We do this with a person-centred approach to coordinating care, promoting decisions and working with community partners. Year formed: 1964 Programs: Early Intervention (EI) Rest (Break Time) Family Support Quality Assurance Integrated Health (Developmental Disability Healthcare Center - DDHC) Research Service Coordination Populations Served: All Populations, Children and Young People, People Living with Disabilities, Seniors, Families We send long-term staff and short-term professionals to train leaders of emerging nations to train them in others – building nations and bringing hope to future generations. Rei's work is mani-like in every emerging country where we focus. In education and medicine, business and agriculture, highly qualified staff are training and developing others in six locations in Asia, and Africa.As is a non-profit, the organization and staff are financially supported by monthly and annual donations. Give today to be a part of the building people build nations! Rei staff and trainees are partners in six locations in Asia and Africa in the long term, and volunteers make short-term trips annually. If international development goals match ours, come with us. The cold store allows contincidence of fruits throughout the year drying out. The people of emerging nations are full of hope as their countries evolve and their lives are transformed it is our honor and privilege to serve more than 8,800 infants, children, teens, adults, and seniors in El Paso, Pueblo, Teller and Park counties. Resource Exchange (TRE) is associated with people who ask for support to access community resources and help them make informed decisions so they can live the life they want to live. Working with our customers, we help them navigate the complex support system our community has provided, and we walk together to help them achieve the quality of life they want, working closely with families who want to love them. TRE is affiliated with more than 100 social partners to whom we recommend our family. Our partners join TRE to increase the opportunities of the people we serve. OUR VALUES Respect: We respect and respect the inherent value of people and the unique contributions we make to our community. Similarly, we respect and value all employees and volunteers. Integrity: We do our business transparently, honestly and ethically. Partnership: We build mutual relationships with community partners that increase opportunities and high-quality services. Excellence: We dedicate ourselves to excellence in innovation because it's good enough just not good enough! Accountability: Everyone is accountable. At TRE, we strive to be nimble, relevant, sensitive, innovative, transformative and enterprising. We also welcome opportunities to answer questions and create new partnerships throughout our state, our country and the world. I hope you feel free to call us or email us; We invite you to learn to learn our history, meet our Board of Directors, familiar yourself with our work, understand our funding, but perhaps most of all, reflect the TRE's organizational values, the DNA that informs every decision we make, every new service line we make, every new relationship we make. cheadbatchelor@tre Thank you for your support and interest in resource exchange and the extraordinary people we proudly serve.
