How do you find the area of a semicircle when given the diameter

What is 25.12 square meters in diameter? First, multiply the area by 2, divide it by pi, then use the second root, then double that number and you get the diameter in meters. The question if there is no number provided and I should find an area of the circle without any clue. If you do not know the radius, diameter or circumference, you can not find space. What is the semicircle space question? Area of circle πr^2 , which is the radius of the circle. The question I will find is the entire perimeter of the object that measures 3 cm 5 cm, 7 cm, 2 cm, 10 cm and 7 cm. If the value you provide is a side measurement, you just add those values.
