Monster gone series pdf

The GONE series may be over, but it's not the end of the story . . . MICHAEL GRANT'S ACTION-PACKED AND MUCH ANTICIPATED NEW SERIES, SET IN THE AFTERMATH OF THE BESTSELLING AWAY SERIES. When the dome came down, they thought it was the end of the problems. The truth is, this was just the beginning. Introducing a brand new explosive three-book young adult series. Once again, Michael Grant is creating a compelling young cast of new characters for readers to love, hate and debate, as well as a host of unimaginable creatures. It happily stands alone from the GONE series, while also containing some fan accommodation appearances from previous FAYZ residents. The Monster series begins with MONSTER and continues with VILLAIN. [1] The series is centered on the fictional Southern California town of Perdido Beach, in which every person aged 15 and over disappears. The town and surrounding areas are surrounded within an impenetrable barrier burning to the touch, with many of its residents developing supernatural forces. The books follow the exploits of the protagonist/hero, Sam Temple, as he battles antagonists Caine Soren, Drake Merwin, and Diana Ladrís as well as a mysterious, male being, known as the Darkness or the Gaiafage (gai-uh-fage) (derived from Gaia, a Greek embodiment of the earth, and phage, of the Greek φαγῆν fage The second book, Hunger, was released a year later, followed by the third book, Lies, on May 4, 2010. The fourth book, Plague, was released on 5 April 2011. The fifth book, Fear, was released in the United States and the United Kingdom on April 3, 2012, although it was released in Australia and Hong Kong as early as March 23. The sixth book, Light, was released on April 2, 2013. The series - a fun, no-brainer read directed at teenagers - was considered ridiculously popular and a sensation in the young adult world. [3] A planned Monster Trilogy, also known as Season Two, began on 17 October 2017 with the release of Monster. It was introduced four years later from the events that took place in the other books. was released on 18 October 2018 and Hero was released on 1 October 2019. Novels Gone The story begins with the sudden disappearance of everyone aged 15 or older from the town of Perdido Beach, which is utter confusion and among those remaining in town. Classmates Sam Temple, Quinn Gaither, Astrid Ellison, and Edilio Escobar discovered an impenetrable barrier cutting Perdido Beach from the outside world; the area within the barrier was subsequently nicknamed Fallout Alley Youth Zone, shortened to the FAYZ. Unbeknoor to the other, Sam had earlier discovered his superhuman ability to fire light from his hands capable of burning objects when he is afraid; After reading a journal entry by his mother Connie, a nurse at nearby Coates Academy, Sam begins to suspect a connection to the disappearances and the barrier. While looking for Astrid's severely autistic four-year-old brother Little Pete at a nuclear power plant outside town, the quartet discovers that the barrier's boundaries match predicted radiation patterns in the event of a collapse. Pete is revealed to have superhuman abilities in an incident that also exposes Sam's powers to the group, who agree to keep it secret. With the group's return to Perdido Beach, they encounter vehicles bringing students from Coates Academy, led by the charismatic Caine Soren. Kaine restores order to Perdido Beach using his confidant Diana Ladris and enforcer Drake Merwin, but Sam and Astrid are suspicious of Caine's motives. Kaine - revealed that the power of telekinese has, Diana - who has the ability to determine the power of others' forces, and Drake - a violent sadis with no powers of his own - discovers that when residents of the FAYZ turn 15, they are confronted by something they covet before they disappear, a phenomenon nicknamed the poof , but can stay in the FAYZ by resisting whatever requests them. Caine also discovers that he and Sam are twin brothers who are divorced at birth, with Sam remaining with their mother, a revelation that deeply upsets Caine. Quinn, who started hanging out with Caine's friends, tells Caine about Sam's powers. Feeling threatened, Caine includes his crew, including local bully Charles Orc Merriman and his lack of Howard Bassem, sam, Astrid (who started dating) and Pete kidnapped. Quinn frees Sam and Astrid and Pete is freed from Dragons by Pete's abilities. Kaine instructs Drake to kill Astrid and Pete, but Sam saves her. Sam, Astrid, Quinn, Pete and Edilio escape town. Meanwhile, teenager Lana Arwen Lazar was injured in a car crash after her grandfather disappeared from the FAYZ, but discovers she has healing abilities and uses it to recover. Lana meets a packet of coyotes that can speak. The coyotes take her to a mine shaft, where an entity calls the coyotes call the Darkness live. Lana meets Sam's group and together they escape the coyotes, only to be captured by Drake and taken to Coates Academy. Kaine had their hands sealed in concrete because he discovered that the superhuman abilities with the channeled. Astrid courier Pete in using his side to free Sam's group and the other students held prisoner, and Kaine, Diana and Drake flee, with Sam burning down Drake's arm in the process. Sam's group and the Coates students - among them Taylor, who can teleport, Brianna The Breeze, who can run at superhuman speed, and Dekka, who can control gravity - return to Perdido Beach. Drake infiltrates the town and kidnappes Lana, believing she can regenerate his arm. Meanwhile, Orc and Howard decide to escape town to avoid Sam but encounter Dragons and the coyotes, who still seek Lana for the Darkness's own ends. Orc is mauled by the coyotes, while Howard convinces the coyotes to