Yogurt's mastery dates and its acquisition of Large Industries are unknown. However, by 2057, as shown on the Buy n Large website, the conglomerate has become a global leader in aerospace, agriculture, construction, consumer goods, corporate grooming, earth transport, electronics, energy, engineering, finance, food services, thermonucleation research, government, hydropower, infrastructure, inventions, media, medical science, mortgages, pet care, pharmaceuticals, psychotherapeutics, ports and harbors, retail, robotics, science/health, space, storage, super-centers, super-networks, travel services, utilities, and water Control of the corporation affected other companies. Other businesses seemed to want BnL to buy them out, such as Headr Inc., which gave BnL control over world news headlines. BnL headquarters in North and South America After BnL took over the government, the BnL logo was added to the flags of countries around the world. Buy n Large continued to expand its oversight efforts so much that by 2105, Buy n Large had more than two million subsidiaries, government agencies and health centers. She has finally become a world leader in every conceivable industry, including global leadership. Buy n Large Corporation's control over world governments was controlled by a global CEO, at the time it was Shelby Fortwright. There was also a board of directors that approved Operation Cleanup. Giving the entire population on Earth (it was more than 200 billion, as seen in the newspaper) the right to spend, humanity went into a state of mass consumerism that gripped the entire planet in an unworkable denial. By the time the WALL•E movie takes place, Buy n Large has built Axim, a starliner executive (among thousands of others whose names have not been disclosed) as a temporary haven outside earth, while millions of WALL • E units and fewer huge mobile injectors are trying to cleanse the planet. Initially, his cruise was supposed to be only five years until the BnL CEO proclaimed Earth was unable to sustain life because of extreme toxicity. Axiom and the rest of the starliners had to stay in space through A-113. After Buy n Large officially left Earth in 2110, Shelby Fortwright and all the other people who oversailed the cleanup all shut down and left. By the time the story in WALL•E happens, Buy n Large no longer exists. It is present everywhere on Earth, Axiom, and apparently all other starfish, but since the death of Shelby Fortwright and his generation, it no longer exists in the corporate sense. All Buy n Great Activity on Axiom is the same as it was 700 years ago. It still has the same advertising, but the corporation simply runs on unidentified ones, continuing the cycle of robots. Kids learning how to buy n Big is their very best friend, there are BnL logos throughout, and there are still automated ads about Buy n Great. All holographic advertising still tells people to consume and shop, but people no longer consume as there are no real products to buy, let alone money to use. It is not known if people know what Buy n Great has done in history. Places Buy n Great bought Buckingham Palace in London to use it as its worldwide office. BnL (U.S.) was headquartered in New Jersey: (Buy n Large Flaza, BnL Ave. 08012, USA). The said 08012 ZIP Code corresponds to philadelphia/Camden suburb of Blackwood. The zip code for its regional office in America, in Largefield, NJ (08657), however, is bogus. Buy n Great Site site for Buy n Large was created by Pixar on July 25, 2007 with the aim of promoting the film WALL•E. At the time it was the world's largest, most extensive viral marketing site. In addition, the original Buy n Large website was removed, a video advertising Buy n Large was posted for website advertising: [1] Recently, the link allowed full access to the website. The site Easter Eggs in Buy n Big in the news section in the article Sound and Fury Corp. Punk, Re-Fi next tour called Hostile Takeover Tour. This could be a reference to Chick Hicks' main sponsor, Hostile Takeover Bank, from Pixar's Cars. In the Buy n Large news section, in G8's Now Becoming The Big One article, the title of The Big One is a reference to Michael Moore's film about a huge company called Big One. It could also be a reference to the rocket that Sid Phillips mail-orders in History is lipsing. In the Buy n Large's news section, the BnL Economics Wins Award article isotope and cockroach have been described as housed in a colorful, pleasant underwater world. This is probably a link to finding Nemo. Inches n The Big News section in the 4D Film Announced article, Pix-Vue is the name of the film company, which is also a reference to the name Pixar. By the way, Pix-Vue also has its own studio in Emeryhill, where Pixar is located. In the annual Report 2 ad, which appears on the Buy n Large website, Brad Lewis (who was a producer for Ratatouille) is a producer; Woody Gusto Mandreuz is a reference to The Story with Information (Sheriff Woody) and Ratatouille (Must Gusto); Mike Sulley as screenwriter is a reference to Monsters, Inc. (Mike Ouazowski and James P. Sullivan). Mandrews is a reference to Mark Andrews, head of history at The Superbi.
