can also use experience cards to level them in the servant menu. Great experience cards for leveling your extra characters as well. Keep in mind that your servants can't have a higher level of you, master them. Just complete tasks and go through campaign battles, and you don't have many problems increasing your master level as well. 4. Evolve your servants when you open the servant menu, the first tab you see is the evolution screen. The evolution of your servants will change the color of their frames and increase your strength. To evolve a maid, you need to inlay the runes needed to take four slots. If you see a plus sign on the rune slot, this means that you rune the required in your inventory. You can only tap on Inlay Fast to insert the necessary runes into the correct slots. If you missed the rune, tap on the slot where a rune is needed. This will tell you the type of rune you're looking for and how to get it. Low-level runes can be nurtured from the campaign stages. Higher level runes can be crafted by combining low level runes with other The game will also tell you how to get the material you need to build. Once you have all the runes in place, just tap on the evolution button to significantly increase the power of your maid. 5. Unlock more skills, here's how now that you know how to evolve your servants, it's time to navigate the second tab that tabs the skill. This is where you can improve your servants' skills, each maid has four skills, but you'll find that some skills are locked. If you pay attention to the previous tip, you will be able to unlock skills for your servant. The number of skills unlocked depends on the evolution of your servant. Gray maids have only one skill. Green servants have two skills. Sian's servants have three skills, and the purple servants have four skills. Once a skill has been unlocked, you will be able to level it by spending skill cards. The higher the skill level, the more skill cards you need to level it up. If you run out of skill cards, you can get more by participating in the Frontier Defense event. Keep in mind that skill levels are also limited by your servant's level. You will receive a pop-up message if you try to level up skills without meeting the servant level bet. 6. Don't neglect your soldiers as you fight war, you probably notice a bunch of little girls fighting alongside your servants. These are their soldiers. Soldiers follow the elemental proximity of the servant they are associated with, but they have independent levels. Soldiers change in appearance and receive a significant increase in power every 20 levels. To level up your troops, you will need Tomes from training. You can get more tomes by attending the Desert Shrine event, or by winning the arena. You can also receive tomes as rewards from various events. 7. Assign additional characters as help when you hit master level 42, you will be able to assign donors. Head to help tabs from the servant menu to assign as many as 12 assists to each maid. This is a great way to use all the extra maids you ideally need to have 60 extra characters to fill all the assisted slots from your team. Hit the Quick Help button if you want the game to automatically assign help to each slot. The game algorithm will automatically allocate the best possible donors from the pool of maids that you have. The only catch in assigning donors is that you have to look for the required elemental proximity in the right order. You need to add a fire, wind, light, and water in the first column before you can add anyone in the second column. That means that even if you have a lot of extra firefighters, if you don't have any water maids for the final slots in the first column, you'll be able to add longer. Try to fill all the slots as much as you can in order to obtain Increase in stats. 8. Use duplicates to star up when you get duplicates of your maids, not discouraged. This is a good thing because you need a few duplicates to enhance the star rating of your servant. Tap on the star button to top at the bottom of the maid screen to see how many duplicates you need to sacrifice for the next star level. The higher the star level, the more powerful your servant becomes. On top of that, when a maid reaches 5 stars, you'll be able to open her first bond story as well as a chest full of rewards. The story of the second runway has opened at 7 stars. Keep painting and always hold on to each duplicate to enhance the star rating of your maids. 