Rhonda Byrne, The Secret Rhonda Burn MysteryQuote 5:Many people feel like victims in life and will often point to past events, perhaps growing up with an abusive parent or in a dysfunctional family. Most psychologists believe that about 85 percent of families are dysfunctional, so suddenly you are not so unique. My parents were alcoholics. My father abused me. My mother divorced him when I was 6... This is everyone's story in some form. The question is, what are you going to do now? What do you choose now? Because you can keep focusing on that, or you can focus on what you want. And when people start focusing on what they want, what they don't want disappears, and what they want expands, and the other disappears. (Jack Canfield) (Rhonda Byrne in Hindi) In Hindi: Many people feel that they are victims and unhappy in life, and often talk about the tragic events of their past, many condemn their parents and family. Most psychologists believe that 85% of families in the US and Europe are not ideal, this shows you that you are not alone, my parents were alcoholics, my father spoke to me when I was six years old, my mother divorced them, almost similar stories are heard by people. The real question is, what are you going to do now? Why can you either keep your focus on the past or focus on the things you want. And when people start focusing on it Rhonda Byrne, Secret Rhonda Byrne Mysterious 6:Your power is in your thoughts, so wake up. In other words, remember to remember.
