Dynamic laws of healing pdf

Articles by Dr. Friedman (unless otherwise stated) on dynamic laws of healing-A SummaryDr. Christiane Northrup[Dr. Christiane Northrup's Health Wisdom for Women, April 2004][Affirmations from Catherine Ponder's book The Dynamic Laws of Healing (DeVorss & company 1989) Note: This summary of Catherine Ponder's dynamic laws on healing by popular health educator and author Dr. Christiane Northrup presents on the condition that these laws, applications and affirmations can be helpful in creating a willing , an open and inclusive context to discover and debunk the prosperity you have and claim in your life. Affirmations can serve as a vision that is held in the present that can give a clear direction to thought, feelings, attitudes and behaviors, and only really make any positive difference along with repeated daily application direct actions. They don't have magical wishes, hopes or promises to create later that disappointed that they didn't materialize. Here it must not be taken literally, considered a gospel, rigidly fundamentalist truth, or set aside for the proselytization and enrollment of others. Like all devices, it can be used or used back. Let this summary be for you and everyone's well-being. Enjoy. - Will Joel Friedman, Ph.D.* I've put together Catherine Ponder's healing laws so you can refer to them easily, as part of your regular health routine. These laws have transformed my life. And I sincerely pray that they did or will do the same for you. I suggest you apply them regularly in your life. They provide a solid foundation for health happiness, and freedom. Blessed be. The Healing Act of ChemicalizationWhen you put yourself on the road to better consciousness or improvement of any kind, you are introducing new chemicals to hope and happiness in your body and in your life. Everything in your body and in your life that can't handle the new, higher tension now appears, so it goes away. That's why things get worse before they get better. Applying the healing law to chemist: Do not be afraid. If you have a symptom during the chemical process, meet in amazement. Say to yourself, Wow. I'm really good at something. How impressive. Now I'm ready for more joy, happiness and fulfillment, otherwise that wouldn't happen. The No Law healingThis healing law involves the creative power of your mind and thoughts to say that no symptom or circumstance you do not want in your life. The non-law of healing does not deny the diagnosis or the symptom, denies the prognosis! If you deny the terrible consequences of the prognosis, you will be aligned with the law of attraction to get a better result. Applying the No Law of Healing: Use the following denial whenever necessary: This is not true. There's no evil. Only good comes from there is nothing to be afraid of, because in this situation there is no force that hurts or is damaged. My life (health, wellbeing, happiness, success) and my good can't be limited! I'm free and unbound. George Demont Otis The Back of White's Hill The Yes Law of this healingThe yes law of healing is based on the positive power of affirmations and words. Words have the dynamical ings to harm or heal, so they should be used consciously and carefully. Every word you say has its vibrations. And this vibration goes out into the atmosphere and attracts the energetic equivalent back to you of the law of attraction. Applying the Yes Law of Healing: Repeat the confirmations that inspire you as follows: I breathe divine love and consciousness in every breath, and my body, mind, spirit, and emotions pass, rejuvenated, and enlightened. Great prosperity, joy, peace, and health shine through me and in me, and I am free. My life is easy, enjoyable, and satisfying at every level. LoveLove's healing law awakens your heart and opens the body and soul to divine love. Unlike emotions like hate, re-resentment, or fear, which literally cuts off this vitality, love produces positive energy in the body. This can bring a deep recovery. Affirming divine love helps neutralize deadening emotions, creating the ground for health to be restored. Applying the healing law of love: Consciously bless, appreciate, and send divine love to all and everyone around you. Repeat the following statements: Divine love makes the perfect work in me, and through me now. Rest and rest in the healing power of divine love, and I have healed and lifted you up. My heart is full of divine love, and divine love will work on every miracle to be worked on. The healing law releaseAll intense emotional attachments such as possessiveness, control, or jealousy keep us bondage and puts our health at risk. They persevere, and in the past we are trapped, trapped in relationships that no longer serve us. Likewise, when we liberate the past, we open the door to healing energy to renew our bodies. Applying the Healing Law Release: We become masters of our own lives when we talk about heartfelt words about the release, and the person or thing that holds us back. Experiment: Now let go of everything, and everyone in the past or present has caused discomfort, through or around me. We are all free of greater fullness. I will liberate this situation completely and freely, and allow god's perfect good to manifest in all these changes. Only good comes from this. The healing law praises the law of attraction, which I praise extends and