Mindless behavior bio

Mindless Behavior was an American boy band, best known for the singles Mrs. Right and My Girl, produced by Walter Millsap. The group signed with Interscope Records, Streamline, Sony/Epic and Conjunction Entertainment. Members The band was reunited in Los Angeles in 2008 by Walter Millsap (who has previously worked with Timbaland and Beyoncé), Keisha Gamble and Vincent Herbert (Toni Braxton, Lady Gaga). They have trained in singing and dancing for 2 years before releasing a recording. Princeton said: We clicked from the first day we met because we all love music and acting. On stage, we all go out. In November 2013, it was announced that singer Prodigy left the group to pursue a solo career. This left Ray Ray, Princeton and Roc Royal as a trio. In April 2014, Mindless Behavior announced that EJ will be the replacement for Prodigy and the band's new lead singer. In December 2014, Roc Royal was fired from Mindless Behavior due to his misbehavior. After this, Prodigy returned to the group to replace Roc Royal. In June 2015, Prodigy was replaced by a new member under the name Michael River (who is simply known as Mike). In September 2015, Ray Ray left Mindless Behavior to pursue a solo career. This left Mike, EJ and Princeton (who was the only original member of the group left) as a trio. They disbanded in February 2017. The real name Princeton Princetán (Jacob Perez), also known as Princeton Perez, is a former member of Mindless Behavior. Perez began his career at an early age when he appeared in television commercials for companies such as McDonald's, Nike and Sketchers. He was one of the first members to join the band and was the only original member to be in the group from 2008 until the end of the group's career in 2017. Perez was born on April 21, 1996, in Downey, California. Read full biography Along with producers Vincent Herbert (Toni Braxton, Destiny's Child, Lady Gaga) and Walter Millsap (Alicia Keys, Beyoncé), Mindless Behavior is a pop-R&B group with singers and dancers Princeton, Prodigy, Ray Ray and Roc Royal. The quartet signed with Interscope within half a year of its formation and debuted on the Billboard charts in February 2011 with their first single, My Girl, a sweet and crazy number in Justin Bieber's squeaky, clean vein and chris Brown's first album. Shortly after the release of the follow-up single, Mrs. Right, the group's first album, #1 Girl, debuted at number seven on the Billboard 200. Around the same time, Mindless Behavior graduated from Janet Jackson's opening at the head of her own U.S. tour. The group's second album, All Around the World, followed in March 2013. It entered the Billboard 200 at number six, but quickly disappeared from the chart and was a disappointment in terms of sales. Over the next two years, the group's membership suffered some turnover. EJ and Mike River replaced the late Prodigy and Roc Royal and recorded the group's third album, #OfficialMBMusic. The vocal focus and lyrical content were significantly different from the group's past, more rap-oriented and explicit. Mindless Behavior is a dynamic group of armed youth with unlimited talent, momentum, energy and an intrepid passion for music and acting. Just in his teens, the energetic fusion of the pop, hip hop and R&B quartet simply had the potential to transform the entire musical landscape as we know it. Composed of four energetic boys (all born in 1997) – Prodigy, Roc Royal, Ray Ray and Princeton – Mindless Behavior employs an elegant and futuristic crazy fashion style, epic dance moves and pop songs prepared for everyone. Its sound resonates with exuberant harmonies and messages that speak to listeners of all ages. Mindless Prodigy was named after his ability to quickly master all the new things related to dance and music. Ray Ray came under the ranks of the famous Los Angeles Battle Dancer The Clown. Roc Royal, who began rapping at the age of eight, also honed his dance team skills. And Princeton began at the age of four, appearing in television commercials for Skechers, McDonalds and Nike, as well as music videos. The shows offer high levels of energy during their sets, singing, rapping and dancing with a stage presence comparable to the big ones. Teenage girls, in particular, went crazy when the boys arrived on stage for their tour of Los Angeles high schools and opening sets with the Backstreet Boys (This Is Us 2010) and Justin Bieber (Pop-con 2010). Watch Mindless Behavior on the set of your first My Girl video! Listen to my girl here! His movement is redefining the meaningless word and sending a powerful and much-needed message to young people. Senseless behavior is an effortless new way of thinking that promotes individuality. If you're confident and not afraid to stand out, you don't make sense. If you get good grades at school, you don't make sense. If you express yourself, you don't make sense, the group commented. Music supports your message and meaningless lifestyle. Mindless Behavior's upcoming album, #1 Girl, pits teenage love against each other in explosive party records, funny mid tempos and introspective ballads. The first single from the album My Girl is a bubbly and infectious track produced by Walter Millsap. The song is about how much our girl loves us, she texts us all the time, sending us a 1-4-3, Princeton said. Ms. Right's driving energy warms the dance floors with another Millsap offering, which also produced the outstanding 1st Crush. In the Ballad powered by the Future piano, young romantics imagine everything they can take care of their daughters once they are old enough. They team up with superstar producer Polow Da Don for I Love You. Senseless behavior Even though meaningless behavioral members are only 13 years old, their sound is universal and appeals to the masses. I think everybody can relate to our songs, Princeton said.
