A tourists, this is it It’s hard to find street parking in Brooklyn. If you are lucky enough to secure a parking space on the street, it may not be the best option if you’re head to a two- or three-hour concert or a comfortable dinner, as most spots have a one-hour meter. If you risk going through the meter time, you can definitely expect your ticket to the least, and possibly a tow as the meter-supervisors are attentive and don’t write tickets right away, even seconds after one meter expires. For these reasons, public transportation is the best option to get to downtown Brooklyn and the cultural center around the Brooklyn Academy of Music (BAM). If you choose to take the subway, you can choose from 11 lines or take the bus if you like. If you arrive by bike, barclays center has a free bike parking, which can use up to 400 bikes directly on site, but on a first come, first served order. However, if this option doesn’t work for you, read on to learn the best places to park in Fort Greene. There is affordable underground parking located on the Atlantic Center Mall behind the Pathmark Supermarket Store. This lot is also just a block from the indoor location of the Brooklyn Flea when it is held at the historic Williamsburg Savings Bank location during the colder months. However, the Atlantic Center Mall parking lot closes early, so those planning to dine in the area or who attend an evening performance at the Brooklyn Academy of Music should park in the academy parking lot instead. If you plan to go to a concert or show at the Barclays Center, you should know that the center does not have an on-site parking lot. This 18,000-seat venue was built on its current site because it is close to the Atlantic Avenue Subway Station, which has almost every subway line in New York City as well as the Long Island Railroad (LIRR) Station. It is designed with the assumption that the contortioners choose to use public transport in order to save time and money and reduce stress. If you can’t find a parking space at the Atlantic Center Mall, you may need to use your own garage nearby. This is by far the most expensive option, exceeding $40 an hour, in some cases, but doing some research in advance can help reduce costs. Websites like ParkWhiz offer significant discounts if you pre-pay before arrival. You can also make a map of your location and choose your garage based on the proximity of the site or the cost.
