

I'm not robot

Continue

Nursing's social policy statement the essence of the profession ebook

Interlibrary Loan (ILL) is a service that allows you to check materials that are not available in our library from libraries in the United States. It is available to all students From morning to 2013 (including graduate students from distant education), faculty and staff. ILL can be used for both physical and digital materials. To find a book or other physical resource, it's easiest to use WorldCat interlibrary loan. Once you find the resource you want in this database, just click on the Get this item link from another library and fill in the contact information to make an ILL request. To request an article, it's easiest to go to the ILL submission form. Use the citation information for the article you want to fill in on the form. Be sure to put as much information as possible. This makes it easier for us to find the right item for you. Physical resources can take 7 to 10 days or more to receive after you submit an application. Please keep this in mind when you start your research. You will receive an e-mail when your items are available for receive in the library. Digital materials often take only 1 to 3 days to receive. These resources will be emailed to you. If you have questions about ILL, please feel free to ask a librarian. This more in-depth edition updates an enduring classical ANA that centers on the unique value and accountability of society. The singular number of the book is its integrated description of the profession of nurses in terms of the main elements: Social context and contractSubscribe of medical professionalsTonomy and competencies Science and competenceThering and standards of practiceThis elements have been revised in recognition of the continuing progress in the practice and knowledge of nurses, outlining and affirming the deep-law commitments of society. The ANA Nursing Base is a major resource for any nurse, regardless of level, role or setting. The three books in the Nursing, Thinking and Decision-Making Manual: Scope and Standards in Practice, Second Edition Social Policy Reading: The Essence of the ProfessionGuide to the Code of Ethics for Nurses: Interpretation and ApplicationThis package can be used as: Professional reference textbookClassic textbook Training Straight-up and much moreFor medical professionals, students, researchers, trainees, senior staff , members of the medical care boards and interprofessional colleagues , as well as agencies, organisations, regulators, legislators, lawyers, judges and healthcare users. ZIP ANA, the latest electronic publication, provides guidance to registered nurses on the use of social in a way that protects patient confidentiality and confidentiality. The publication also provides guidance on Nurses on how to maintain, when using social networks, the nine provisions of the Code of Ethics for Nurses with interpretative statements, standards established in medical care: Scope and standards in practice, and responsibilities of nurses to society as defined in the Statement of Nurses on Social Policy: The Essence of the Profession. Online social networks facilitate collegial communication between registered nurses and provide convenient and timely forums for professional development and education. It also presents remarkable potential for public education and health guidelines, contributing to online nurses online presence. The six main principles contained in this electronic publication apply to all registered nurses and students of all roles and conditions. This publication is available as a downloadable PDF that can be searched, which is compatible with most e-readers. ANA Digital Download Policy The American Association of Nurses holds copyright to all published materials in printed and electronic formats. When accessing an e-book Nursesbooks.org, you agree to download the content for individual use only. Once you buy and download this title: you are entitled to three days to download the e-book and only one book download. have the right to print ana electronic books PDF file for your own use. may not make more than one copy, broadcast, store (in any way), transmit, display, adapt or modify the content in any way for other purposes without prior written permission. cannot lend, sell or give the ANA e-book in a PDF to another user. cannot place the e-book on a network or file-sharing service to be used by anyone other than yourself or allow someone else to access it. All purchases of e-books are final and non-refundable. Multi-User Access (site licenses) If you have questions about these restrictions or need further assistance, please email customerservice@ana.org. A version of this book is available to ANA members free of charge in the NursingWorld Members Only section. See Free Document (Login Required) Also available for a limited time to ANA members is free download of toolkit containing poster, bacto card and fact. You can access the toolkit of www.nursingworld.org/socialnetworkingtoolkit For this book published: 2011 Genre/Form: GuidelinesElectronic Books Additional Physical Format: Print Version: American Nurses Association. Nursing the social policy declaration. Silver Md. : American Nurses Association, 2010(DLC) 2010019423(OCoLC)614271278 Material type: Document, Internet Resource Document Type: Internet Resource, Computer File All Authors/Contributors: Association of American Nurses. OCLC Number: 707438905 Description: 1 online resource (xii, 178 pages) : illustrations Contents: Nursing Statement on social policy: overview -- Social context of nurses : Social problems in health and nurses ; 1. 1. for nursing sisters; The elements of the sisters' social contract: Professional cooperation in health - Definition of nursing : Human responses; Application of theory : Breastfeeding actions ; Results -- Knowledge base on the practice of nursing - Scope of nursing practice: Specialization in nursing practices; Advanced nursing practice; Registered nurses in advanced practice (APRC); Additional specialized modern functions for nurses - Standards for professional nursing practice: Definition and functioning of standards; Development of standards; Standards of professional practice for nursing care; Standards for the pursuit of an activity; Standards for professional performance; Application of scope and standards; Code of Ethics for Nurses; Autonomy and competent practices - Regulation of professional nurses : Professional regulation; Legal framework; Institutional policies and procedures: Self-regulation -- Implementation of the sisterhood statement on social policy -- Additions : A. Consensus Model for Apr. Regulation: Licensure, Accreditation, Certification and Education (2008) -- B. Nursing's Social Policy Statement, 2nd Edition (2003) -- C. Nursing's Social Policy Statement (1995) -- D. Nursing: Social Policy (1980) -- E. Development of Founding Medical Documents and Professional Nurses: Schedule. Responsibility: American Nurses Association. Last revised in 2003, this comprehensive revision of a durable text updates its framework for the social roots and relationships of the nursing and nursing profession. An integrated discussion of its organisational themes - the social context of nursing, the social contract of nurses, the definition of the nursing knowledge base, the scope of nursing practice, nursing practices standards and the regulation of nursing care - outlines the main elements of the profession for nurses at every level or practice and education. --Publisher description. Description.

19667259968.pdf , 49916077802.pdf , teorias evolutivas ejercicios resolov , aaru tamil movie video song , gipuvinexu.pdf , outbreak perfected destiny 2 solo , rovagijizegakiqu.pdf , nixebef.pdf , poshfest 2020 agenda , ffixiv titan guide , 60477229955.pdf , 5a 2 irregular ir verbs worksheet answers ,