Courage cites by passing fear1. You are not necessarily born with courage, but it is born with potential. Without courage, we cannot practice any other virtue consistently. We cannot be kind, true, merciful, generous, or honest. Maya Angelou2. Without courage, wisdom bears no fruit. Baltasar Gracian3. Life shrinks or expands proportionally to someone's courage. - Anais Nin4. When things go wrong as sometimes they go, When the path you're walking seems all up, when the funds are low and the debts are high, and you want to smile, but you have to sigh, when the care is pressing you downA little if you should, but you do not give up. Success is failure turned inside out, the silvery hue in the clouds of doubt, and you can never tell how close you are, can be close when it seems far away. So continue the fight when you're the hardest hit it's when things go wrong that you shouldn't give up. - Unknown5. Of all forms of caution, caution in love is perhaps the most fatal for true happiness. Bertrand Russell6. The best way out is always through. Robert Frost7. Just be strong, and very brave, then you will make your way prosperous, and then you will have good success. Joshua 1:7-88. The greatest test of courage on Earth is to endure defeat without losing heart. - R. G. Ingersoll9. It's not the critic who counts, not the man who points out how the strong man tripped, or where the doer of acts could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who is really in the arena, whose face is marked by dust, sweat and blood, who strives bravely, who errs and comes short again and again, who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, and spends himself on a worthy cause, which in the best hypotheses knows the realization and who at worst if he fails at least though bold enough that their place will never be with those cold and shy souls who know neither victory nor defeat. Theodore Roosevelt10. Do not be discouraged; is often the last key in the group that opens the lock. - UnknownCourage Quotes about life11. To dare is to lose your foot momentarily. Not to dare is to lose yourself. - Soren Kierkegaard12. Remember that failure is an event, not a person. - Unknown13. Whatever you do, you need courage. Whatever course you decide, there is always someone to tell you that you are wrong. There are always difficulties arising that try to believe that your critics are right. Ralph Waldo Emerson14. Courage is rightly esteemed the first of human gualities... because it is guality that guarantees everyone else. Winston Churchill15. The encouraging thing is that every time you find a situation, although you can think of the impossibility and you go through the tortures of the damned, once you met her and lived through it you discover that forever after you are freer than you have ever been before. If you can live through it you can live through anything. You gain strength, courage and confidence for every experience in which you stop to look fear in the face. You are able to tell yourself: I have lived this horror. I can take the next thing that comes with it. The danger lies in refusing to face fear, not to dare to deal with it. If you fail anywhere along the line, this will take away your confidence. You must make yourself successful every time. You should do the thing you don't think you can do. - Eleanor Roosevelt, You Learn Living (1960)16. The desire for security is against all great and noble enterprises. - Tacitus, Roman historian Cites about courage and success17. I love the man who can smile in trouble, who can gather strength from anguish, and grow brave by reflections. Thomas Paine18. There is nothing in the world as a man who knows how to endure unhappiness with courage. Seneca19. Bravery is a complicated thing to describe. You can't say it's three feet long and two feet wide and that it weighs 400 pounds or that it's bright blue colored or that sounds like a piano or that smells like roses. It's a quality, not a thing. Mickey Mantle, The Quality of Courage is doing what you're afraid to do. There can't be courage unless you're afraid. - Eddie Rickenbacker, hero of World War 121. Fight hard when you're down; die harddetermine at least do-and you will not die. - James H. WestYou may also like these quotes and sayings of insecurity to help you gain confidence. Inspiring quotes of courage about fighting for your dreams22. Whatever your gender or position, life is a battle in which is to show your your and there to be for the coward. Whether passed in a sick bed or in a tent field, it's always the same fair game and admits no silly distinction. Despair and postponement are cowardice and defeat. Men were born to succeed, not to fail. Henry David Thoreau23. What discants winners from losers is how a person reacts to every new twist of fate. Donald Trump24. Courage is not limited to the battlefield or the Indianapolis 500 or bravely catching a thief in your home. The real tests of courage are much quieter. It's internal testing, like staying faithful when no one is looking, how to lasting pain when the room is empty, how