Obtained by Saturday, January 16 - Wednesday, January 20 from Brooklyn, New Yorkmdl of European Assault (Nintendo GameCube, 2005). The condition is brand new. Shipped with USPS first class.See details - European Assault Medal of Honor (Nintendo GameCube, 2005) There is nothing particularly innovative or innovative about the features of the game, but played as a whole, the overall experience is very good, very satisfying. It's good despite flaws in artificial intelligence, less than attractive images, and an abnormally slow start. European Assault è stato pubblicato for each PlayStation 2, Jamcop, E Xbox Neil Giugno 2005. Il gioco segue una à di gioco a squadra comes the Medal of Honor: Pacific Assault, for every Microsoft Windows. Sono state inserite delle nuove opzioni di gioco come il poter comandare dei soldati alleati e l'adrenalina, che rende per pochi secondi il personaggio invincibile, con munizioni più potenti e infinite chee si accumulandendo nemici, completando obiettivi o curando alleati. Trama La storia del gioco è stata scritta da John Milius, sceneggiatore di Apocalypse Now. The government has also taken a number of important policy and policy responses to the issue of the use of the united nations as a priority. Africa, the Soviet Union and Belgium. Each area has missions that the player will have to complete. While some targets are detected from the outset, exploring the area will allow Holt to discover additional targets. Each mission consists of five objectives: a primary goal, a secondary target, the killing of a German officer (Nemesis in the game), the theft of documents from the official and the escape. If all these are finished, a gold medal will be given. Leaving one or more of the goals will be given silver or bronze. Many Holt missions will witness fighting alongside Papua New Guinea towards a common goal, often based on the historical events of the Second World War. The campaign of St. Nazaire, France at the beginning of the game, in a fictional story based on the Raid of St. Nazaire as no American participated in the operation, Holt and British troops are heading to the seaports of St. Nazaire, as they head to the ports on HMS Campbeltown flying the Nazi flag. However, the ship and the cannons are identified, then the ship responds to fire and raises the union flag. Upon landing, Holt is sent to meet an officer who owns the only radio, across the port. After meeting the officer, he retreated to the ship to take shelter from the air raid that the officer called. Holt and British commandos then head to the raid on St. Nazaire, where he destroys fuel tanks and eliminates a German officer named Klaus Müller. It also destroys an anti-air and a coastal cannon. Later he heads to the docks to destroy the power plant and sink u-boat anchored, take power from the city and eliminate another officer named Horst Brenner. The next day, Holt and his British comrades receive news that they will not receive any reinforcements, forcing them to cross the city and fight against two Panzers. In addition to killing officer Erich Koster and his troops, he must destroy Panzer and then flee to the French. North Africa Holt, based in North Africa, is tasked with destroying prototypes of tiger tanks and eliminating Nazi officer Adlud Brecht. After the initial battle, Holt heads to the German base to rescue the special forces commandos who were captured and another of von Schrader's men, Hans Schneider. With their help, Holt managed to get his hands on footage recorded by von Schrader, and eventually managed to destroy the prototype of a V2 missile. The Soviet Union Holt, sent to Russia to help the local resistance, was accused with the destruction of a huge railway cannon; After doing so, he was asked to break into a chapel on the edge of the city, occupied by the Nazis led by the officer Newman as a tactical point. It is later commissioned by the US to send secret data written in forward focus on Mamaev Kurgan: Here Holt, with a Soviet band, driving a shipment to a small village, repelling the Germans. At the holt station, officer Franz Greubner is eliminated, and then transfers intelligence documents to OSS, before destroying them so as not to fall into Russian hands. Belgium return from Russia Holt participates in attack ardennes. It is sent to help the 101st Airborne Division, surrounded by the Ardennes Forest in Belgium, and takes part in a battle to liberate Baston. Holt, with the help of paratroopers 101, managed to stop the attack, kill Volker Kappelhorf, and blow up a large bridge. Holt is then sent to a Belgian farm to rescue Manon de Bambu, an oss activist, who was captured by von Schrader's most loyal man, Frederic Engel. After Angel's defeat, Holt frees Agent Holt, accompanied by a platoon of U.S. soldiers, attacking von Schrader's hideout. In the last battle, Holt eliminates von Schrader and destroys the dirty bomb he built, causing her to fall into the underground bunkers at the last minute, alive with some minor injuries. William Holt's characters to play the character of Manon party ally French ally Sergei Russian officer ally von Schrader German enemy officer soundtrack the sound consists of eleven different songs by Christopher Lennertz.
