Developer (s) Natsume Publisher (s) Th'Platform (s) Game Boy Advance (s) Single Power Rangers S.P.D. is a video game developed by Natsume and published by Game Boy Advance on September 6, 2005. It was the sixth Power Rangers video game to be published by TH, as well as the latest. (quote necessary) Gameplay Six different rangers are playable, each with their own unique abilities. Red Ranger, has the right to walk through enemies and obstacles, Blue Ranger, creates a force field to block attacks and stop enemies from approaching, Green Ranger, tracks energy signatures to find the missing objects, the yellow ranger, creates three duplicates of itself to triple its attack force, the Pink Ranger, turns her hand into iron to pierce the walls or eliminate the minor enemy with a single blow and finally, Shadow Ranger, creates an energy blade that harms several enemies at once. 6 Rangers with minor enemies until you run into the main boss. There are racing levels that piloting Red, Yellow, or Pink

Hollingshead gave the game a 7 out of 10 and praised the graphics but criticised its boring background. Hollingshead wrote: 'Management is probably the best part of the game, and where the design team is beaming. There is no collision detection to worry about in the main levels, and the jumps are superbly handled. This is the way wall jumps should be in every game. IGN's Mark Bozon gave the game 4 out of 10 and criticized the main gameplay, but wrote, While it is very difficult to capture the cinematic nature of a television show in the cramped space of the Game Boy