bring Drake and Lana to the mine shaft before fleeing. The Darkness instructs Drake to heal the coyotes and coerces Lana dragons' arm, which regeneres as a whip-like tentacle. Drake returns to Coates Academy and Kaine prepares to attack Perdido Beach before poofs. Unbeknist to Caine, Diana sends his subordinate Computer Jack, who hides his own ability of super-power, to Perdido Beach to tell Sam how to escape the poof. At Perdido Beach, Sam expects Caine's attack and makes plans to defend the town. He sends Edilio to the power plant to repair a cache of guns, as well as security footage from the time the FAYZ was created. Sam shows the footage to Astrid, revealing that Pete created the FAYZ to prevent the power plant from going into meltdown. The battle begins with Caine's goons distracting Sam while Drake and the coyotes take a class of toddlers hostage, along with their caretaker Mary Terrafino. Sam, Quinn, Edilio and the previously captured Coates children join forces to save the toddlers; Orc, who survived the coyote attack and subsequently transformed into a long, gravel-skinned creature, is fighting Drake to a stalemate. Kaine confronts Sam before Jack can tell Sam how to survive the poof, and the two disappear soon as they turn 15. The duo encounter a vision of Connie, who invites them to return to her. Both boys refuse, with Sam stating he has work to do in the FAYZ. Connie transforms into a manifestation of Darkness, boasting that Kaine will willingly come to it, before he disappears. The boys return to the FAYZ; Sam is the first to recover, and pieces Caine and the Coates students to retreat, but Caine declares he will return. Later, student Albert Hillsborough organizes a Thanksgiving dinner for the town and Sam encourages the residents of the FAYZ to stick together. Meanwhile, the coyotes' suit leader is taking Caine to the Darkness. Starving Three months after the end of Way, Sam became mayor of Perdido Beach but struggling with the responsibilities of protecting the town. Food supplies are dwindling, exacerbated by the presence of mutated carnivorous worms called zekes that access crop fields and are only partially illuminated by Quinn's idea to fishing from the nearby ocean. Other children are working to discover their mutant abilities, including Duck Zhang, which can control its density, and Hunter Lefkowitz, which can emit deadly microwave rays. Little Pete is also working to reveal more of his powers, including the ability to create life. Tensions between mutants and non-mutants escalate after Hunter accidentally kills his roommate Harry with his forces during a confrontation between Hunter and the anti-mutant Zil Sperry. Zil and his possess, calling themselves the Human Crew, capture and try to lay Hunter before they are forced to spread through Orc. Albert, after learning of Lana from a closet of gold near the mine shaft where the Darkness lurks, travels there with Quinn and Lana to obtain the gold with the intention of using it to make currency for the FAYZ. Lana, traumatised by her encounter with Darkness, abandons them to try to kill the darkness by exploding LPG in the mine shaft. The Darkness, which calls itself the gaiafage and whose physical shape is revealed as a mass of green crystalline particles, subdues Lana. At Coates Academy, Caine wakes up after spent the past three months in a fugue state following his encounter with the gaiafage and making plans to seize control of the nuclear power plant. While performing reconnaissance, Drake captures Orsay Pettijohn, a mutant with the ability to see people's dreams. Diana manipulates Jack, taking refuge in Perdido Beach, to help Kaine access the computers at the plant. Kaine and his crew attack the power plant and shut down power to Perdido Beach; Sam, after realizing Caine's plan, is racing to confront him. Caine realizes that he has been manipulated by the gaiafage as it needs radioactive uranium from the power plant to feed. Forced to submit to the gaiafage's will, Kaine takes the uranium to the mine shaft, damages the reactor and permanently cut-off power in the FAYZ, and leaves Drake to stall behind Sam. Caine also sends Error, a mutant with the ability of camouflage, to bring Orsay to the mine shaft in order to determine the gaiafage's goals. Drake is coursing Sam to allow himself to be tortured by threatening to trigger a reactor meltdown. Sam is rescued by Brianna, who twists part of Drake's tentacle but Sam is left close to death; Dragons retreats to join in with Kaine. Bug tells the children of Perdido Beach Caine's plan in exchange for food. Edilio takes Orsay to the mine shaft, and Orsay relays to the children of Perdido Beach the gaiafage's desire to feed. Astrid speculates that the gaiafage came to Earth in a meteor strike that hit the power plant 13 years before, that the radiation both sustained the gaiafages and caused the mutations, and that the gaiafage was manipulating Pete, and Kaine with the intention of resisting indestructible physical forms for himself to resist children of the FAYZ. Edilio and Dekka travel to the mine shaft to find Lana under the influence of the gaiafage. Lana shoots and critically wounds Edilio before retreating into the mine shaft, while Dekka is attacked by coyotes. Caine, Drake, Diana and Jack arrive, soon followed by Sam, Quinn, Brianna, and Duck (Sam reasoned that the gaiafage is unprepared for Duck's abilities). Drake, now loyal to the gaiafage instead of Kaine, attacks Diana. Furiously, Kaine defended the gaiafage dragons and threw the uranium into the mine shaft before it collapsed, but realized that Lana should be rescued to save Diana. Using Duck's forces to tunnel into the mine shaft, Kaine and Sam confront the gaiafage, which feeds on the uranium. Duck