Security was fast. They have a bar in the lobby. The ladies' room was downstairs. I don't think there are bad places in this theater. The sound was good. Excellent lighting. My only advice in the next update would be some sort of padded seats and more legroom. Sitting for 2 hours in those hard wooden seats was uncomfortable. Otherwise, we like the show. . The volunteers made everything go well, even though so many people were coming in at the same time. Fully recommended to buy the parking pass when buying tickets to a show, it made it much easier.... Experience Date: January 2020Bill wrote a review Jan 2021 ContributionExcellent!! The theater was amazing. The show was unmissable. No bad places. It's worth it. I'd recommend it to everyone. Experience date: January 2020Greg W wrote a review Nov 2019Smiths Station, AL19 contributions4 useful votesExcellent Theatre with questionable parking. The theater itself is very charming and well disposed. It's not a bad place in the house. The theatre staff were all friendly and quite helpful. The parking for the theater, however, was a different story. There are several paid parking lots in the surrounding area and what we end up in crowded cars like sardines. There was no way out until each layer unwrapped. I didn't realize you were coming in. Keep an eye out for that if you go. .... Experience date: February 2019buhbuh wrote a review October 2019Grand Island2 contributions We had a change in plans because our hotel missed and had to bring my service dog in training to a show, the staff was AMAZING! All were welcoming and helpful, they even moved us for the seats.so my service dog had more space! Everyone was polite and helpful, they really made us feel welcome and we weren't a nuisance at all! I'd make the trip an hour and a half again just because of the service!...