9. Optimizing your gear equipment is one of the more complex parts of the power up to your maids because there is even more work to do here. There are various rarities of gear, and you naturally want to get a full legendary collection on your character. Once you have a legendary item, you can continue to improve it until it becomes the best possible equipment for your character. We listed different ways you can improve your gear below. Boost: This is the most basic way to power up your gear. Simply increase your level using upgrade stones. You can tap on the Quick Boost button to automatically consume all the upgrade stones needed to maximize your gear level. Identification: When you enter the identification menu, you'll notice that there are four bars under your item. These bars will be filled in random secondary statistics every time you identify. Identification requires different types of sand, depending on the number of secondary statistics that have been opened. Recast: Recasting can only be done when you are filled in all four lines of secondary statistics through the identification screen. If you're not satisfied with any of the secondary statistics that you have, just highlight it on recast screens and then spend the corresponding voodoo stones. You will then be given three random secondary statistics to choose from. Select the one you want to hold and then confirm. You can keep recasting stats until you are satisfied until you have enough voodoo stones. Evolution: This allows you to increase your gear star rating. You need to spend the stones evolving to evolve your gear. Increasing star gear points also increases your maximum level, allowing you to enhance more gear. Keep in mind, though, that your gear star rating is also limited by your master level. You have to be at 50 master levels to raise a piece of equipment to 3 stars. 10. Rebirth versus transition as you progress in the mirage of global remembrance and hire more servants, you will no doubt come to the point where you level up servants that you no longer wish to use. When it comes time, you have the option to recover all the resources you spend on them. It can It is done through the rebirth system. The problem is that it costs 320 crystals to rebirth a maid. It would be a waste of premium currency to rebirth a maid unless you spend a lot of resources on them now. You most likely would not have spent a lot of resources on a maid unless she was part of her mix for a long time. Now, if you're a maid who's been in your mix for a while, and you want to rebirth her because you pulled the maid better than Gacha, the better option might be the transition. The transition system allows you to transfer servant levels, evolution, refinement, and skill levels. You also go back all the gems, heart stones, and resources spent on the transfer target if you accidentally take him up now before reading this guide. It costs the same to transfer and rebirth a maid, so carefully consider that one of the best for your needs. 11. Level up your café now that you're done with a lot of heavy stuff, it's time to talk about the lighter part of the game, which is your café. The level of your café depends on your daily interactions with your maids. Tap the Home button on the right side of the screen to visit the café. You'll find your original servant hanging here, the lion on the change button if you prefer to hang out with a different maid. Don't worry because changing maids doesn't affect your café's desirability level. It's more of a fan service, really. Make sure you chat with your servant daily. This will increase your desirability slightly. The easier way to level desirability is by feeding your servant snacks. Unfortunately, snacks can only be purchased by topping up. Some events take out snacks as rewards, so keep an eye out for those. The higher the desirability of your café, the better the rewards you receive from your servants. You can claim gifts from the café once a day. 12. Take a look at the daily challenges of the Global Memorial Mirage has a series of challenges that you can complete every day. These challenges take from the various rewards that you need for the power up to your servants. Several of them have been mentioned before, such as desert shrines and border defenses. The game doesn't fully explain how these challenges work, so check out the list below to get a better idea about what to do in each one. Arena: This is the PVC Arena. You get to challenge 10 players a day. The game shows you rank fighting your potential opponents, so you'll be able to pick those weaker than you. Keep in mind, though, that the fighting rating is not entirely accurate. You can still lose depending on elemental proximity and skill combinations. Winning the arena will reward you with a medal of courage that can be exchanged at the Courage Store. Tomes of Training also drops in the arena. Team Boss Battle: This is a dungeon boss attack that you can challenge up to three times a day. You can only choose Ask your maids for this dungeon. Always choose your best servant. After each challenge, you win different amounts of upgrade stones and refine oil. Border Defense: This is where you can take your perfect team to battle numerous waves of opponents. The catch is that your servants will not recover health in between wars. That means it becomes more difficult to progress as they do more damage per round. You will no longer be able to progress when everyone dies on your team. Desert Shrine: You can choose three servants to go along in this challenge, so choose your top three. Unlike the border defense challenge, battles are fought one by one at the desert shrine. You can choose which of your three servants you want to enter the battle by tapping on your portrait before reaching the next opponent. It would be a good idea to switch to one with an elemental advantage. If one of your servants dies, the next person will continue to fight and your