sacrifices himself by Kaine throwing him at the gaiafage while using his power, creating a void that sucks in the gaiafage. Lana is freed from the gaiafage's influence and heals the children of their injuries, and Kaine and Diana leave. Back at Perdido Beach, Sam steps down as mayor and shares responsibilities with a council, though many still sympathize with the Human Crew. The children get access to the tumors by feeding the zekes mutant blue bats previously discovered by Duck. Hunter, left brain damaged because of his ordeal, was conceived of Perdido Beach. Brittney Donegal, a girl seemingly killed in Kaine's attack on the power plant, is buried in the cemetery in the town plaza; unbeknaming to the rest of the children, Brittney has the power of immortality and remains conscious, with a mysterious slugfest (Drake's secreted tentacle) attached to her arm. Lying four months after Way, Sam is still traumatised by his torture by Drake. His fears increase after the Human Crew kidnapped Jill, a young girl with siren-like mutant abilities, and dumped her in an empty grave that Sam and Edilio realized had previously been occupied by Brittney; it is implied that Sam and Edilio know the sluggishness on Brittney's arm was Drake's secreted tentacle. Jill is taken in by Orsay and her helper, a mysterious girl named Nerezza unknown to the children of Perdido Beach. Orsay, whose powers have grown so she can contact people outside the FAYZ through dreams, is starting to tell children that they can escape the FAYZ through the poof. After Sam is unsuccessful in concealing Orsay's demands from the council, Astrid convinces the other councillors to tell Perdido Beach that Orsay lies, despite being unable to recede Orsay's claims. Sam's deception causes a rift between him and Astrid and prompts their break-up. Brittney reappears in Perdido Beach, led by visions of her late brother Tanner giving her cryptic warnings of a demon; her appearance is soon followed by the discovery of several bodies showing signs of being whipped to death. At Coates Cain and his remaining followers of San Francisco de Sales, a private owned by Hollywood power couple Jennifer Brattle and Todd Chance located within the FAYZ, and Caine is making plans to relocate to the island. For this, he reaches out to Zil and the Human Crew, which arranges for the Human Crew to fire to Perdido Beach to create a distraction for Cain and his group to steal boats from the town's marina. While responding to the fire, Sam is attacked by Drake and flees Perdido Beach in terror. Caine and those he deems useful - Diana, Bug, and a brutal mutant named Penny with the ability to create illusions - make it to San Francisco de Sales, which they discovered were still occupied by the Brattle-Chances' adopted ones. The Brattle-Chances, knowing they will eventually run out of supplies, drug Caine's group and try to flee to Perdido Beach by helicopter. Caine wakes up and uses his abilities to stop the Brattle Chances, but is forced to release them to stop Diana from attempting suicide. In the aftermath of the fire, Albert houses a cooking to collect morale, while Brianna brings Sam back to town. Astrid, who realizes that the children no longer respect her, uses her authority as a councillor to pass laws aimed at maintaining order in town before resigning her position. Nerezza convinces Zil and the Human Crew to launch another attack at the cooking, while Drake reappears and the children begin to attack. Nerezza attempts to kill Pete before being stopped by Astrid, who realizes that the gaiafage Pete used to create Nerezza by manipulating Pete into thinking he was creating a protagonist for his gaming console. Maria attempts to kill the toddlers by jumping them off a cliff as she turns 15, having been influenced by Orsay and Nerezza to believe their deaths will allow them to awaken outside the FAYZ. The children are rescued by Brianna and Dekka, the latter of whom also kills Zil, but Mary disappears. Nerezza, who killed Orsay, uses Jill's abilities in an attempt to prevent the children from fighting back, but is distracted by the arrival of the Brattle Chances. Sam destroys Nerezza and attempts to destroy Drake, who now has the ability of rebirth but ultimately confesses when Drake turns into Brittney and instead locked her in a basement with Orc Conservation Guard. Pete's gaming console is destroyed in the show at Clifftop; in his anxiety, Pete briefly causes the FAYZ barrier to disappear, giving Perdido Beach a brief glimpse into the outside world. Throughout the book, many characters are mentioned as a flu-like disease, foreshadowed events in Plague. Plague Perdido Beach is now managed in all but name by Albert, whose introduction of money and paid labor to the town has put him in a position of considerable power. With water supplies dwindling, Albert sends Sam, Dekka, Jack and to find a new water source at Lake Tramonto, on the far side of the FAYZ. Find a plague that causes those infected to cough up their insides is spread by Perdido Beach, and the town's residents are instructed not to leave their homes to stop the spread. Heading into the lake, Sam's group met Hunter, who became infected with parasitic flaws that began eating him from the inside out. At Hunter's request, Sam uses his powers to euthanasia him, thereby releasing errors that are invaluable to his abilities. A coyote then leads the group to the creatures that cause the infections. The group attacks the creatures, and Dekka is infected in the process. Meanwhile, Drake escapes his prison after Orc got drunk. He makes his way to the mine shaft and is met by the bugs, which clear the way to the mine shaft. Drake transformed into Britney, which discovered that the gaiafage was an alien