Notre dame marching band fight song

No doubt the most famous collegiate fighting song in the nation, the Notre Dame Victory March was written just after the turn of the century by two brothers who were University of Notre Dame graduates. Michael J. Shea, a 1905 graduate, wrote music, and his brother, John F. Shea, who won degrees in 1906 and 1908, wrote the words. The song was copyrighted in 1908 and the piano version, complete with lyrics, was released this year. Michael, who became a priest in Ossining, N.Y., collaborated on the project with John, who lived in Holyoke, Mass. The song's public debut came in the winter of 1908, when Michael played the organ of the Second Congregational Church in Holyoke. The Notre Dame Victory March later was submitted by the Shea brothers to the university and first appeared under the copyright of the University of Notre Dame in 1928. The copyright has been assigned to Edwin H. Morris publishing house and the copyright to the beginning of the song is still in force. Words and music that begin with the words Cheer, cheer Old Notre Dame are in the public domain in the United States, but are protected in all territories outside the country. Notre Dame's fight song was first performed in Notre Dame on Easter Sunday, 1909, in the rotunda administration building. The University of Notre Dame group, led by Prof Clarence Peterson, played it as part of its athletic event 10 years later. In 1969, as college football celebrated its centennial, the Notre Dame Victory March was recognized as the greatest of all fighting songs. Michael Shea was pastor of St. Augustine's Church in Ossining until his death in 1938. John Shea, a baseball monogram winner in Notre Dame, became a Massachusetts senator and lived in Holyoke until his death in 1965. Lyrics: Rally sons of Notre Dame: Sing her glory and sound her glory,Raise her Gold and BlueA cheer voices true: Rah, rah, for Notre DameWill fight in the ev-ry game, Strong heart and faithful to her nameWill we ne'er forget about herA will cheer her everLoyal on Notre Dame Cheer, cheer old Notre Dame, Wake up echoes cheering her name Send a volley of height, shake off the thunder from the sky. What if the odds are big or smallOld Notre Dame wins over all,While her faithful sons marchOnward to victory. The original lyrics, written when all the athletes in Notre Dame were men, refer to sons, but given the fact that the Victory March is now played for athletic teams made up of men and women, many change words accordingly. © 1996-2014, Amazon.com, Inc. or its branch Undoubtedly the most famous collegiate battle song in the nation, the Notre Dame Victory March was written just past the turn of the century by two brothers who were the University of Notre Dame Michael J. You just performed for countless fans at Notre Dame's Concert on the Stairs. You march to the stadium, you march in front of thousands of Irish people. Echoes of Rockne, Leahy, Parseghian, Holtz and Four Horsemen can be heard in the Stadium Tunnel. The whistle blows, the drums start and you go to the explosive entrance in front of 80,000 screaming Irish fans. Band of Fighting Irish consists of students from all over the United States and overseas, enrolled in every field of study at the University of Notre Dame. In addition, we welcome members from Holy Cross College and Saint Mary's College. To get more information about the irish fighting band, click HERE. Please contact Deputy Director Sam Sanchez for any questions. Click here for our latest newsletter. Prospective students: Due to campus visit guidelines regarding Covid-19, we conduct virtual visits and info sessions for all prospective students. Please fill out this form and we will contact you to set a time. Giving a bunch of fighting Irish gifts to the O'Brien Band Fund allow Notre Dame members to look and sound their best all year around.
