speakers talking to them. They are exposed to new ideas and critical thinking skills. Every one of my children in the last two months has improved in all areas. If you're looking for a school that understands talented kids, you're in the best place for your child. You need to make sure you are listening to the onboarding tutorial, it is the key to receiving emails and communications. To take advantage of all the programs offered. Thank you to the teachers, guidance counselor and everyone who is part of this amazing school. I never realized how much. Much. can be learned in a self-paced environment. They can slow down or speed up depending on their needs, not the classroom. From computer code, diner, photography, chess and many other club opportunities, you'll find something for your child. They have a children's test after every lesson, and this practice is the key to future success. Like a normal school, my kids didn't control every lesson. I have found that it is important to make children comfortable on a computer and also to do written work. This school offers both! I hope this will help future families looking to school. Spotsylvania, VA Verified Reviewer Original review: August 17, 2019 We were very happy with Laurel Springs kindergarten. We registered our girls on The 1st. I told you I couldn't registered our girls then. They called me the next day and said they were going to make an exception. I got the books and the same materials I got in kindergarten. I told you, I don't need four of the same materials back. They said there would be no refunds, even though school doesn't start until September 3rd. They've been calling me all day trying to get me to stay on the show after I told them no. They harassed me like car dealers. I do not work with dishonesty and they have just proved to me that this is about money, not about the education of our children. I am very shocked by this whole situation. This was supposed to be the program I wanted to use until the girls graduated from high school. It was a big disappointment. Our purpose is always to provide our families with the best possible experience of our curriculum offering. I am delighted that we had the opportunity to work with you this week and we only wish your best girls further education. Sharon Of Jamestown, OH Verified Reviewer Original review: March 13, 2019 There was no communication from teachers during my child's first year of enrollment as a freshman. He didn't do well because he's not a motivated student and his teachers communicate little or no. For me as a parent, try to get him guidance or help or see what the problem was. He was behind all year. They didn't send an email or communication until a week before the end of the year to warn me that time was running out. I asked, via email, called several times to find out how Credits as a freshman. How many credits they need to be in the second year, etc. I still don't know. G of Panama Verified Reviewer Original review: November 20, 2018Education is excellent. Weekly, they send a schedule of online hours that complement daily tasks. I am satisfied with the system because I receive notifications by post, both when my daughter sends a job and when she receives a reply about qualifications. The system is easy to use and allows teachers to read comments. I couldn't coordinate the meeting with the teachers because they were on their way and everyone emailed me about my daughter's performance. The clubs are great, my daughter is dating a lot and sharing hobbies. Very happy. Carrie of Calabasas, CA Verified Reviewer Original review: October 20, 2018T's school is a disaster. From the back for two weeks and I had to argue to get an extension. They then switched websites in the middle of it, confusing him so his work wouldn't be downloaded. They changed teachers, and a new guy sent one warning email and flunked French online. They are the most expensive online school, and they want your child to fail so they can exchange another $2,400 an hour when they do. The customer increased the rating by 4 stars! Dallas Corbin, TX Verified Reviewer Resolution response: August 1, 2018Update: Less than 24 hours and a great response from Laurel Springs. People and organizations can be extremely complex. When a person or organisation is given the opportunity to rectify a situation and goes above and beyond to make things right, that person/organisation deserves full credit for doing everything in its power to address the problem. Laurel Springs responded to my last message. I had the pleasure of working with the education director and he was not only understanding, but genuinely concerned and wanted to repair our experience. After a great phone conversation, we solved our problem and my daughter is able to complete her coursework. In addition, the manager took the time with me to answer a number of other questions and gave me the confidence to hit the reset button and be thrilled that our daughter will start her online academy work this fall. We've always been involved in our daughters' education is a team effort, not just a school and a child. As a team, all our children can succeed faster than we can imagine. Parents - go with it, stick with it and be thankful we have so many options to educate this young generation. I'm grateful for the agglomerations in front of us. Original review: July 30, 2018well, we tried. LS got a chance to prepare my daughter this summer. taking a language course during the summer. I made it very clear with the lady that we are new, we would help our daughter, but I would like orientation to help us. We were expecting a stumble, but not what we went through. Clearly read the course instructions that led him to do 1 lesson a day for a Spanish course. After four weeks of work, after completing almost 29 lessons, we found that his rating was 3.33%. Worried we looked deeper, made it to the teacher and then found out that there are two systems, LMS and Powerspeak, well they both have separate lessons, they had no idea! He got a response from a teacher who enlightened us about the systems. In 4 weeks, no LS person called or made up for us, parents, to say hello something looks wrong, but nothing from LS. One might think that as a new student/family we might get a follow-up call or email, NOPE! Our daughter's average hourly rate was over 90%, but we had no idea that the pace of the course was completely different. So he had 3.33% due to different course directions on two platforms. Misleading, to say the least. The teacher suggested an extension and contacted student services when 3 emails and a voicemail were left to student services, I finally got a response to contact the woman back in the entrance exams about the return. This was 27 July, the course had ended on 18 July. Admissions kindly reminded me that the return policy would not be refunded. He suggested that he should have done a lower-level course. The course was not a problem, it is a learning management system (LMS), no orientation, no follow-up, no communication to get an extension. Now my child has either a terrible grade or imperfect. Laurel Springs, find a middle ground and win people over. It's so sad! Read the full review Customer increased the rating by 2 stars! Lucy of Los Angeles, CA Verified Reviewer Original review: July 17, 2018 My daughter wanted to take two Honors summer online courses in Laurel Springs (LS) for her own pleasure. However, due to serious family emergency services, he didn't have plenty of time to complete courses, so we contacted LS to request a deferral start date which we thought was reasonable especially because of the reason and the fee we paid ($1,500). During the correspondence with Mr** LS, he was very delayed in answering my numerous calls/emails. He also denied our request for a postponement, at which point I asked if his course could be changed to regular (vs. honors) in the hope that my daughter could complete the regular course as Laurel Springs wouldn't let us postpone. He informed me that because of their computer system, they would not be able to regular courses. (???) Ultimately, LS was very uncooperative and unforgiving. They've testified. that their main goal is to MAKE a PROFIT and not to EDUCATE STUDENTS. Read the full review Next