virus meant to seed planets with life before mutation due to exposure to radiation and human DNA. With Brittney now accepting the gaiafage as her god, Drake and the bugs split into two armies to attack Sam and Perdido Beach. Orc, ashamed of his actions, is taking refuge at Coates with Astrid, who believes that killing Pete will end the FAYZ and worry the other children will kill him. Sam's group arrives at a nearby military air base and meets a lonely boy, Toto, whose mutant power is to tell the truth of lies. Sam's group discovers that the military detected the various mutants before the FAYZ began. They also find a train with valuable supplies of food, as well as a train car full of handheld missile launchers. Traveling to the lake, Sam and his group are confronted by Drake and the bugs, which have grown to the size of CSAs. The group escapes back to the military base, with Sam sending Jack to Perdido Beach to either retrieve Kaine from San Francisco de Sales or throw Pete to the bugs, assuming Pete will be induced to use his capabilities in response. Dekka attempts to use her abilities to bring the missiles to the power plant and then to Perdido Beach, but the plan is thwarted when she starts succumbing to her infestation and drops the container. Perdido Beach erupts into chaos knowing the bugs are approaching, most mutants too far away to help, Albert near death after being attacked by the remains of the Human Crew, and the plague that has left many children hospitalized. Independent of Sam, Edilio instructs Quinn to bring Caine to Perdido Beach, as he has the power to kill the mistakes. Kaine accepts the challenge, hoping to become king after he saved the town. The mistakes arrive in Perdido Beach, and Kaine is teaming up with Brianna to destroy most of the military attacking the town, though many children have been killed in the battle. Quinn saves Sam, Toto and Dekka and brings them back to Beach, with Sam forced to cut open Dekka to stop the bugs from devouring Dekka. Jack meets Astrid and at Coates, soon joined Drake and his mistakes. When threatened by Drake, Astrid Throws Pete to the insects, realizing the danger and disappearing both the insects and himself, but the FAYZ barrier remains. Caine installs himself as king of Perdido Beach, though it's clear that Albert remains the real force behind the throne. Sam forms a community at Lake Tramonto with a third of Perdido Beach decision to follow him. To Sam's shock, Diana decides to come with Sam, after falling ill from Kaine's constant need for power, revealing that she is pregnant with Kaine's child. Meanwhile, it is revealed that Pete's disorged consciousness survived the encounter with the mistakes. Fear Four Months After the End of Plague, Sam's new community is thriving at Lake Tramonto. However, Sam discovers that the missile container is booby-trapped, and suspects that Kaine has already demanded the missiles. Astrid left Sam to live alone in the woods, still guilty about sacrificing Pete and unaware of his survival. Pete is experimenting with his new state of existence by tampering with the genetic makeup of the inhabitants of the FAYZ, leading to several gruesome deaths. Among his victims is Taylor, who survives her mutation but is transformed into a golden-downsized non-mammal creature. Astrid and several other FAYZ residents discovered that the energy barrier had started to turn black, prompting Astrid to seek out Sam at Lake Tramanto and revive their relationship. Sam sends a letter to Caine offering to use his powers to provide light to Perdido Beach. Meanwhile, Drake and the coyotes are sent through the gaiafage to bring the pregnant Diana to his cave. Drake let the coyotes eat Howard when they cross paths on their way to Lake Tramanto. This is seen by Sam's messenger, who instead goes back to Lake Tramanto to raise the alarm. At night, Astrid travels clandestinely to Perdido Beach alone to bring Sam's offer of help. Meanwhile, Albert decides to flee to San Francisco de Sales to survive an expected societal meltdown as a result of the barrier darkening; It was revealed he hid the missiles on the island without telling Kaine. In Perdido Beach, Kaine sentences Cigar, one of Quinn's fishermen, to a day being tortured by Penny and her illusions. Cigar is clutching his own eyes because of Penny's torture, prompting Quinn and his fishermen to go on strike and demand Penny's exile from Perdido Beach. Lana attempts to regene Cigar's eyes and is partially successful; However, Cigar is only able to see people's auras, but soon realizes that he is able to see and communicate with Pete. Penny drugs Caine and envelops his hands in concrete, preventing the use of his powers but is unsurpassed when the frightened children of Perdido Beach scream his release rather than accept her leadership. Lana courier Penny in leaving town. 1994 Sap The First 2 2 Cigar, revealing that Pete is alive, but Cigar is eaten by zekes soon after. Through mental communication with Pete, Astrid learns that the barrier is linked to the gaiafage and the gaiafage needs a host body - Diana's baby - to channel his abilities. Drake takes Diana captive and brings her to the mine shaft, where they encounter Penny. Diana gives birth to her baby, who is owned by the gaiafage. The baby, who diana calls Gaia, shows signs of possessing several forces, including Sam's mild generation and Lana's healing abilities. Outside the FAYZ, Sam and Caine's mother Connie Temple became one of the spokesmen for the families of Perdido Beach. Connie struggles with her guilt over knowing Sam and Caine's abilities before the creation of the FAYZ. Connie learns that the military plans to nuk the barrier. She and the other children's families are trying to stop the explosion