opponent will sustain any damage he receives from the previous servant. Corridor Trial: This is composed of five doors that you can challenge. Each in the show represents a kind of fighting. Every time you break a floor behind one of the doors, you are rewarded with the corresponding sign. You can exchange these signs with special maids, maid cubes, setard diamonds, or ring boxes. Spa Scramble: This is a funny little challenge that allows you to choose a spot in hot springs by spending spa tickets. You have the option to get a point or to join an occupied point. If a spot is empty, you can easily record it with a mere 1 spa ticket. If it is occupied, you can kick off the occupier by cubing them to battle. If you just want to join the occupation, you'll be able to do so if there are remaining slots. Those taking points earn more than those who join, though. You also have the option to prevent other players from challenging you by spending 35 crystals to protect your point. You can also spend another spa ticket to double your income. Expedition: This is a timely event that is similar to the Battle Boss team in the sense that you can only choose a maid to go along with. The difference is that you can form a team with two other players before attacking the boss. You earn points even if you lose the battle, and you can challenge the boss up to 6 times. If you don't want to wait for other players to join, you may also challenge your boss. The expedition challenge is only available between 8:00 and 8:30 p.m. server time. At the end of the 30-minute event, you will receive rewards on your electronics depending on the number of points you accumulated during your 6 challenges. Battlefield Brawl: This is a 5v5 PVP event where you can only make a maid. You will team up with four other players who are around the same level. Winners are awarded more points than losers. Strife Server time is only available at 12:30pm and 7:30pm and is only open for 15 minutes. Try as many battles as possible in those 15 minutes. Rewards are given at the end of the 15-minute event depending on the points you accumulate. 13. Join the ASAP Alliance Alliance game version of the guild. You can team up with other players in order to build up your alliance together. As a newcomer, you want to join the established alliance instead of creating one unless you already have friends to start your alliance with. There are several benefits of being part of the alliance, but you can only get the most out of them if all members are active. The first benefit is having alliance dungeon alliances. These are special dungeons that each member can challenge up to three times a day. Bonuses are given to all members depending on the number of steps completed. The more members attack, the easier it will be to clear the steps. The second benefit is having a single alliance. These are passive skills that benefit all members. The benefits, however, vary depending on the level of technology. Technology levels increase based on member donations. If only a few organs donate every day, the technology does not improve, and the benefits will be minimal. For competitive players, the most entertaining part of being in alliance war are territory. Players may base themselves at different points in order to defend the enemy alliance. The trenches increase elementality to all the servants of the garrison members. Make sure you assign members with the correct team elements in those slots. 14. Complete your Quests there are three types of quests in the Mirage of the World Memorial. Quests daily are activities that you normally do every day. Just complete them all in order to get extra bonuses. The main Quests, on the other hand, are milestones that you reach throughout the game. You end up playing them as you complete, but it won't hurt to check them out to see which ones are close to completion. The third type of effort are the Quests Alliance. You have 5 Alliance Quests per day, and you can choose the ones to accomplish. Before you do your daily Quests, make sure you head to your alliance first screen quest. You need to choose a specific effort first before doing anything. Otherwise you won't get credit for that. Prioritize your Alliance Quests because you have a lot of control over quests that appear. Some of them are easy, such as beating dungeons a few times or doing team war bosses. Since you only have limited challenge efforts in those tasks, you want to make sure they are credited to your Alliance Quests. 15. Collecting daily bonuses is perhaps the easiest task among anything else you need to do. The game gives rewards for signing contracts per day. Also get extra bonuses for consecutive daily sign ins. There is also a current limited time event that rewards you for logging in every day. There are many goodies waiting for you, if only you have time to log in. On top of all this, you also get rewards for the time you spend online. Even if you are unemployed, just leave the game until you qualify for all total online bonuses. Restoring order in the world and defeating Lucifer will do a lot of work. Just follow everything mentioned in our Global Memorial Mirage Beginner's Guide and you will surely succeed!
