

I'm not robot

Continue

Best friends trivia board game

Warm hearts for the neck noses of 1946, the Humane Society of Pulaski County, located in Little Rock, Arkansas, was making a difference in the life of domestic animals in Central Arkansas. We maintain a private, kill-free shelter, which is supported only by donations, fundraisers, covenants and grants. We do not receive any city, county or state funding, nor are we affiliated with any other organization. The Humane Society mission in Pulaski County is to save, rehabilitate, provide veterinary care, spay/neutral, and find loving homes for Arkansas Central dogs and cats in need. Our shelter pulls animals from overcrowded shelters in the city and county, from the surrenders of owners, abused pets and/or unwanted injuries and occasional stray ones. There are usually about 200 animals under our roof at a time, with about half of those available for adoption, and the other half being treated by our internal veterinary staff until they can be released for adoption. We are also Arkansas's only 4 star rated animal welfare charity, so rated by charity Navigator. We are proud to be recognized for our tax responsibility, transparency and hard work. You can donate with peace of mind, knowing that money is used wisely. Learn More News & Education Upcoming Events In response to COVID-19 and recommendations on social distancing, we are matching the adopter to pets through the ONLY online process. Please fill out an adoption application to let us know which dog or cat you are interested in and a little bit about yourself. We'll respond back by e-mail. All adoptable dogs and cats are online, with changes posted as soon as new pets are available or adopted. We are committed to finding the best possible homes for our dogs and cats. The animals in our care often came to us because of abuse, neglect or abandonment. Sometimes they were taught by a person who could not take care of them properly. But because they were lucky enough to find themselves at HSPC, these animals have a second chance. They've already had a hard life, so we owe it to them to screen their new families very carefully - and we'll take our screening process very seriously. We want the foster homes of these animals to be safe, loving and permanent! We go to great lengths to ensure a good match between an animal and the new family environment. We want your animals and families to be safe and happy. Our adoption policies reflect this commitment. Our adoption screening process includes: Completing a thorough application Providing proof of address Maybe allowing us to a home check We often ask adopters to bring their dogs to safety to meet the dog they would like to adopt. We review each application individually, so that adopters must give sufficient time to visit with the animals, complete the application and interview with our adoption staff. All must be at least 21 years of age. Our adoption fee is $75 until December 31, 2020. This includes photos of immunization, micro-chipping, worming, sterilization and any other medical care needed to make the animal healthy and ready for adoption. Support for post-adoption behavior is also available. Please note that we do not approve every application for adoption we receive. If we believe for any reason that the animal does not match an applicant, we reserve the right not to approve the adoption. Adopting an animal is a long-term commitment that should not be made in a hurry, so take your time in making the decision to adopt! Carefully consider the time, money and energy it takes to take care of a four-legged family member. Consider adopting an older animal instead of a puppy or kitten. Or take care of a special needs pet. Or get two playmates together. We have dozens of big pets that need good homes. Let us help you find the right one for you! Call us at (501) 227-6166 or email us at petinfo@warmhearts.org for more information. The cat app and the dog app are now available as online forms. After filing, you can track with an email to info@warmhearts.org or by placing a phone call at (501) 227-6166 for status. If you are interested in a particular animal, tracking with and email and/or phone call is the best way to ensure that the application is processed in a timely manner. Because shelter dogs are full of love! Because I know you saved them and I love you more for it? I can't say for sure, but yes. Jokes aside, there are three things all shelter dogs need to thrive in their new home: Dogs shelter older in general 1+ years, may have experienced a lot of trauma, which often leads to one of 8 common behavior problems: Anxiety Agress to people & pets Resource guard Destructive behavior Housetraining regression Poor social skills Leaves reactivity & barrier related to aggression Constant whining These problems are correct Your dog's not broken, they're just damaged. You can fix them with enough love, patience and a good training plan. During the COVID-19 pandemic, finding good