Chinese checkers online unblocked

Opponent Guest Player The goal of the Chinese checkers is to move all their blue balls (pins/pieces) from the blue initial triangle base to the base of the green triangle through the starboard. RULES OF MOTION You can move the marble into the space right next to it. You can jump over another marble in a straight - even skipping empty spaces. After jumping over the marble, you can use the same marble to jump again in the same order. You can't stop moving in a triangle base that isn't yours or the opponent's green triangle base, but you can jump in and out of these bases during a turn. HELPFUL CHINESE LADY STRATEGIES & TIPS Find the longest bouncing path: Get as many balls out of the blue triangle as possible and start move them up to the board. Then look at the longest ladder or chain there and use it to move your end balls overboard as quickly as possible. Stay centered: The shortest path between two points is a straight line. Whenever possible, build chains to go right through the center of the board. The more your balls move to the side, the longer it will take them to reach their final destination. No laggards: Some players want to leave the marble behind so their opponent can't fill the entire triangle. The problem is, eventually you have to move the marble to the board. And if there is no chain for it to use, it will take forever that last marble to make it into the target triangle. It is best to get all your balls moving on board as quickly as possible, because stragglers will do nothing but slow down. Look at the whole board: Most of the time, the balls can move much further than you realize. Be sure to search for each stroke option that is marked in red before deciding where to go. You will be surprised how quickly some of your balls can move around the board. Defend at the end: Towards the end of the game, it is much easier to see what moves each player must do in order to win the game. Remember that you and your opponent can jump over each other's pieces. So do not leave the pieces in place if they help the opponent more than they will help you.
