Maplestory training guide reddit

Hello everyone, I wrote a tutorial guide for myself and I thought I'd share it with everyone here. I thought it would be nice to list the usual places along with the alternatives and my personal contributions. Enjoy! Note #1: The reboot server offers a slightly different learning experience than the rest of Maplestory due to the increased complexity of the monsters and the slower promotion of the damage. Most of the same areas are recommended because of the caviar speed and monster count. However, most classes have much better learning results from monsters when you are close to the same level or higher aligned than monsters. As we continue to playtest the restart server, a more detailed guide will be presented. At the moment, most training grounds are still the same, but with a great emphasis on completing the theme of the dungeon, such as Ellinel Academy, Golden Beach, Rhine Strait, and Mushroom Kingdom. For quick check, look for reboots of approved bold notes, which means it's a viable learning place. Basically the same training places though. Having Cygnus Blessing helps alleviate lower-level problems, with passive damage buff reboots will help you train more easily at higher levels. Note #2: Reboot players, please be sure to try to get fitted in each slot (Curbrock quests and Dungeon theme quests will help you do this) and starforce your equips, as it's very cheap, and it's greatly help you cope with decent damage for monsters (5 stars on low-level equipment gives 10 pounds all the statistics). First level of work 1-30Second Employment Level 30-60Third Employment Level 60-100Chest level of work 100-140 Tired of grinding from waves and waves of mobs? Then take a break and kill some bosses for the experience! Unfortunately, the boss is usually not the best experience, especially in the early levels, so I'm listing some of them worth killing (for the experience). Most bosses will require some training to fight them, such as potions, all medications, and having a high enough range to defeat them in a timely manner. Check out Boss Tab at Maplestory for information about each boss! You can also check out this guide (here) (although it's a year back. Notice the specified spawn/time speed. For some bosses, such as zacum, you can kill in any form, but are limited to 2x per day with any combination. For example, you can kill 1x Normal zacum and 1x Chaos or 2x Normal, etc. Also note that the bosses that have spawned on different channels are common to each player, so first come first serve! Tips/Tricks: EXP Boosters Increase The Amount of Experience Monster gives, so you need to kill less to level! These include the following! I will update the manual somewhat as needed. Feel free to comment if I missed anything, or have suggestions. I can add additional alternative learning places for a later time. Page 2Posted on 5 years ago 65 comments I have no year, so I have no idea what to do. Page 2Posted on 5 years ago 6 comments Hello! I am a cartographer myself and have only recently returned to maplestory. I play yellonde and I am currently level 181 on my hero. I was looking for the best place to learn around my level. Any help would be very grateful! Working on links and I'm just wondering where I have to grind on certain levels ofPage 2 19 comments Trying to start playing again and I'm not sure where to train. Page 2Posted on 3 years ago 10 comments Return player wants to level upPage 2 11 comments Hello, all I could find updated no reboot training guide that is not pure grinding. I tried to get free character slots for the Legion and was wondering how I can speed up the process 10-120 from 6 hours to 2-3 hours. any advice? also they have a hard time finding 70-100lv weps and as a result I became weaker as the levels go up. is farminf the only way? Page 2 13 comments haven't played MapleStory in a long time and I'm thinking about picking it back. I'd appreciate it if someone could help me. I was told I was using the wrong training guide. Does anyone know where I should train 1-210? Hello everyone, you may remember me from my familiar 2020 guide that I shared back in April.I've returned with another guide to level your legion of characters. Before you go through the guide, please know that this is not an introductory guide for new players. There are some assumptions made based on the current progression. I also want to point out that my guide is not to remove the value of other manuals that exist, but to be more thorough and detailed, and to open up to some more unexplored areas. Feedback is welcome, as always! At this point, here's your Reboot Legion Level Guide (10-210)!I'm also accepting suggestions/recommendations for new guides. :)Page 2Posted 5 months ago 58 comments
