Learn more about other important children's writers. If you don't recognize the name, you probably recognize this author's work. He created the Diary of a Wimpy Kid series that was also turned into a movie series. Here are some interesting facts about Kinney that will help you enjoy the stories even more. 1. Writing wasn't his thing as with most writers, Kinney didn't hit it big right away. He didn't even study early in life to pursue a writing career. He actually tried to become a Federal corrections officer. That's right. Jeff Kinney wanted to work in prisons. Since schools sometimes look like prisons, the education he received anyway probably paid off. 2. This is a Family Affair Many people have been introduced to the Wimpy Kid series because of the movies. Jeff's brother Scott was actually involved in the production of the first movie. He wrote one of the songs that appears on the film's soundtrack and it's just as catchy as the story. 3. A Nintendo Kid Kinney loves one particular game about any other while growing up: Mario Kart. Maybe it has something to do with the fact that there are tortoises in the game. Kinney's first every drawing he considered acceptable happened at the age of 3 and the subject of the artwork was a tortoise. Coincidence? May be... or maybe not. A nice Sandwich Kinney has several favorite foodies. Sometimes a few can change on his list. What doesn't, however, his favorite sandwich. Jeff Kinney loves a very good peanut peanut and jelly sandwich. Whether he likes the crunchy kind of peanut butter or the smooth type we'll leave to the imagination. 5. Not a musician sometimes says Kinney that he likes to play the piano. He's not very good at it and self-described his talent as poor, but that doesn't mean he doesn't give it a try every now and then. Just don't expect a survey contract in the near future. He'll leave it to his brother Scott. Jeff Kinney created an iconic novel in cartoons that became a bestselling piece of literature.
