Compare and Contrast is a text structure or organizational pattern that examines the similarities and differences of two or more things. It is important to remember that similarities and differences should be discussed with the comparison and contrast text structure. If the text deals only with similarities, only comparisons are made. Similarly, it is only contrasting if it only discusses ways in which things are different. The text must be considered both as a comparison and as a contrast. Example: Apples and oranges are both fruits, which means that they have seeds in them. Each has a skin, but orange skins are thick and easy to peel. Apple skins are thinner and do not peel easily. Oranges also contain more acidity than apples, but both fruits are delicious.