dog trainers can be hard. Like everything else, dog training only moves. but there are great dog trainers online who have proven to work and can help get new puppies on track. The Humane America Animal Foundation, dba Adopt-a-Pet.com, is a non-profit, tax deductible 501 (c) (3) adoption of advertising charity. Our mission (and passion) is to help take animals homeless company in shelters and loving homes. Tell us what you think! Special thanks to our sponsors, Purina, Chewy and PetBasics, whose support makes our life-saving work possible. Humane Societies, Animal Shelters Be the first to review! Please contact your business for updated hours/services thanks to the COVID-19 opinion. Is that your job? Personalize home page. Claim this business Hours Regular Hours Mon - Friday 11:00 am - 5:30 pm Sat - Sun 11:00 - 5:00 pm Payment method check, discover, all major credit cards, visa, mastercard AKAHumane Society-Pulaski County Little Rock Humane Society Other Link Societies, Animal Shelters Other Information Parking: Lot, Free Wheelchair Accessible: Yes Be First to Add a Photo! People also Viewed North Little Rock (2 miles) College Station (5 miles) Sweet Home (5 miles) Sherwood (6 miles) Mabelvale (8 miles) Gibson (10 miles) Maumelle (11 miles) Wright Sville (11 miles) Alexander (12 miles) Scott (12 miles) Tell us the story about you met your furry best friend and help other pet lovers discover the joys of pets! Tell us your story The Human Society of Pulaski County is always in need of your help in the form of donations. We offer you several ways to contribute. See our list of donation options below. Donate now to support the animals in central Arkansas and beyond. We will confirm your gift with a card for the family or friends you honor. Become a member and join our rescue mission! Choose HSPC as the recipient of a donation every time you shop on Amazon! HSPC support by purchasing a brick to be added to Legacy Sidewalk. Food, supplies, toys – we always need more. Our wish list is here! Donate your car, truck, SUV, boat, motorcycle, ATV, RV, or trailer, and help shelter. Leave a legacy of love by remembering HSPC in your estate or long term offering goals. Purchase an HSPC 2021 wall calendar with pets from our Spring Photo Contest. Little Rock Non Profit Organizations 14600 Colonel Glenn Rd Humane Society of Pulaski County Arkansas Little Rock AR Non Profit Organizations Humane Society Pulaski County www.warmhearts.org adoption of Arkansas cats dogs horses do not kill human abuse shelter animal sanctuary pets welfare adoption arkansas cats dogs horses do not kill abuse human shelter rescue animal welfare Business Reviews Humane Society Pulaski Testimonials County Adoption, Arkansas, Cats, Dogs, Horses, No Kill, Abuse, Human, Shelter, Rescue, Sanctuary, Animals, Welfare Humane Society Pulaski County Reviews & Ratings Be the first person to leave a comment. Send your review is there anything more synonymous with family fun or than a good old-fashioned competitive board game? Did your expert knowledge of 80-year-round pop artists resist Grandpa's ability to remember the Ryder Cup winners? Trivia Board Games are totally inclusive and, to of other favorites for seasonal get-togethers, Twister, does not need you to limber up your body beforehand, just remember memory! So if you're a real random fact horder and know a thing or two about pop culture, politics, sports, and current events, then you'll be fine on board with our best selection Board games. There is bound to be one in our selection below that suits you up to a T and plays to your knowledge and that competitive spirit. So let's not trifle around (pardon the pun!) let's take a look at the games that will take the boredom factor out of that next family event. Best Trivia Board Game See More Comments See More Reviews Play Monster sounds like an easy game to play, but can get fast and furious and difficult as you have to think quickly about the spot and come out with the first answers that enter your head in this 5-second rule game. Some of the answers might be hilarious as your family members are put on the spot trying to name 3 famous bald people, 3 types of hats or 3 brands of deodorant! You never know what might come out of your mouth when you're on the clock and under pressure. There are 576 different questions over 288 cards, plus a timer that adds a sense of tension to this board game. Everyone only has 5 seconds to respond. No exceptions! See More reviews See More Second Reviews in the best trivia roundup board games we have a 2000 take on the ever-more popular classic family board game by Trivial Pursuits. This special edition version features 300 new trivia cards with 1800 questions over 6 categories, but the topics are all exclusive since 2000. Categories include Places, Entertainment, Events, Arts, Science, and Tech, as well as Sports and Hobbies. It's great for a family night's game and fun for everyone to get involved in. Players must move around the board