May 29, 2008 at 3:15 p.m. EDT - Updated July 3 at 4:40 p.m. by Nicole Johnson, Live 5 News SUMMERVILLE, S.C. (WCSC) - A financial review by the Dorchester County auditor's office shows some residents may have gotten tax breaks when they shouldn't have. Councillor Mike Murphree says he appointed Dorchester County auditor Brenda Nix, hired a team to check his office, and then he presented the findings Tuesday to the Council at a meeting behind closed doors. A lot of what they learned, events happen over and over again, said County Councilman Mike Murphree. He says investigators have determined that residents are also getting too many discounts from the annual personal property tax, or the taxes people pay on non-real estate. He used taxes that people pay for a car. Basically, state law allows you to do two things. You can discount the Bluebook or the Edmunds, it's basically a condition of the vehicle, murphree said. Or high mileage, and that's usually when you see your tax bill you'll notice a little space there you can write about how many miles you have and take a small discount. The councillor says auditors revealed that people are getting both discounts over and over again over the course of a three-year span. If you see it several times, you start to get nervous, murphree said. Councilman Murphree says these discrepancies are under investigation. At this time we are not sure whether the findings of auditor Brenda Nix are just a mistake of staff or corruption. There are big discrepancies that need to be investigated and we need to give him all the support he needs to keep going, said Murphree. Murphree said the Dorchester County audit office has 12 staff. He says county leaders will decide whether some of the auditor's staff should be reproached for covering up whether he should be fired or whether the lawyer should involve him in the investigation. SUMMERVILLE - Home and business owners in Dorchester District 2 should expect a small increase in property tax payments. The school district urged the county council to provide additional resources to support expenditure on technology equipment during the COVID-19 pandemic. On Friday, the county began mailing annual real estate tax bills. These include changes in school and fire department tax rates, depending on the location of the property. Residents in DD2-zone areas will need to increase this year’s bill and the 2021 bill. In a $100,000, proprietary property, for example, you'll see an increase of around $22 in their 2020 and 2021 accounts. The non-owner-owned property will see a $33 increase. The two-year increase is part of DD2 and the county's plan to moderate and avoid a drastic increase in the county's tax rate in one year. DD2 is one of 25 school districts in the state that must present a budget to the county council each year for approval. District officials plan to use the money to fund debt repayments for school technology equipment and a new high school in the Beech Hill area. Construction of the school is scheduled to begin in 2021. Technological advances include unique electronic devices for students used in the COVID-19 pandemic. It also has interactive flat panels for classrooms. It's not just this benefit of educational programs, but it allows the district to convert school computer labs that are much needed all schools, said DD2 officials in a press release. Dorchester property tax payments can be made online DorchesterCountyTaxesOnline.com or in person at summerville or St. George cashier offices. Property owners must receive their tax bills by November 10. You can also contact them at 843-832-0162 or 843-563-0162 for questions about verifying their mailing addresses. With all property taxes due 15.In january and in addition to DD2 changes, some property owners may notice shifts in individual city and county fees. The property owners in Ridgeville, St. George, Harleyville and Reeseville are changing their Dorchester County tax burdens with no actual increase. The increase in county tax rates stems from a shift in the fire department's charge. Cities all get firefighters through the county. Summerville has its own fire department. In the past, St. George property owners' fire department tax burdens have been reflected in the city's fees not the county's. This fire department tax will now be transferred to the owners' county real estate fees. So this is not an actual increase or decrease in prices. Annette Moore, the clerk of St. George, said when the city began receiving fire departments in the county, Dorchester did not have the infrastructure to charge property owners directly. We basically collected the firemarageg, he said. Dorchester would simply take the fire department's fee from each city. Now the owners pay the county directly. Dorchester County Treasurer Cindy Chitty said in a release that the county would shift processing of real estate payments through the center of North Carolina to an Atlanta location. This transition has allowed us to step up the collection process, he said. Reach Jerrel Floyd at 843-937-5558. Follow him on Twitter @jfloyd134. @jfloyd134.
