The Flintstones was one of my favorite drawings when I was a kid I loved so much, I walked home from school at lunchtime packed lunch in my hand, watched it, and then went back to school. So much for my mom's surprise, which I thought I'd be at school all day. Anyway, I'm exasperatingly... On Flintstone Slots Game... At this point, it should be noted that this is an entertainment style game, rather than a gambling game. Therefore, Flintstones slots are set up in a pinball way, such as some new Lord of the Rings games, as they have a huge video screen above it, the second screen that plays a big role in creating a general gameplay atmosphere, as well, in bonus games. There is a regular bonus in the same gameplay that triggers randomly. Interestingly, you can adjust horn's pace the number of times this bonus hits. You can select more times that you play and get paid less multiple compensation and vice versa. This is a reward for Yaba Dibba Doe. When it is aroused, you hear the famous call from (Fred) and then you get a whole bunch of things happening one by one. David and Barney might fly across the screen and throw wild symbols. Provide some stacked prairies as well as dino. Then, as well as stacked wilds, you'll also probably see Fred sitting in action on his dinosaur pulling the screen up to reach him. It is just as in wonka slots game, and it gives you loads more push lines and chances to hit a big beat. The end result is one cycle, which gives great winning potential. It's a little slow, but who cares when you make money? The bonus game that arrived to play was a dino bonus. This one is hilarious - Dino comes into the room and jumps on Fred, then starts licking him. The more you lick, the more points you get. Animation is awesome and it's really a lot of fun to play. There is also a bonus bam bam, which gives from wild free. I couldn't play this one, but I didn't see anyone else playing a gesture that also seemed like great fun. Flintstone Slots are definitely the one I'll look out for the next time I'm in Vegas. At first glance, the Flintstone Slots game, by WMS, looks similar in style to some of the other cartoon/animation slot machines. For example, the S jetsons released the previous year. But, once you start flintstones slots, this is when you start to realize how much work has been done in this game and how good it is. New Slots - Brand New and Coming to Las Vegas Soon... Even today mighty slot machines are both the biggest draw and the most profitable part of the bottom line casino players often play them down 24 hours a day in an attempt to win those huge progressive and dodgy prizes. In order to keep slot machines like this a huge blow, gaming companies always strive to offer the latest and greatest features and themes to bookmakers in an effort to attract them. With this technological advance slot is now more than ever possible, allowing generations of players to immerse themselves in the TV or movie experience, and perhaps win huge cash prizes in the process. New ground slot machines are generally launched in quarterly parts, and many of the same games are displayed for the first time at trade shows such as the World Games Fair and the ICE Exhibition in London. In each show dozens of amazing games are teased, complete with the latest exquisitely constructed game cabinets, technical innovations, new screens/displays, and the latest audio developments, which will refresh throughout the casino as a backdrop. By far the highlight of my annual calendar is traveling to the G2E Convention in Las Vegas where all leading slot manufacturers give sneak previews of their new headlines that will be released over the next year. Companies such as Bally Technologies, WMS, IGT, Konami and Aristocracy offer all slot machines to terrestrial institutions around the world and G2E attendees you can get the chance to play all the brand new slot machines before they reach the casino floors in Vegas. This year's show was bigger than ever, and there were some huge games that were announced with a host of new technological developments and gameplay features. By far the biggest version of 2016 was the IGT which announced the latest avatar slot that features an epic story arc where players can return to at any time because of a function that offers a unique save like the one seen in video games. Other manufacturers will not leave behind with the buffalo grand debut aristocrat to update the world-famous buffalo slot and WMS release an official slot based on the classic Cadichak movie. It seems that more than 50% of the new games released for 2015/16 were official collaboration slots, I'm usually quite skeptical when I see a new game theme released in casinos. I have found that many of these games are incredibly narrow and will empty the wallet quickly. However, these slots soon received mostly positive feedback and should make the play amusing when finally made available to the public. IGT: They've gone big last year and bigger this year. Apart from the new installment in the avatar slot series And Bad Break, they also announced the new Ellen game. The release of Ellen's new slot was inevitable after the huge popularity of the first two games, both of which received a lot of attention from fans with their detailed input from Ellen herself. The TMZ slot had similar support and although it wasn't a hot play choice for me it would have a mass market appeal for millennials who make up the bulk of the fan base shows. The unique photo booth feature that allows you to share on the game screen was a new idea and I'm sure we'll see more in other upcoming games. Classic shows, bewitched's licensed slot debut along with one based on its 60's dream show Jenny and a new title in the Ghostbusters series are largely