Just when Christmas is just around the corner, elves are attacking Santa Claus, but hold on, help is at hand though over... Bowling. If nothing else, this game wins full marks for originality. You will have the role of Santa Claus, who has to knock down pins that are - you guessed it - elves. It sounds simple, but when you consider that these pesky goblins can get out of the way, it becomes much more complicated. These obstacles can take the form of anything from oil, narrowing the bowling lane and huge shields. Although fun for a while, the game becomes rather tiring after a few attempts, although it comes to life with some fun graphics, especially when the elves get knocked down. However, the music is so repetitive that you won't last long for this game. A bit of festive fun and nothing more. Hold on to your stockings! Those crazy elves are useless and Santa needs your help to show them what the real meaning of the strike really is! It's quirky, cheerful bowling fun just in time for the holidays! Compete in a festive bowling game where elves are pins that provide their own special, colorful commentary! With just a flick of the mouse, bowl to get a replacement or strike, winning trophies along the way! It's the craziest Christmas adventure yet! It doesn't sound like a very impressive game, but it's harder than it sounds as it moves the cursor pretty quickly and the elves and their catcalls are very uncomfortable.
