Definitely worth the money pass! If I may angels the last mission: love, to all the boys who loved me, W, when you slept and a dodgy partner, touch your heart, the liar and his lover and the Guardian: the lonely and great god has all the 10/10 suggestions to watch! I have a lot of others, but these are some of my top picks. The app itself works perfectly for me I never have questions. I love that you can follow the actors out there and see all the shows these actors specifically have because there are some actors I love and it's easy for me to see all the dramas they have! This is one of my favorite features. Every show kang ki young is usually fun he's a funny actress I watched him bring it to the ghost and I couldn't stop laughing he's usually supporting roles, but he's great! as my favorite main actors are Lee dong woo, yoo in na, lee jong suk, jung hae in, ahn jae hyun talking ahn jae hyun my love of the stars was good he was more role that one tho but still a good show! OH LEE hyun woo liar and his lover so good! anyway sorry I know I'm rambled on if you read it all the way through you're champ thank hahia OH developer smart I'd love to see this app xbox one so I can watch it there. I love Rakuten Kit. There's an almost overwhelming range of quality. East Asian dramas and movies are one at their disposal 24 hours a day, and the cost of a subscription is more than worth the investment. However, I have 3 complaints: 1) Increasingly it seems like their servers are overloaded, resulting in a loss of connection or lag. 2) Not every Viki application works the same way. Samsung. FireTV and Xbox apps differ in functionality, and one of them doesn't allow subtitle adjustment. 3) My worst complaint, however, is that more and more volunteer translators are putting vulgar language where it has no place. I speak a small amount of Korean, but my Korean-American girlfriend possesses this language, and we both have to find frequent examples of curse words even though actors and actors aren't actually using epithets. Why are you doing this? These obscene-mouthed volunteer translators transform a lot of healthy family-friendly performances into R-rated entertainment. Who wants to hear about the context of the F-bomb over and over again in a romantic comedy? I cannot discuss the reasoning behind it. Otherwise, I will enjoy the service and hope that it will continue to be available for a very long time. I am a Wiki standard Pass member and I really enjoy using apps, but there are a lot of mistakes as well. I'm canceling it at the end of the year. First, I start by saying I have had many questions about my ads, even though I pay for a Wiki standard pass. I opened the tickets, but it's going to take so long to fix it. The choice of dramas is not great as well. There have been a number of new dramas out recently, but Viki has only a few of them. There are also many design flaws within the app. The recently viewed section shows each episode of individually dramas recently watched. Instead of listing the name of the drama. It makes it difficult to pick up where you left off when you finished the episode last time. You have to click on your last episode then skip the episode. Or if I'm watching multiple dramas, then I have to show out recently watched all the way to other drama. I'm addicted to watching 10 episodes a day, so I have to scroll down to find other drama. The home where they are the top picks for you will not feel if you have already finished the drama. The suggestions are dramas that I've already watched, rendering this page useless to me. If there are no improvements in the app, I will cancel when my 1-year membership is up. Thanks for the feedback. If you are Viki Pass subscriber and you still see ads please contact us here: bit.ly/VikiHelp. When it comes to content availability, the Wiki Team is always working to make more shows available on Wiki, and your suggestions help us decide which content to license. If the show or movie you want to see is not available on Wiki yet, apply for it here: In terms of review history and recommendations, yes we take this feedback very seriously and we are looking to improve this experience this year to help fans like themselves just watch content.
