As one of the oldest games on appstore it remains a classic that I repeat frequently. I can sit and shoot. 2k zombie terminal with quick matchmaking (praise for it) with up to 3 other people and all in less than ten minutes. Where the game falls short however is the presence of some bugs which make the investment longer into it tedious. The stock of turrets doesn't always continue between matches. SAS dollars where you win during solo clan PvP events refuse to be awarded even though I constantly collect the prerequisite points and place in qualifying award brackets (I haven't won a single SAS dollar yet). My AI 'friend', although powered and bladed, often doesn't spawn with me in games and thus does spend money on him pointlessly. Stock pomegranates, like turrets, often don't stay with you between matches meaning you have to use them when you pick them up or risk losing them. As it stands, the functions that 'should' perform properly work well and the game is playable and fun. But you have to ignore many of the current bugs and extra taps of the game or they will annoy you out of putting more time. I've enjoyed this game for a long time, and it's a great game nonetheless, but there are some issues I have when playing. The first problem is that when I finish an apocalypse game, returning to the main menu is can't do as the game collapses (but I still get the credits I earned like Cash and Z-Points). Also, I finish tournaments like Z-Rush and regular tournaments, but we won't be given a prize, when obviously we deserve one as we were in 10K at Z-Points and the rest around 1K or less, but we don't get any prize! The same event exists with regular tournaments, I literally finished a regular tournament with about 8K Z-points more than second place and when the tournament ended, it showed my reward and how many Z-Points I collected, both of which had something in common, zero! Please resolve this issue as soon as you can, thank you. We will do you to find in 2015 the main issues with this game is that it becomes boring because there are not enough things to do in this game, not enough guns, armor, upgrades, and missions/levels and if you decide to fix only this problem of all I can mention in my review I believe it will make SAS 3 a five star game. Another thing that bothers me and most others are upgrades, weapon upgrades need to be replaced with an optional weapon attachment, the number of attachments fitted should be limited as to reflect the reality and body armor upgrades need to be replaced with optional armor attachment, attached and also equipped to be limited as with weapons. If this does not work then almost anything except old irreversible five upgrades per sub will be fine (sub ie protection, health, fire rate, clip size, etc.). These are just some of my thoughts on this game. I hope you see this and fix these problems. I realize I'm one of many to deliver These changes may not be made. I respect your decision anyway.
