Last year, 24 million British people played mobile, mobile, for market research firm Newzoo. It's a lot of smartphone and tablet games, often involving people who have never owned a dedicated or handheld gaming console. Mobile gaming has exploded in the five years since Apple and Google launched their app stores for iOS and Android. Today there are many games available on smartphones or tablets; From puzzle games and retro runners through role-playing adventures and hardcore strategy games, there is something for all kinds of gamers, however experienced. And their best was designed for touchscreens, rather than cyminist transfers from the desk or computer. Angry Birds climbed to 263 million active players in 2012, while Candy Crush Saga was played more than 600m times a day. Many of these games also have social features, so you can compare scores with friends on Facebook or play against strangers around the world. A major trend in the past year is the popularity of freemium games. These are free to download and play, but they make their money from in-app purchases of virtual items and currencies – you can buy extra level packages and additional characters to extend the life of a game, or coins/gems/donuts (it's different) for in-game use to improve your chances of success, or speed up your progress. For that reason, whenever you see below that a game is marked as free, the game may contain in-app purchases. If you're a parent buying these games for your child, make sure you've read the device's user guide to learn how to change settings to make sure they can't spend without your consent. Another welcome trend in 2013 was that many of the best games are available on Android as well as iOS - this is not always the case. Especially for games with social and more player features, the more people on multiple devices can play, the better. Sifting through hundreds of new games released every week on app stores can feel like looking for needles in haystacks. The 50 games below are one of the best entry points mobile games offer, but other high-quality titles always appear. ACTION JETPACK JOYRIDE iPhone / iPad / Android / Windows Phone (free) A one-button game that involves piloting jetpack-toting Barry Steakfries through a variety of levels, making money to buy new power-ups will help him go further each time. It looks simple but has pocket depth. GRAND THEFT AUTO: VICE CITY iPhone/iPad/Android (€2.99) The classic console translates smoothly to touchscreen devices, as you explore the sprawling Vice City, dealing with destruction and death in shirts of the 80s. It may be over 10 years old, but it still feels fresh. RIDICULOUS FISHING iPhone/iPad (€1.99) Fishing gets an explosive twist in this amazing arcade game featured. You lower your line, reel in sea life as much as possible Then launch it into the sky to blast it with a shotgun. It's not particularly wildlife friendly, but it's very good fun all the same. ANGRY BIRDS STAR WARS iPhone / iPad / Android / Windows Phone / BlackBerry (free) Like previous Angry Birds games, this shows you throwing birds at pigs. Except this time, the birds are dressed as Luke Skywalker, Chewbacca and friends, with lightsabers and anti-gravity covers. Best Star Wars spin-off in years. SUPER MONSTERS EAT MY APARTMENT! iPhone / iPad / Android (free) It's hard to beat this game for pure pleasure but also pure weirdness. It sees you sliding the apartment floor out of wobbly towers to make matching colors like day-glo monsters wiggle in the background. Good madness. WHERE'S MY WATER? iPhone/iPad/Android/Windows Phone (€0.65-€0.79) Each level - and there are over 500 - involves manipulating water in its various forms, collecting items and unlocking bonus levels as you go. Four completely new characters to play as. NIMBLE QUEST iPhone/iPad/Android (free-€0.69) Remember Snake from the glory days of Nokia mobile? This has ideas and slithers with it, except your snake is now a conga line of heroes shooting at enemies and collecting gems and power-ups. Accessible and addictive. TEMPLE RUN 2 iPhone / iPad / Android (free) Hundreds of millions of people have played temple run games where you swipe the screen to make your character constantly run, jump and slide out of the clutches of a giant monkey clomping in your wake. RUNNING WITH FRIENDS iPhone/iPad (free-€2.49) Available in a choice of free or paid versions, Running With Friends is an endless runner game, this time based on a pamplona-style run-with-the-bulls race. Friends are your Facebook friends who you can challenge. Like a stranded fish! iPhone/iPad (€0.69) This game has the simple pleasure of skimming rocks and replacing the stones with colorful fish, each with their own bouncing patterns. Your job is to ignore them as much as possible for the highest score. It's very moreish. RAYMAN JUNGLE RUN iPhone/iPad/Android/Windows Phone (€1.99-€2.29) Rayman is a familiar character from the console game, but his latest mobile outing may be his best yet. It sees him run and jump over 70 well-built levels, with controls that work well on the touchscreen. MINECRAFT: POCKET EDITION iPhone/iPad/Android (€4.99) Minecraft has been a big hit with kids and adults alike, with its virtual world where you explore and craft using blocks. It works as well on smartphones and tablets as on computers and consoles. Sky RISE OF GLORY iPhone/iPad/Android (free-€1.99) This first world war non-war game has stunning