The boat. Valencia's comic book room has always been a disappointing dream, with several projects that have never been stabilized, despite the potential presupposing to the Valencian community, both in development and editing. Two years ago, after hosting an event with the Comic Con brand in Valencia, everything changed. Over the weekend, about 20,000 people attended the Valencia, everything changed. Over the weekend, about 20,000 people attended the Valencia, everything changed. Over the weekend, about 20,000 people attended the Valencia, everything changed. the company that owns the international brand had ceased its project, but Feria Valencia ensured that the event would continue to take place on behalf of Salón del Comic de Valencia and that the authority's management would be integrated. Yesterday, La Nau's responsible team, which did not change last year, delivered for the first time a new life in the cabin, partly surrounded by all the alliances that weave to better integrate the Valencian sector, both in creativity and in the edition. Salon has signed contracts with the President of comics at the University of Valencia (who will take over the awards and advise the team in conference programming), with the National Editorial Association Valenci (which will have a famous exhibition space in visibility and space), with the Spanish Writers' Association or with the Spanish Writers' Association or with the Spanish Writers' Association or with the Spanish Writers' Association Valenci (which will have a famous exhibition space in visibility and space), with the Spanish Writers' Association or with the Writers' Assoc sector. We not only want cabin fans and geeks, but we are also looking for it to be a professional event, said Project Manager Armando Nsue. It also stresses that, despite the fact that valencia was in the centre of the room, it seeks to be international. When asked about Comic Con Heritage, from the new Comic Book Hall they say they hope to make a better case not because last year was worse, but because they learned everything. A small programming preview of Marvel cartoonist Salva Espín rose toned Deadpool on the back of a unicorn on the official comic book poster, which will take place from February 28 to March 1 at the Valencia Fair with a dichotomy at the center of the motion between heroes and villains. For his part, the content director degreased with approved quotes, although he emphasized that there are still four months left and more will come. So, the exhibitions of Manuel Gago were planned. From Valencia to the World, the first important history of the author of El Guerrero del Antifaz, considered one of Valencia's most important comic book authors 'Save Espín. More than 10 years leaves its mark on Marvel and High Voltage and Placa del Mercat. Magazines that roar from Valencia. In addition, because of your heroes and villains, you know them in different areas of personalities who will share who their hero and favorite villain is, and Neighbor, a choice that coincides with the publication of the premiere of this graphic novel by Netflix, and do you draw or draw? A walk through art with the comic hand will reach a certain place in the field of the city of Valencia, where it will be supervised for several weeks. It also confirmed his presence as cartoonist Jordi Bernet, who jumped to popularity with Torpedo in 1936; Marika Vila, a comic book author who developed her work with a strong political commitment to feminism at a time when she was forced to pursue opposing projects: in the 1970s; and Valencians Paco Roca, Sento, Cristina Durán, Miguel Angel Giner Bou and Luis NCT. The presence of industries such as the audiovisual sector and the interior will be one of the keys to this event, so they will be displayed during the exhibition through exhibitions, talks, seminars and other activities. So the showroom will also host the work of the film Secret Origins and video game Blacksad, under the skin, which adapts the most influential and exclusive European comics universe, Blacksad, Juanjo Guarnido and Juan Díaz Canales. It will also develop activities that comic book children and a prestigious jury, coordinated by the President of comics at the University of Valencia, will reward the best children/youth comics, the best international comics, the best international comics and the best social graphic novel. VALENCIA (EP). Feria Valencia will host from 28 February to 1 March 2020, a major event dedicated to the city's comics, so that this next edition will be renamed Salon del Cómic de Valencia, and the fair office will organise it 100%. This was announced in the entity's statement, in which it also stressed that the quote would follow a model launched in previous editions called Heroes Comic Con Valencia to continue to offer visitors a unique experience. Sources in Feria Valencian salon under the company's Comic Con brand, the institution decided to take advantage of the two years of training and take over the reins of the event completely. The same sources claimed that the proposal would be continuity with similar activities and soon to be announced, because this is a cultural event that would have a great interest in the city. In fact, the previous edition brought together about 24,000 people. In this way, exhibitions, workshops, children's area, comic book sales stands, merchandise, author's signatures or the opportunity to meet the names of the universe of television series will first-hand the program of activities that are already under going into formation. Cabin drivers have also advanced that Salva Espín, a Spanish cartoonist of Marvel Comics since 2012, will make an official poster. The author who studied and graduated from Valencia. Espín is one of the official Deadpool cartoonists. Recently, he starred in a powerful viral social media story, making a comic book for this character on the television show La Resistencia, hosted by comedian David Broncano. The consumer response was not constantly waiting and within 24 hours the comics sold out and within 48 hours it reached astronomical prices for auction applications. Cooperation with uvin chairman In addition to the first innovations of the salon, emphasizes the signing of a cooperation agreement between the organization and the President of the celebration and organisation of different actions. In this sense, it should be noted that the President, whose leader is the critic and promoter Alvaro Ponsas, began to cooperate with the salon in the tasks of consultation and support. There is also a desire to create alliances and collaborations between the two entities to invite the author, either during the hall celebration, sooner or later. It is therefore a longterm strategic alliance to go beyond the scope of the event, they conclude. Make up.