by alerting the media and the other families, but the military finds that the barrier prevented them from stopping the explosion. Drake, Diana, Penny and a rapidly developing Gaia make for the barrier, which Gaia intends to destroy so she can escape into the outside world. They are intercepted by Sam and Kaine; Kaine kills Penny and asks Gaia to kill Kaine with her own telekinetic abilities. When Sam tries to destroy Gaia with his light (simultaneously on the nuclear blast), the barrier suddenly becomes transparent, so Connie and everyone else gathered outside the barrier to see the confrontation. Gaia flees, followed by Diana and Drake. In the aftermath, Sam and Astrid are reunited with their parents, and communication begins between the FAYZ and the outside world. Light Two days after Fear, the residents of the FAYZ have distracted by the outside world and lost interest in their duties, leading to Quinn returning to San Francisco de Sales to get albert because he's the only one everyone can get back to work. Brianna gives an interview to a news station revealing the level of violence experienced by the children of the FAYZ. Anrited at Brianna, Sam and Astrid send her to search for Gaia, Diana, and Drake. Brianna meets Drake foraging for food for Gaia; she mutilated him and spread his parts throughout lake FAYZ, holding his head in a chest under the boats on Lake Tramonto. Gaia schemes to kill the FAYZ residents in order to prevent Pete from fighting her by inhabiting another person's body. Gaia and Diana see two young men on the other side of the barrier; Gaia uses her power to briefly remove the barrier, causing one of the men, Alex Mayle, to fall through. Gaia removes and eats Alex's arm and informs Alex that she will use him as food. Intimidated, Diana and Alex follow Gaia to Lake Tramanto. Diana escapes and warns the community, but Gaia appears and slaughters most of the community before forced to retreat by Brianna. Sam and Caine join forces to kill Gaia and save Diana, Sam and Caine find Gaia, and their efforts to kill her result in Kaine being taken hostage and Sam being heavily injured, before being rescued by Taylor and Lana. The kids regroup at Perdido Beach and discuss their next move. It is revealed that Gaia, though possessing every power of every living person in the FAYZ, loses that power when the person dies. Sam considers whether to sacrifice himself to stop Gaia. Meanwhile, Alex Drake's head brings to Gaia; she beheaded Alex, attaching Drake's head to his body, and replaced Alex's missing arm with another tentacle. Gaia attacks Perdido Beach and kills Brianna. Jack is also killed by a stray bullet and Sam is taken prisoner. Drake catches Astrid and begins her torture, but Astrid incapacitated him and escaped. With the situation desperate, Caine picks up Albert's missiles and launches them at Gaia. Orc, who fought against Gaia at the time, is killed in the blast but Survives Gaia. Realizing that there is only one option left allows Kaine Pete's consciousness to inhabit his body at the expense of his own life. Pete fights Gaia, with everyone destroying each other in the process, as well as the barrier. As the kids flee Perdido Beach, Sam returns alone to confront Drake. Sam finds that he has lost his ability to shoot light, but when Drake attacks he finds that his immortality and Gaia's ability to entch his head on Alex's body is also insidious, leading to Drake's apparent demise. The remaining children reunite with their families and mourn their losses. Connie tells Sam how Kaine and Sam were fraternal twins, fathered by the man whose DNA merged with the gaiafage, and became far from Sam. Edilio, are forced to hide to avoid being deported back to Honduras, and come out to his family after learning that his boyfriend Roger survived the massacre at Lake Tramanto. Albert gets the attention of every big business in the world, and does an ad for McDonald's in Perdido Beach. Lana returns to her family in Vegas. Sam is targeted by prosecutors who intend to bring him to trial for his actions in the FAYZ, and escape hospital with Quinn's help. Astrid, Todd Chance and Jennifer Brattle hold a press conference and Astrid reveals that Kaine wrote a confessional note before his death, claiming that he controlled the children of the FAYZ and was responsible for their actions. Sam drops into the conference and is reunited with Astrid. With Caine's confession, the waters and footage of Sam and Astrid's reunion go viral, public opinion forces Sam's release. Astrid decides to write a book about life in the FAYZ and signs off the movie rights to the Brattle-Chances. With the money buy Astrid home for herself and Sam next to Quinn's family. After the attending a memorial to everyone who died in the FAYZ, Sam and Astrid ask Diana to live with them, which she agrees to. Sample Four years after the collapse of the FAYZ, more Anomale Space Objects (meteors carry the gaiafage virus), head to Earth, mutate anyone with whom it comes into contact. Among those affected is genius teenager Shade Darby, who was present when the FAYZ fell and saw Gaia kill her mother, and her new best friend Cruz Rojas, a trans girl with a difficult home life. Shadow becomes capable of morphing into an insecticide creature with super-speed, while Cruz gets the ability to turn invisible or change her look. Notable artist Justin DeVeeere has also been exposed to ASO rock and morphs into the giant crustacean-like animal Nightmare, destroying a plane and the Golden Gate Bridge. Elsewhere, schizophrenic teenager Vincent Vu ASO rock infected by starfish and densovirus genetics is acquiescent and able to grow into a giant monstrous form that can control reanimated human bodies. The various mutants, called Rockborn, are