This reflects the different ethnic groups from when they were the way to be adults to children. Learning experience: This is a very interesting learning experience found on the WWW.PBS.ORG. This activity is called skin color match-up. This activity will show kids that the averionas are the difference in skin color, and that we are also the same but also different. This activity goes like this: Set some knee-high socks with different colors, such as, tan, black, white, pink, yellow, and red. Encourage children to try on socks, put on weapons, hands, legs, or feet. Ask questions to help raise awareness about different skin tone. Questions may be, your skin is stored as same color, it is light/black, etc. Tell children that no skin is red, pink, yellow or white. ...
