Chitra Murali was a news anchor for Jaya TV. But now she is presenting a cooking show as a television genre that represents a food preparation in her kitchen. Usually today, she behaves like a host programmer for a Chitra Murali Kitchen program (Jaya TV) or even a celebrity chef who knows how to prepare one or more dishes over the course of a taking viewers by preparing her food. From being a news anchor, Chitra Murali has always harnessed her multiple talents. Seeing her cook with the greatest enthusiasm, giving instructions to the public to cut vegetables illuminating viewers to prepare new recipes, food has uncannily occupied a special place in her heart. This provided a solid foundation for her television debut. In her cooking show, everyone can watch her like that. She gives 100 percent to her talent for cooking. Of course, the cooking process it highlights seems random, but it naturally tells viewers that it wants to highlight in the menu of dishes, which leads to the preparation of the recipes it broadcasts. Her role as news anchor has finally paid off. Everything she cooks on the show comes after a thorough preparation and through her show, she wants to point out one meal at a time. Many of us eat a lot of junk food. But as Chitra Murali prepares a recipe in her kitchen, she really makes our mouths water as her recipe is being freshly cooked and hot food. It can easily light viewers with recipes like Mysore Rasam, easy Aappam, Hotel Sambar, Green Moong Dhal Sauce, Ice Cream (banana), Snacks, Eggless Biscuit ake, Arisi Upma, Ice Cream, manthakkali keerai kootu, rava cake, biriyani vegetables, masala paratha, paal payasam etc. Even Vijay Sethupathi, visited her show and encouraged the various aspects of cooking.