able to transform back and forth between human and mutant forms, and feel themselves constantly observed by enigmatic Dark Watchers while morphed. Homeland Security Taskforce 66 recruit Dekka to voluntarily take in some alien rock after revealing that Drake survived the end of the FAYZ, hoping she can combat the various new threats. She becomes able to morph into a feline animal with the ability to project case-shredding energy, and soon learns that the corrupt HSTF-66 is kidnapped and experimented on countless people to build a mutant army. Dekka escaped alongside Aristote Armo Adamo, a youth with opposition flawed disorder given a polar bear-like morph shape. Dekka and Armo briefly seek refuge in Perdido Beach, where they reunite with Diana. Meanwhile, HSTF-66 leader Tom Peaks is fired by the government asking him to ally vengefully with Drake and aso rock and obtain a dragon-like form that can vomit napalm. Shadow and Cruz become refugees from HSTF-66, joined by Shade's equally intelligent ex-boyfriend Malik Tenerife, and Shadow Fighting Justin, who is subsequently captured by HSTF-66. Shadow, Cruz and Malik then ally with Dekka and Armo to get to another ASO in front of Peaks and Dragons, leading to a vicious battle interrupted by Vincent, who subdues Peaks before escaping. Malik was fatally burned in the fight between Vincent and Peaks, but Shade and Cruz are giving him some ASO rock in hopes of saving him. Sam offers sanctuary to Dekka and Armo. A government memo shows that the mutants now occupy the FBI's Top 10 Most Wanted, joined by an unknown person named Francis Specter. Warning Sam and Astrid (who are now married) that Drake is still in his, dekka offers Astrid secretly with rest of Shadow's ASO rock so she can become to fight Dragons. The horrifically burned Malik gets the ability to morph into an illusion version of his unharmed body, at the expense of projecting excruciating pain to other people and constantly makes him feel the Dark Watchers' attention. Shadow, Cruz and Malik invade HSTF-66's Ranch facility, destroying much of the building and freeing Justin and the other mutant inmates, and Shadow is living footage to expose the organization's crimes. Aspiring comedian and FAYZ survivor Dillon Poe buys ASO rock on the black market and gets a reptile morph with the ability of mind control. His love interest Saffron Silverman inspires him to try to take over the world, and they seize control of thousands of people in Las Vegas, causing mass slaughter and the deaths of thousands, including Saffron. Dekka and Armo regroup with Shadow, Cruz and Malik, and they engage Dillon and his entralling forces in a battle, discovering he can't control other Rockborn while they morphed. They are joined by Francis Specter, a teenager who has the ability to turn intangibles by going into a fourth dimensional plane. Since Francis doesn't feel the Dark Watchers observe her, Malik identifies her as an irreversible Rockborn who could pose a threat to the Watchers. The army is invading Vegas to stop Dillon, sending his slaves into kamikaze attacks against them. Heading to Vegas to join the massacre, Vincent is killed by the military. Dillon takes a lot of people hostage and douses them into gasoline. Intends to regain the government's trust, Peaks travels to Vegas, but accidentally ignites the hostages with his napalm, killing most of them, though Dekka and her allies may save some. Malik uses his pain-projecting powers to torture Dillon and cooes him into committing suicide and freeing everyone under his control. Dekka, Shade, Cruz, Malik, Armo and Francis form a superhero team, the Rockborn Gang, and Cruz become their public spokesperson after being seen rescoding a baby from the flames, while Shadow and Malik resume their relationship. Hero Several ASOs have landed across the Earth, to the point where most countries are overwhelmed by the rise of destructive Rockborn. Hit with guilt over his role in Dillon's massacre, Peaks commits suicide. To prevent a particularly large ASO from wiping out New York, the government is firing nuclear missiles with breaking it up, but it still leads to many shards hitting New York, killing or infecting much of the city. Many of those infected are kidnapped and killed by government forces, but businessman Bob Markovic and his daughter Simone escape using their morphs: Markovic becomes a stalled swarm of insects capable of causing horrific and painful illnesses on humans while delivering them unable to while Simone is able to fly in the form of a blue humanoid with very small wings. The Markovic, who now calls himself Vector, infects New York's government and seizes control of the city and recruits a small army from Rockborn to assist him, including Justin. Discovering Astrid had become Rockborn, Sam took in the rest of Shadow's ASO. He becomes capable of creating domes of various sizes that resemble the FAYZ, while she can morph into a Hulk-like shape with super power and invalidity. Drake ambushs astrid, but Astrid easily overwhelms him with her new abilities and leaves him in hydrofluoric acid. Forming an awkward alliance with the U.S. government, the Rockborn Gang, with Dekka as their official leader, travels to New York to stop Markovic, joined by Simone, Sam and Edilio. Francis strands Justin and some of Markovic's other Rockborn in the fourth dimension, which she dubs There. Markovic is trying to reach Washington to conquer the government, but he's trapped by Sam's abilities and the Rockborn gang is killing him with nerve gas. Shadow, however, is almost dead in battle, while Sam is forced to destroy a train and kill more than forty of Markovic's hostages. Cruz and Armo begin a relationship, and Simone becomes romantically interested in