The legendary Tone First, launched in the early 1950s, Gibson's legendary P90 single-coil pickup produces a powerful raw tone that helps define blue and rock and roll in their formatted years. Today, the traditional blend of P90's high output and excellent sound is still considered a favorite among many leading musicians. Known as familiar play, soapbar and cobalt, the P90 continues to cut through any genre of music while showing incredible tone sensitivity for everything from blue and rock to jazz. It's perfect, like a vintage replacement, and there are two wires, a vintage knit. It is also fully waxed to eliminate the likelihood of unwanted microphone feedback. D'Addario® 10, 13, 17, 26, 46, 46 to continuously improve the design, quality and performance of our products and tools and to make the most of the best materials at all times.
