Huskie homework board

Virtual Open House Dates for October 22, 2020, 11:25 Read more All Hillcrest High students will engage in virtual learning from Tuesday, November 24 to Monday, Dec. 7. The decision to temporarily move all Huskies to online tuition — announced on Friday, Nov. 20 in emails and text messages to parents and guardians — came after a sustained increase in COVID-19 cases involving the school. The increase in positivity rates in the Midvale area also taken into account the action, which was taken after consultation with officials from the Salt Lake County Health Department. On Monday, Nov. 23, teachers spend the day preparing to ask for virtual classes. The next day, Tuesday, November 24, students will begin their online classes. The school and individual teachers will provide additional information about learning requirements through Canvas, Canyons' online joint learning management tool. Teachers will also take online classes. If a student needs access to technology, please call 801-826-6000 to arrange a Chromebook. Hillcrest parents should also expect an email notification from Principal Greg Leavitt on Monday, Nov. 23. Continue reading Continue reading Every Year in December, the Canyons School District invites high school juniors and seniors to apply for seal biliteracy, a sign used by the Utah State Education Office signaling a student's proven skill in English and world language. This year, the application window opens Tuesday, December 1, 2020 and closes Friday, January 22, 2021, and CSD schools are making additional efforts to encourage students to apply. Stamp biliteracy, created in 2008, is something colleges have really started to pay attention to. More and more employers also prefer hiring job applicants under this name, says Michèle Harward with CSD's Training Support Department. We suspect, though, that there are bilingual, or even trilingual, students out there who are not taking this opportunity.