Dekka. A military general helps Dekka, Shadow, Cruz, Malik, Armo, Francis, Sam, Astrid, Simone and Edilio go into hiding at a secret bunker, and they agree to consider helping with other villainous Rockborn. The conclusion of Hero reveals the truth about the entirety of the universe depicted throughout the nine books. Malik accompanied Francis in a series of outings to There, and he and Shadow theorized that their reality is a simulation created by the Dark Watchers. Malik and Francis' final outing brings them into contact with a future version of Malik, confirming his younger self's suspicions and noting that Pete was the only other person to discover the nature of their reality. The older Malik explains that the FAYZ universe was created by an MIT team led by him and Shade 26 years in the future using artificial intelligence and based on their own memories. Although the older Malik acknowledges the suffering felt by those in the simulation, he explains that it cannot be changed but can be turned off, ending their universe. Malik refuses to make the decision without unanimous approval from the Rockborn gang. The series ends with the Rockborn Gang about to vote, with the ultimate fate of their universe left unknown. Characters Sam Temple - the main protagonist of the series. Caring, determined and trustworthy, Sam is extremely respected in the FAYZ. Sam receives supernatural strength in the form of being able to analyse light from his hands. This light can either be to relieve a dark area or as a deadly weapon. Throughout the series, Sam becomes constantly up to his limits physically and Pushed. As the series goes on, Sam often meets challenges that he's the only one capable dealing with, leaves a great sense of pressure on him at all times. Sam is also a regular opponent of Kaine, his twin brother, in front of the two ally against the Gaiafage. Sam's nemesis is Drake Mervin, and the two fight many times before the FAYZ fall. Sam is also in an ongoing relationship with Astrid throughout the series. Before the FAYZ Sam was a hero after he saved the school bus from collapse when the driver has a heart attack, he then becomes one of the most important people in Perdido Beach after the barrier appeared. Caine Soren - born David Temple, the twin brother of Sam Temple and a primary antagonist throughout most of the series. Narcissistic, charismatic, intelligent, and ruthless, Kaine seeks power over others and seeks to take control of the FAYZ several times throughout the series. Kaine gets supernatural powers in the form of telekinese. He is one of the most powerful mutants in the FAYZ. He has a recurring romantic interest in Diana, resulting in a child, Gaia. Throughout the series, Caine becomes increasingly heroic, eventually joining Sam in the fight against the Gaiafage. Caine eventually dies in the final confrontation with the monster and the destruction of the barrier. Astrid the Genius Ellison - often referred to as the smartest person in the FAYZ. A guard of honour student and a devout Christian, Astrid, gained her nickname astrid the Genius before the barrier manifested. Caring, intelligent and ambitious, Astrid is often behind much of the policymaking in the FAYZ. Her knowledge of politics and science makes her the leading authority on a variety of issues, making her an extremely important figure in the community. Astrid is also the older sister of Peter Little Pete Ellison; her role as a caretaker for him throughout the series takes a constant toll on Astrid. Throughout much of the series, Astrid is in an ongoing relationship with Sam Temple, which continues after the barrier falls. Diana Ladris - a savvy manipulator whose power to determine other mutants' power levels makes her a valuable asset and political ally. Diana often plays the role of both protagonist and antagonist in the series. Beginning as one of Caine's henchmen, she slowly begins to try and distance herself from villainous as the series goes on. She is the mother of Gaia Ladris-Soren, the only baby born in the FAYZ. Diana has been in a strained relationship with Cain through most of the series, thus motivating her link between hero and multiple times. Lana Arwen Lazar - one of the most important and respected persons in the FAYZ. Lana has the ability to cure any injury. Breeing, sulky, and sometimes hostile, Lana considers the role of healer to be a burden. Lana is also one of the few to have a profound association with the Gaiafage, which makes it a constant opponent for her Throughout the series, Lana is mostly seen as a loner and often goes on of her own. Albert Hillsborough - a fourteen-year-old African-American student in charge of food, water, and works in Perdido Beach. He is considered by many to be the most responsible person in the FAYZ. Known for his wealth and for controlling the food and water, he is also known for creating markets in the FAYZ. Though he's smart and powerful, Albert is selfish and somewhat of a coward, as evidenced by him running away when the barrier gets dark. Albert is the inventor of the official currency of the FAYZ. At the beginning of the FAYZ, Albert takes control of the local McDonald's and starts providing the community with food. As the series progresses, Albert becomes a business tycoon and collects numerous children under his employment. As his power and influence grow, Albert becomes less and less agreeable, making him an antagonist at sometimes. Peter Little Pete Ellison - Astrid's severely autistic younger brother. The main individual person in the FAYZ, with numerous abilities demonstrated throughout the series, ranging from telekinese and teleportation to creating life, he's also the one who created it. He constantly fights the gaiafage and stops it from taking