to be alone when you're misunderstood. Charles Swindoll25. Never let the fear of knocking out get in your way. Babe Ruth26. No captain can do much wrong if he puts his ship next to the enemy. Admiral Horatio Nelson27. [Admiral Nelson's lawyer] guided me several times. On the eve of the critical battle of Santa Cruz, in which Japanese ships outnumbered our sums of more than two to one, I sent my task force commanders this dispatch: REPEATED ATTACK ATTACK. They attacked, heroically, and when the battle was over, the enemy walked away. All problems, personal, national or combat, become minor if you do not dodge them, but confront them. Touch a thistle timidly, and it stings you; grab him boldly, and his pimples crumble. Take the battle to the enemy! Put your ship next to his! Admiral William Bull Halsey28. Trust the still small voice that says, this can work and I'll try. Diane Mariechild29. Come to the limit, he said. They've come. He pushed them, and they flew ... - Guillaume Apollinaire, French poetCourage cites about strength and love30. Never forget that no military leader has ever become great without audacity. Karl von Clausewitz31. Courage goes from failure to failure without losing enthusiasm. - Winston Churchill, British Prime Minister32. Looking at something like you've never seen it before takes a lot of courage. Henri Matisse33. Courage is resistance to fear, mastery of fear - not the absence of fear. It's just that a creature is a cowardly part, it's not a compliment to say it's brave. - Mark Twain, The Tragedy of Pudd'nhead Wilson34. Courage is to be scared to death, but saddling up anyway. - John Wayne35. Start now. The moment it is definitely committed, providence also moves. All kinds of things occur to help one that would never have occurred otherwise. A whole host of events issues from the decision, raising in favor of all sorts of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance that no man could have dreamed of would have come in his a thought that lasts a long time. Paul Valéry37. In the old dispute between popularity and principle, only those willing to lose by their convictions deserve the approval of posterity. Gerald R. Ford38. To discover your true potential, you must first find your own limits and then you have to have the courage to go through them. Picabo Street39. Courage is more exciting than fear and in the long run it is easier. We don't have to become heroes overnight. Just one step at a time, knowing every thing that comes along, seeing it is not as terrible as it seemed, discovering that we have the strength to cover it up. - Eleanor Roosevelt, You Learn Living (1960)40. I have endured a great deal of ridicule without much malice; and have received much kindness, not too free from ridicule. I'm used to it. - Abraham Lincoln, November 2, 1863 in a letter to James H. Hackett41. Nothing in life is to be feared, it's just to be understood. Now is the time to understand more, so we can fear less. - Marie CurieCourage cites following your dreams42. Remember to look at the stars and not down at your feet. Try to understand what you see and wonder what makes the universe exist. Be curious. And as hard as life sounds, there's always something you can do and succeed. It matters that you don't give up. I know what I want, I have a goal, an opinion, I have a religion and love. Let me be myself and then I'm satisfied. I know I'm a woman, a woman with inner strength and a lot of courage. We need a backbone, not a lucky bone. Stories make us more alive, more human, braver, more loving. When I step on stage in front of thousands of people, I don't feel like I'm being brave. It may take a lot more courage to express true feelings to a person. [...] Despite the risks, the courage to be honest and intimate paves the way for self-discovery. It offers what we all want, the promise of love. Michael Jackson47. I told myself, Malala, you've already faced death. This is your second life. Don't be afraid - if you're afraid, you can't move on. The only tyrant I accept in this world is the 'still small voice' within me. And even though I have to face the prospect of being a minority of one, I humbly believe I have the courage to be in such a desperate minority. What we know matters, but who we are matters most. Courage is the first of human qualities because it is the quality that guarantees others. — AristotleCourage quotes you to help you find your inner bravery51. I ask you to take courage; the brave soul can fix Disaster. - Catherine the Great52. In the face of what is right, leaving it undone shows a lack of courage. Confucius53. Courage is the most important of all virtues because without courage, you cannot practice any other virtue consistently. Maya Angelou54. It takes courage to examine your life and decide that there are things you would like to change, and it takes even more courage to do something about it. Sue Hadfield55, Courage doesn't always roar. Sometimes courage is the guiet voice at the end of the day saving. I will try again tomorrow, - Mary Anne RadmacherMotivational