based around the legendary character Slimer. Last but not the last in terms of the launch of the IGT title is an updated video slot to replace the old Jurassic Park slots and the highly anticipated Dark Knight trilogy games. WMS: It dominated the show last year, but ranks second from IGT for this. That doesn't mean they didn't have their fair share of big versions. The classic Chevy Chase movie Caddyshack gets an official slot that was a lot of fun to play, while the titles were also on the show for S Simpsons, Wizard of Oz, Titanic and Rocky Horror Show. This was also the first time that the parent company SG had both WMS and Ball titles on the same stand. It was being a big boost with new cabinet designs and visual features this year in traditional slot games - this seemingly customer experience engine is the result of a combination of the two companies' technology teams. Aristocrat: Not wanting to leave the headlines, the huge aristocrat released a new HD bracket cabinet screen in the show and used it to follow the title of The Great Buffalo, the sequel to the slot game most rank people have also played more than any game on the floors of a Las Vegas casino. They also had a choice of slot placed and licensed with Superman: Man of Steel, ted's very brave slot, Magic Mike XXL and not one, but two, classic Batman slots. Expecting more licensed games in 2016 2015 has been a great year for both licensed and offline games, and this year promises to be bigger with game providers offering new experiences and new technical features. By licensing brands that players already know, slots makers take advantage of the markets where they are guaranteed an existing fan base, as well as playing from many ordinary players who want to play a game based on a theme they know. The consequences released to the current licensed slots show this is a market that is just going to grow. We hope that 2016 will also be a year in which we see new technology, many new cabinets and game features for the first time in the latest presentation bodes well for the future of aperture games. Regardless of your taste, there is almost certainly a slot there to suit your needs, now more than ever. The slot industry is always evolving to offer something new, and I do my absolute best to keep you informed as new slots are advertised or released in the wild. Is there a hole I missed and you want me to recognize it? If so, feel free to contact me to tell me what I am missing and I will make sure to get something posted asap. Without a doubt next year or so will be another big one for slot players. I hope you're as excited as I am! Old Trip Reports - 2014/2015 Vegas highlights after speaking with a lot of slot fanatics in the G2E convention it seems that these are games players may enjoy the most. I'm usually very skeptical when I see a new game titled released in casinos. I have found that many of these games like Family Guy and DC comic games are incredibly tight and will empty the wallet quickly. However, these soon to be released slots received mostly positive feedback and should make the play amusing when they are finally Available to the public. Friends: The only surprise about this new Vegas slot is that it took a long time to license. Scheduled to be released more than 10 years after the last episode of the show aired, it will be interesting to see if Joey, Phoebe, Ross and others still have the same draw that drew record TELEVISION records during the show's ten-year show as a hit sitcom. As a huge fan friends (I still watch repeats), this is one game I'm going to play a lot. Mad Men: I think it's appropriate to follow the classic sitcom with another hugely popular TV show slot that was advertised in G2E - Mad Men by WMS. This new amc-based game is a highly rated show that is sure to attract players who watch the show. The Flintstones: After the successful release of Jetson, their Flintstone WMS was a new slot machine on the show at G2E and was a big hit. I had to wait half an hour to get going at this, and it seemed great of my short playing time. This was one of the cartoons I grew up on, so for me it's a fun filled journey in time that will please slot fans both young and old. I can't wait for this, Abba Dibba Do.... Elton John: Fun, colorful and regular bonus rounds, this game was a blast and had tons of great music to boot. If you're a Elton John fan you're going to love this slot. WMS: I felt the strongest booth in The G2E was that OF WMS which had a number of great games on the screen. As well as mad guys, Elton John and The Flintstones, they also had a new Game Austin Powers that was really fun to play, slot Gremlins based on the movie franchise, the Jetsons and the new Elvis game. They also had new versions of their classic titles including Monopoly, The Wizard of Oz and Waikiki Wonka, plus some new games including Centaur, Reel M in Supercast and Pyramid of Pharaoh. Aristocrat: As well as the 3 huge titles above, you can expect more tv goodness in the form of The Big Bang Theory and Sons of Anarchy by the Aristocracy. They also announced britney Spears slot featuring luxurious leather seats and attracted huge crowds at the show and a new installment in the Buffalo series, one of Vegas's favorite slot games. IGT: While Ellen had their big ad, IGT had a number of good-looking games in the show. They offered the wheel of fortune, the Paradise Jackpot, another in the insanely popular wheel series of Fortune that includes some new cutting-edge technology in the game. Perhaps the biggest announcement in the show is the release of Ace and Centipede Racing, two new slots featuring skill-based bonus rounds. Games with skill-based elements have been unpopular in the past, so it will be interesting to see how this fare is. Fare.
