For Albarn (daughter) Ex-wife of unnamed Spirit Albarn is Maka's father and the current spouse of Lord Death. According to Lord Death himself that's why he's the only one he really thinks his partner makes him Death's favorite. He and Lord Death seem to be friends as they seem to enjoy talking and spending time with each other. He is also friends with professor Stein and his former partner. In the Japanese version, he was voiced by Tōru Ōkawa who also voiced John & Roy Mustang. In the English version, he is voiced by Vic Mignogna who also voices Edward Elric, Matt Ishida, Fai D. Flowright, Tamaki Suoh, Obito Uchiha as a young man, Christopher Aonuma, Yoshimori Sumimura, Ikkaku Madarame and Eld Jinn. The Spirit of Personality proves to be a relaxed individual who often teases almost if not every attractive woman she sees and enjoys being illuminated by women. Although generally not serious when it comes to it he is fully capable of doing so. He also cares deeply about Maka and wants him to see him as a good father who loves him. Because she had cheated on her mother and the seemingly messy divorce had left Maka with a bad view of her father but she knew she would do anything including give up her own life for him. She shows a huge amount of courage near the end of the manga when she wants to be left and sealed with Asura while telling Maka to stay back and not worry while giving her a smile and thumbs up even though she is secretly terrified. Cling to life until the moment you die!! —Spirit for the other deaths of scythe and meisters, Chapter 100 Spirit Albarn (スピリツイ・アルバーン, Driveritto Arubān), also known as Death Scythe (デスサイズ, Desu Saizu), is the demonic weapons partner of the late Death and the father of Maka Albarn[1] who was transformed into a scythe of death by his ex-wife. [6] According to his familiar calling, he is one of death's weapons and is the most powerful. [1] Personality Spirit is casually silly and influenced young in his personal life along with in the circumstances seriousness. She is known for her weaknesses as a womanizer, finding solace in being surrounded by women. [7] She is so misguided, because so much she will even take the presence of only female women in DWMA, the action of someone like Soul Eater is creepy. [4] She was unable to stay in a long-term relationship due to this disability. Despite expressing remorse for cheating on his current ex-wife and claiming to still love her, some like Maka find it hard to believe her repeated mistakes despite her obvious guilt. [8] Spirit was also a caring and passionate parent, longing for his daughter's love and acceptance,[1] even before having an affair with his wife. [9] Therefore, he has been shown to continue to support her, even when she denies it. [9] In addition, he holds a strong view of parental love, even so sensitive to it that he is willing to change out of the shape of his weapon and hold the collar of
