We created these Be Our Guest Red Rose Invitations using kate spade designed template paperless post. You can send them digitally and manage RSVPs and guest lists so easily. Children will enjoy getting hold of their Beauty and the Beast movie ticket party invitation from Annie Paper Shop. Great idea whether you're bringing guests to the actual movie or simply making your living room the place for a red carpet event. When you've got a birthday girl who dreams of transforming belle into a day, this Beauty and the Beast party invitation to panda Funk Creations is customizable and downloadable to save you money. Very beautiful princess loving children. If the Beauty and the Beast tea party feels more in your alley, we're smitten with these custom tea party invitations from Bushel and Peck's book Etsy. Personalize them with your guest's name and favorite color. Related: Best Alice In Wonderland Tea Party Ideas for Shoestring Beauty and The Beast Party Ideas: Scenery This DIY Be Our Guest printable artwork from Inspire 4 You on Etsy is so inviting for a message to hang on the door. It's a lot for just $4 to download, especially since you can use it long after the party – or, print out a whole bunch, tie with the ribbon, and send them home with your guests as preferred. Belle's love of reading is always the center stage of the movie – and one of the reasons even more princess-skeptical parents can justify beauty and the beast party. So I love the idea of incorporating some pretty vintage books like this DIY Old Fashioned Book set at Cherished Bliss as the centerpiece of the table. Of course, you can also just put out a few stacks of your books – best if they're leather or fabric related volumes, and no dog ear paperbacks, no Sometimes beautifully arranged flowers are all you need - especially for the Beauty and the Beast party. We love this flower party centerpiece with Crowning Details (and all the other inspiring photos!), but if the overflowing gold vase feels a little valuable on the children's side, even one of the roses in paper cups (weigh them with balls or a vase of filler rocks) will look great. (h/t Catch My Party) Oh, this golden glittering DIY Cutlery Chandelier is just one of many imaginative ideas from The Be Our Guest Tea Party thrown into sweetly Chic Events and Design. Of course, if constructing an entire chandelier from cutlery feels a bit ambitious, you can still add some sparkle to your tea party just by using sparkly gold dishes like who we spotted at Target. Want to get fancy? How cool is this bottle cap DIY bottlecap French pasta decorations from Dwell Beautiful? The perfect way to celebrate the traditional French culinary fare from the movie. Pop them in a bowl or hang them from clothespins like a thread – then send each guest home with one at the end of the celebration. And, of course, there are always balloons and strip strips, right? Gold and blue are beauty and beast signature colors, so consider trimmings as simple as two toned balloon bunches. Oh Happy Day party shop has balloons in all possible shades. Karaoke contest (or just ... karaoke, no contest) is a great way to pass the time, especially for kids who know all the words. Find karaoke versions of Beauty Karaoke and Beast songs on YouTube, and then stream to any smart TV. Origami Rose Making Although the actual origami roses are a bit advanced, we found a site with tons of origami flower tutorials. Just use a lot of red origami paper and they are called roses. Tip: Peach flower and dahlia look pretty easy. You could conduct a craft session by demonstrating at the head table, or hang up the visual step-by-step instructions from the site and let older children try their hand at the origami on their own. Party games, with a twist of beauty and beast If it's nice and you have a backyard party, think about customizing traditional party games with a twist: Capture the flag can become Capture the Red Rose. There is a gold and blue balloonieta. Do a stage relay race with kids balancing classic library books on their heads to complete each lap. Even a regular football game, hurdles, or long jump competition can get beauty and beast party theme treatment with yellow and blue jerseys or cheap pinnies. We're also happy to find this fantastic post on beauty and beast party action ideas spruce, from serving trays to relay race to music dining chairs, to crusty beast freeze dancing.
