You are here Home » Shark Games » New York Shark Attack This perhaps one of the most interesting games on dexy games that shark lovers will be excited about. This is the sequel to one of the craziest shark games ever. Last time it was medieval shark, but this time sharks came to New York. You can eat literally anything that comes your way like planes if you jump from the water hard enough. If you eat the falling asteroid you can destroy planet earth and get maximum points. So don't have many places to go now except Mars. But that's the story for another sequel! Instructions: Using the arrow keys to move Use A to attack Miami Shark allows you to do like a shark and attack any bad soul who may be unlucky enough to have wandered into your murderous jurisdiction. Inspired by the original Jaws movie, Smash, chomp, and crush your way to high-score heaven with this hilarious pile of flash-animated ridiculousness. Play Miami Shark New York Shark Sticking with series 'exactly-what-it-says-on-the-tin' trends, New York Shark is a work of simplistic brilliance. You'll get to control a furious-looking shark with sunglasses and optional hat as you skulk around in water and destroy unsuspecting citizens above. Boats, planes, people, King Kong; there is almost no limit to destruction, and it is done with remarkable style. Play New York Shark Medvel Shark It's not often that you watch a flash game set in the Middle Ages, and until now, I'm almost certain that you wouldn't have come across involving medieval, violence-heavy, shark-related chaos. Smash your way through sailboats, chomp a few flying unicorns and get some dragon in your digestive system in this outrageous sequel from Mausland Entertainment. Play Medieval Shark Feed Us 5 No Matter Popular 'inaccurate) inaccurate) of piranhas in movies like Piranha 3D as unstoppably violent creatures that are whipped into a frenzy every time they sense food is nearby, Feed Us 5 serves to add to the unfounded stereotype by having you manually whip up your piranhas in a frenzy by escaping his tank and embarking on a carnivorous and bloody adventure to eat and escape simultaneously. Games Feed Us 5 Upcoming Games Find out which shark games are coming to play. It's probably a question that you only need to ask a few times in your life (if this isn't your first time, then you must have had some crazy adventures), but the answer is yes, the shark has on a hat and accompanying sunglasses to start. Viewed from a side-view angle, the game has you control over a rogue shark that has gone off the grid, and its sole purpose is to create absolute carnage for the citizens of New York. The shark is controlled with the directional arrows using 'A' or 'Ctrl' to get the shark to use its teeth for a bit of chomping action. The primary attack is simply a leap out of the water that would make physicists cry over the great theoretical inaccuracies, but since it's a game that has a shark wearing a hat, I think we can let this slide. You can smash into almost anything within your reach at the entrance to/exit from the water, and your secondary bite attack lets you fight on all flying objects such as planes, and indeed King Kongs attached to planes. No further explanation required; that's exactly how it sounds. Features As well as the usual score multipliers for objects/people destroyed in quick succession, we also have a fruit machine that spins on a regular basis (allowing you to earn more points), a baseball that flies overhead for you to catch (again, for extra points), and the addition of a larger selection of boats, planes and King Kong, which I hear just loves New York City for its rich cultural heritage and its intricate subway system. You can take down the latter beast by repeatedly biting his head, giving you more points for your bet. Mistakes I struggle to find anyone, but on a push, I'd say the flaw in Newground's game is that it hasn't improved on the jerky movement of the shark itself, but the nature of the game in general so remarkably superficial and silly that it's not something that's massively remarkable. I find it hard to keep a straight face when trying to even think about criticizing such an outlandish game for something as small as the unrealistic physics involved. Considering the shark just kind of heads off a guy fictional character named King Kong, I think game physics is the least of the continuity concerns involved here. New York Shark is all-out fun on a scale of peculiar that is out of reach of traditional flash games. Plus I enjoyed it more than Jaws. 85/100 Play New York Shark Adjust Game 100% Reset Done Done