answering questions to receive feathers, and there is a new twist to this version with players who have the additional option to stump or answer. If you can block your opponent, you can win, even if you didn't know the answer yourself. See More Reviews See More Reviews Think you know the consumer logo, then you are going to love this fun Logo game, which is perfect for the whole family to get involved in and play together. From chocolate bars to cereal, football to flowers, so many brands have iconic logos, but will you be able to accurately recognize and name them all when they are under pressure? Do you also know interesting facts about your favorite brands too? The board game comes with everything you need to get directly into the game action and can be played by groups or individually. It is best suited for the age of 12 and up to 6 players or teams. 400 playing cards test your consumer knowledge and provide hours of family fun. See More Reviews See More Reviews Looking to Invest in a New Trivia Game for Adults, then Wit's is a real challenge and could really test the intelligence of family and friends. It's a game that is certainly going to work out which it has the most common knowledge, and for that reason, while it's designed as most games to be played with anywhere from two to six players, you might instead to create teams so you can easily pit your intelligence against each other! Due to the challenging content of some of the trivia questions, it is more suitable for adults aged 18 up, although game makers recommend the right age for 16-year-olds. There are four different categories of questions that need to be answered: Odd 1 Out, Teaser, Sequence and Wild Cards. They cover all sorts of diverse and interesting categories, such as pop culture, science and geography. It's a fun, addictive and challenging trivia-based adult game. Be sure to also check out our guide to the best two-player board games. See more Comments See more Comments If your idea of a fun trivia game is a noisy and raucous one, then you need Smart Ass in your life! It's the fast-paced trivia game at University Games that you don't have to wait your turn to respond. If you've solved the clues, shout your answer. It has been designed to be played with anywhere from two to six players and is more suitable for teens and adults. There are 400 different question cards included, and participants take their turn to roll jumbo dice and read the clue on their question card. If you think you know the answer, don't be shy, just go ahead and be a smart ass! Blurt it the right way, and you'll win. The gameplay is fast and furious, and there are varying degrees of difficulty within the deck of cards to keep the game challenging and exciting for the whole family. Be sure to also check out our list of the best family board games for more great items like this. See More comments See more reviews A favorite family business and a main event after dinner at many a Christmas meeting, Hasbro Trivia still ranks as one of the best trivia games around despite being first introduced back in 1980. It is accessible and challenging, and this classic version contains thousands of difficult questions in a wide range of categories that will test the spirit and brain power of the whole family. It is best suited for players aged 16 up, due to the complexity of some of the questions and can be played by two to six people at a time. We love the retro style with feathers that have to be completed to win the game. There are 2400 trivia questions in total in six categories: geography, entertainment, history, art and literature, science and nature, plus sports and leisure. It's certainly hard, and you could spend hours playing before a winner is crowned! See More Comments See More Hilarious family fun trivia game where all that matters is that the phone is smart and not you. Phever's phone covers six different trivia categories and is full of Phun Phacts and Phiction questions. There are 1200 fascinating questions and fun challenges based on music, movies, TV, law and politics, history and technology or a little bit almost everything else. No app is required, but the internet and smartphone are. Learn, laugh and have fun playing this award-winning phone-based game. See More Reviews A fun packed game that takes its cues from the original snap game and combines it with Trivia to create a fast-paced and lively game. Each player must flip through a stack of cards and with eagle eyes of precision and lightning quick answers, match with a symbol and a trivia category. Reveal two similar symbols and the race is on to reveal the category. The winner gets to keep the card, and the tension continues as each flip card creates another race in this sprint trivia game! See more reviews See more reviews! provides a unique gaming experience that should even out the playing field so to speak. So often with trivia games, it won't be that one knows everything around the board, which always seems to