attracts Experience. Given that it is not surprising that praise and Thanksgiving can rely on great healing power. Weirds of praise will help improve the energy field around you The more you praise and thank for something, the more it grows in your life. Applying the Healing Law praise: That law of attraction works for you, not against you. Don't think about something you don't like, it just magnifies the problem, giving it negative power. No matter what condition you are in, you will find at least some part of your body to praise. Even if it's just eyebrows. You're grazing your blessings. The more you look, the more you'll find. It's magic. The mystical law of healingnow unhappy people have relationship problems, and they often breed health problems. You can cure unhealthy relationships by clearing inharmonious ideas for your thinking. The mystical law of healing accomplishes this process by writing a letter to the higher power or angel of the person who disturbs you living or dead-in secret. Applying the mystical law of healing: Don't worry about what you're going to write. Only the intention is to join the person's angel. You'll find that the right words just come to you. Once you start using this letter-writing technique, you will be surprised by the results. The healing law givingponder believes that stagnant energy congestion is the cause of the disease. The cure is to increase traffic. Because of the seamless relationship between our bodies, thoughts, and surroundings, it can increase blood circulation in the physical body by giving away something of value. And gifts of all kinds, be it kind words or money—are also an act of faith that opens the way for spiritual help. Applying the Healing Act, which is: If you want better health at all levels-physically or financially you have to get rid of congestion. This creates a vacuum that attracts new energy into your life. Remove clutter in your surroundings. Equally important: Give ten percent of your income to be a source of spiritual inspiration. Give freely without strings. This will open the floodgates of the thunder. The Imaging Act healingA imaging law healer attests to the creative power of thought. The thoughts we hold become a physical reality over time. Use your mind to imagine wellness, well-being, and peace of mind, but also a negative outcome. Applying the imaging law of healing: train your imagination by taking time every day to use it creatively. Imagining good health on an occasional basis isn't enough, you have to imagine intensity to be determined about how you want to feel and why. Think back to the days when health was at its peak and storing these moments in your memory bank. Return to them as often as necessary. This increases the power of the imagine. I confirm that I am a brilliant child of God. And my body, mind and soul become healthier and more vibrant every day. The hidden law of healing, the hidden power of which I am the expression. Stirs and awakens divine for I am the name of God. Name. You. Meditate consistently on the statement: I am the light of the world that can flood the whole creature with light and drive out darkness. Applying the hidden law of healing: Understand that I AM power is always within you and can be used at any time. Just repeat the words I'm in for five minutes. Notice how uplifted you feel. With this renewal comes the power to achieve new goals and overcome health problems. This day for a week, you will be amazed by the difference it makes. Before going to bed, let's say, I wake up in the morning, full of energy, brilliance and power, to accomplish the things I was born to do. I am health, strength, peace, happiness and prosperity. I'm happy, free, and lifted. I'm rested, I'm balanced, and I'm always in the right place. The Law of Surprise HealingA role of forgiveness in healing is still a surprise to most people. Think about it: It's an immutable spiritual and spiritual law that, if you have a health problem, you have a forgiveness problem. The act of forgiveness dissolves the negative memories and attitudes placed in our conscious and subconscious minds. Forgiveness does not mean that the hurtful events are in order or that the persons concerned were justified. Forgiveness isn't for someone who hurt you. They're doing it to free you from bondage. Applying the surprise law of this healing: Forgive me regularly, regardless of whether you think there is something to forgive. Forgive me even if it's not justified. This allows you to free the best possible life. And don't forget that sometimes you're the one who needs forgiveness the most. The Law of Miracle HealingA miracle law of healing, put forward by Catherine Ponder, involves referencing the wonderful power of healing through repetitive and calling the name of God. Know that you can access the miracle law of healing through repeating the name of God that most appeals to you, whether it be Jesus Christ, the Divine Mother, Allah, or the Great Goddess. Applying the Miracle Law of Healing: There is something very comforting and wonderful about faith, and knowing that there is a force greater than you who is present at all times and willing to lift the burden away from you. Anyone can let go and let God. All you have to do is call on that power, deliberately turning your attention to the Source and asking for help. George Demont Otis Mountains and Mountains