graphics, especially when played on tablets. Thankfully, the gameplay is suitable, with a choice of solo and multiple player modes, and tweak controls for wannabe pilots. Wannabe. TRAIL iPhone/iPad/Android (free-€1.99) This soothing hallucinating game comes with its own theme tune from Gruff Rhys's Super Furry Animals. You must guide Willow the whale through the clouds, collect bubbles and build some of the biggest points possible as you go. Absolutely charming. ADVENTURE WALKING DEAD: THE PHONE/PAD GAME (free) A detail in the eye for anyone who thinks mobile games can't be as gripping as the game console - or even TV shows. Walking Dead brings zombie stories to iOS, with in-app purchases to buy five episodes. It's a great way of telling stories. LIMBO GAME iPhone/iPad (€2.99) Platformer Limbo is one of the scariest, most atmospheric games available on any platform, let alone mobile. With stylish monom monom identity graphics and often brutal puzzles, it's a rewarding and unique adventure. INFINITY BLADE II iPhone/iPad (€4.99) This is part beat 'em up and part RPG, as your hero fights a series of giant monsters and levels up his weapons, armor and skills. An innovative ClashMob feature that lets you play challenges with friends and strangers. RAVENSWORD: SHADOWLANDS iPhone/iPad/Android (€4.63-€4.99) If you like console games like Skyrim and can't believe the genre will work on mobile devices, this could change your mind. It's a huge open world adventure with hours of exploring and fighting in the store. THE NIGHTJAR iPhone/iPad (€2.99) Twist here is That The Nightjar is a sound-only adventure: you are denied the use of graphics, and can navigate only by sound. The plot shows you trying to escape from a marooned spacecraft, and the spooky plot is told by actor Benedict Cumberbatch. YEARN WALK iPhone/iPad (€2.49) This is one of the most prominent iOS games in recent memory. Based on Swedish mythology, it's an adventure first set in a chilly landscape in which you have to wander in search of a glimpse of your future. There are puzzles, characteristic graphics and a creepily atmospheric soundtrack. BROKEN SWORD: DIRECTOR'S CUT iPhone/ iPad/ Android (€2.49-€2.99) Originally released in 1996, this point'n'click adventure has lost its appeal in its transition to swipe'n'tap. Your job is to solve a murder and discover an ancient plot, with trick puzzles and a healthy dash of humor. WARHAMMER QUEST iPhone/iPad (€2.99) Its origins as a table-based role-playing game mean Warhammer has a vast fan base, but its first mobile game will win it a lot of new fans, too. Deliver dungeons, monsters and galore treasures in a variety of role-playing missions. STAR WARS: KNIGHTS OF THE OLD REPUBLIC iPad (€2.99) This RPG first came out in 2003 for Xbox and PC, before being revived this year for the iPad. It's still a fascinating adventure, as you explore the world, battle enemies, run the gloves of hostile bartenders and bonus hunters on Tatooine, and learn to use force. SUPER BROTHERS: SWORD & SWORCERY SWORCERY iPad/Android (€2.99-€3.25) A quirky adventure, with beautiful pixel-art graphics, this action adventure is full of surprises and boasts one of the best soundtracks on any gaming device, perfectly suited to action. Puzzle WORLD OF GOO iPhone/iPad/Android (€1.99) Originally released for PC and Wii, World of Goo finds its spiritual home on tablets and smartphones. It's a physics-based puzzler that drops and stretches the blobs of goo and manipulates them to connect pipes and other structures. It's wonderful. CUT THE ROPE: TIME TRAVEL iPhone / iPad / Android (free-69p) There are several Cut the Rope games, all interesting, but this is the latest game. You control cutesy monster Om Nom, swiping to cut ropes and guiding sweets into his mouth, as well as collecting stars. Great fun for children and adults alike. DOTS: A GAME ABOUT CONNECTING iPhone /iPad (free) On an App Store full of addictive puzzlers, Dots is one of the best. It sounds so simple: make the colored dots disappear by tracing the connections between them. However, there is a world of strategy needed to nail high scores. WORDS WITH FRIENDS iPhone/iPad/Android/Windows Phone (free-€2.29) This has been around for years, but is still the best word puzzle game for mobile devices. Scrabble, basically, it is played on multiple matches at once, against friends on Facebook, or strangers if preferred. LETTERPRESS: WORD GAME iPhone / iPad (free) Not every word game looks like a table game, even if Letterpress can remind you of Boggle. It involves creating words from a network of letters, taking turns with friends over the net to score as many points as possible. MAGNETIC BILLIARDS: BLUEPRINT iPhone/iPad (€0.69) If you like pool or billiard bars in the real world, you'll love this on iOS. It's a game of angles and strategies where you shoot the ball around a table, creating clusters that stick together. Perfect touch screen touch fun. THE iPhone/iPad/Android Room (€1.49) The Room is one of the smartest puzzle games developed for touchscreen devices from the ground up, as you explore a house and solve puzzles by tilting and touching your device. The difficult curve is also moderate. CANDY CRUSH SAGA iPhone / iPad / Android (free) A bona-fide craze, with tens of millions of addicted players already. The game involves combining colored sweets on over 100 levels, with in-app purchases of life and the power to help when you're struggling.