win! With this game, at least, in theory, more people should be in with a shot of being victorious. Designed for two to six players and best suited for adults there are 400 question cards, a board, six iKNOW chips and, six iBET chips, as well as 25 black and white chips. Everyone has a chance to respond to trivia cards with the help of three clues. Nothing too unique so far that you're probably thinking about, right? Well, here's the interesting part. Competitors guess how many clues you are going to ask to answer the question correctly and then bet these chips on this item. So even if you're knowledgeable it's not the best, you might just have a knack for knowing how smart one of your opponents is! The questions cover topics such as pop culture, fashion, sport, and history. It's a big game once you get it. See more comments See more reviews You should have known this! It's addictive and extremely fun board game that will have you telling you I should have known that! There are over 400 questions about things you really should know about and you'll have to tell DOH more often than Homer Simpson! Suitable for fourteen upwards and for 2 players or more is seriously a total hoot! Rather than earn points, you've got it from you, if you guess incorrectly. Typical questions include, what is the character limit for tweets on Twitter?. As the eponymous game, you really should have known this! Our handy guide to the best solo board games features more great products like this. See More Comments See More Reviews This is a North Star betting game as much as Trivia is, hence the name as your goal is to bet on much spirit and intellect you think your opponents have. There are seriously random and obscure questions based around statistics that none of you are actually likely to know the right answer to. would be the age of the oldest cat in the world! Everyone has to write their best then place a bet on who they think is likely to have received the closest to the correct answer. This adds another level of fun to the game and more strategy too, which can build on the tension around the table. It's more fun if there are at least three of you and it can be played all ages six and up. Make sure you don't bet all your money! See More comments See more reviews Una for movie buffs among you. This is a fun Spin Master trivia game that will just be perfect for your next meeting with friends and family. It puts your knowledge of popular movies and television series to the test and will quickly highlight who Goggle Box is in your home! It comes with over 400 trivia cards, is best suited for adults and can be played with two to six people. There are questions about dozens of iconic shows and movies from Grease to Glee and Godfather. As you play along, you may need to identify logos, answer questions about characters, or other key aspects of the show. Hours of fun and entertainment for anyone who loves the silver screen! See More Reviews See More Reviews For those of you who still love traditional board game, but quite frankly have just got a little bored of the concept and want to switch things a little this Christmas, then Linkee is worth a look-see! Rather than just answer the challenge trivia questions, players race against each other to work on the connections between the questions and have to shout them as soon as they are figured out. Better yet, it can be played with anything up to 30 people, and there are 1,400 questions, so none of you should get bored any time soon. The idea is that you will answer each of the four questions on the card and then try to determine what their link is. As soon as you think you know, shout Linkee to win. It's a fast-paced game and great fun for the whole family. Perfect for small and larger groups there are questions based on pop music, movies, popular TV shows and culture. See More Reviews See More Reviews The complete 80s and 90s trivia-based card game, which really is like a blast from the past. Do you know what shoes Michael Jordan introduced in 1985? Do you remember what Belinda Carlisle's girl band was part of? With this card game, your knowledge of the two iconic decades will be tested to the fullest in this high-energy family game and fun. See More Reviews See More Reviews Our Final Review sun today on this Best Trivia Games roundup board goes to hilarious game for where Fame. To form, you don't really need any kind of talent to win! There are no complicated rules to learn, just get into your teams, choose a money maker card and be prepared to scream and cry with laughter as you have all sorts of challenges to undertake. It's good old-fashioned fun for the whole family and will make a great addition to the Christmas line p of games to Who can do the best Russian accent? Can you guess the song that your grandfather is trying to gargle? These are just some of the stupid activities you will have to play in this rag game to riches, which will have the whole family quite literally in the seams! Stitches!