over the FAYZ and its inhabitants throughout the series. The FAYZ wall only comes down when Pete chooses to die during the final fight with Gaia. During the series, all the actions he takes are directed only to solve an immediate problem of his, and he doesn't understand any consequences his actions can have on people in the future. Brianna The Breeze Berenson - one of Sam's best friends, Brianna has the power to run at superhuman speed, boasting that she is able to walk out a speeding bullet. Brianna is brave and fearless, often enthusiastically entangled with Kaine and Drake, but her bravade ultimately proves her downfall when Gaia attacks the people of the FAYZ. Computer Jack - the tech master of the FAYZ, whose passion for technology often leads him to make morally questionable decisions before he finally becomes allies with Sam. Jack engage in a complicated relationship with Brianna. Dekka Talent - An African-American lesbian girl who intimidates most of the children not only because of her close relationship with Sam, but also for her strength to cancel gravity in a small area. Dekka has unanswered love for Brianna, who initially causes awkwardness between the two friends. Edilio Escobar - A Honduran illegal immigrant who proved himself to be vital to running the FAYZ, despite no mutant abilities. Determined, sensitive and courageous, Edilio is shown as Sam Temple's right-hand man, and later as his equal, shows extreme loyalty and resolve in the most dangerous of situations. Later in the series, he is revealed to be gay, entering an affair with The Artful Roger. A joke is Edilio often mistaken for Mexicans, a joke that sometimes itself makes. Quinn Gathier - Sam's best friend before the FAYZ. When the FAYZ occurs, Quinn betrays Sam to Kaine but frees him after learning of Kaine's intentions. During the food shortage plaguing the FAYZ, Quinn is taking the initiative to start fishing, eventually leading Perdido Beach's fishing crew. Drake Whip Hand Merwin - a violent, sadistic, misogynistic psychopath who begins the series as Kaine's right hand before coming to serve the gaiafage, which his burned arm regeneres as a 10-foot-long tentacle he can use to whip or strangle people. Despite apparently being killed by Caine in Hunger, part of Drake's tentacle lands to Brittney, a mutant with the power of immortality, allowing the two to share a body. Gaia The Gaiafage Soren-Ladris - the daughter of Diana Ladris and Caine Soren. The only baby born in the FAYZ is owned by the Gaiafage almost immediately after her birth. Gaia grows rapidly in a child and becomes the second most powerful mutant in the FAYZ, behind Little Pete. Her malice and affinity for slaughter make her an immediate threat to the children of the FAYZ. Gaia can use the capabilities of any mutant in the FAYZ, though that power disappears when the Gaiafage is defeated. Charles Orc Merriman - nicknamed so for his gargantuan size and limited intelligence, Orc is the original school bully in Perdido Beach. Now accompanied by his friend Howard Bassem at all times, Orc began the series as an antagonist. His lack of fear and empathy causes him to accidentally kill a mutant, Bette, the guilt of causing him to become an alcoholic before he becomes a born-again Christian. After being mauled by coyotes, Orc's skin is replaced by a gravel-like substance that makes him almost immune to pain and incredibly strong. Brittney Donegal - a devout Christian seemingly murdered in Hunger, who discovers she has the ability of immortality. Initially believing that her ability is a divine gift to kill Kaine and Drake, Brittney is bound up with Drake and shares her body with him, and is manipulated by the gaiafage to accept it as her god. Critical reception reviews are generally mixed to positive, although many note Gone's success in its intended demographic. Mal Peet, for The Guardian, pointed to the series' rave reviews, most of them posted on websites by teenagers, although this suggests such success stemmed from literary sacrifices that made characters into crude two-dimensional digitizations. [4] Amanda Craig, for The Times, noted that Gone was heavily influenced by TV series such as Lost and Heroes, describing the book as Slim but a little too predictable. [5] Jayne Howarth, for the Birmingham Post, called Gone superb and said she had the book full of suspense, and found the supernatural. Think of a powerful mix of Lords of the Flies, Heroes and Lost and you get an idea of the it will appeal. Described the pace of the novel as franchise and frenetic Howarth predicted: 'It's an incredibly mysterious story, with twists and turns, cameos and protagonists, to keep readers enlarged... Violent in parts, Grant does not stick back to showing the fertile nature of man when faced with a world without order. Unchallenged. [6] Dinah Hall, who reviewed Lies for The Sunday Telegraph, also drew comparison to Lord of the Flies and Lost, writing: While it was never going to make it onto the GCSE syllabus, it certainly has the addictive pull of a cult television series... I would sell my soul for the next installment. [7] Toby Clements, who reviewed Hunger for The Daily Telegraph, wrote: Grant's story is stubborn but thoughtful, a Stephen King novel for young people in which the children are challenged with the reform of society while fighting evil. Hunger should be necessary to read for any teenager who thinks adults suck. [8] Stephen King also praised and wrote the series: These are exciting, high-voltage stories told in a row, deluge of narrative that never stops. There are monsters, there are kids with crazy-crazy super powers, there's the mystery of where all the adults went. Most of all, there are kids can believe and root for. That's great fiction.
