Let the Hroggar House fire? He lost his wife and daughter in the flames. My people believe it to be cursed now. Who do I find them? —Idgrod Ravenrone[csr] Set of Rest is a request available at the Elder Scrolls V: Skyrim. This is a request that takes place in the city of Morthal. Before the question, Hrogar House burned down Hrogar's wife and child. The city, including Jarl's, are suspected because Hroggar was caught with a new love, Alva, days after the fire. Jarl's will pay the Dragonborn is investigating. If the elder Scrolls V: Hearthfire is installed, completion of this request is required before Windstad Manor can be purchased. Background[edit] source editor] A mysterious fire killed Hroggar's wife and children. Hroggar took Alva as a lover immediately after the fire, with many in Town thinking he did it. Jarl could afford me to investigate. Target [Editor] Edit Source] Talk to Investigate the Burning House tell Jarl about Helgi (if you want to) Find Helgi After Black Asks Around Laelette Ask Thonir About Laelte Investigating Alva's Home Show Alva's Journal of Jarl Killing the Vampire Owner Back in Jarl Walkthrough [Source Editor] This request could begin speaking to the common owner Moorside Inne , Jonna, who will mention the nearby burning house. Alternatively, Idgrod Ravenrone (or the Sorli Builder if the Dragonborn was sided with the Storm during the Civil War) may ask about the subject. The Dragonborn is allowed to speak to any of the Guards of Morthal to start the demands, as well as legate to the Imperial Inside Highmoon Hall. The demand initiative via Jonna, the Navy, or Legate's, will all result in the initial goal being spoken to Jarl's anyway. Note that the Dragonborn may have to enter the burning house for the owner of the house to option in dialog to talk to Jarl's. Speaking to Jarl [source editor] when asked about the burning house, Jarl will indicate that the house was once part of Hrogar, and that one night had been burned while he was away. Unfortunately, Hrogar's wife and daughter Hrogar, Helgi, perished in the flames. Rumours around town claim that Hrogar wore the blaze himself so that he could be with another woman, Alva. Jarl wants to know what really happened: accidents or murder. Investigate the burning house [editor] edit source] When they enter the burning house out, Helgi's ghostly will be waiting in the corner. He recounts what little he knows but promises to reveal more after a hidden game and find out. He wants to wait until evening, however, as one of the others will also be played and only out at night. Finding Helgi after darkness [source editor] Talking to Jonna at the Moorside Inn about the ghostly will cause him to ask the Dragonborn to talk to Jarl. Jarl reveals Helgi's location if the Dragonborn asks about it. Waiting until black will allow the request to continue. Above and on the right side of the house burns (on the rocks), the great pile of rocks that enclose a child's disk location. Laelette, the missing wife of Thonnir, will appear and attack dragonborn when approaching. When they killed her, she reveals that it was a steam. The Child's Ghost can be activated to talk to Helgi's ghostly. Helgi explains that Laelette was supposed to burn her and her mother, but she had a change of heart and tried to turn Helgi forward and keep him forever. Although Helgi was then contractor to Vampirism, Laelette waited too long with the fire to kill Helgi regardless. Asking Thonir about Laelette [source editor] Thonnir will arrive on the gris scene and be maniacatic in the eyes of his deceased wife, particularly that he was a vampire. When asked about the circumstances of Laelette's disappearances, Thonnir claims that he believed he was running toward stornace rebellion. However, she also remembered that she was spending a lot of time with Alva who, just the previous week, Laelette was s reviled. In fact, she was supposed to meet Alva the night of her extinction, but Alva said she never showed up. The etanda circumstances, it is presumed that Alva is, in fact, a vampire as well. Thonnir will refuse to believe it, however. Investigating Alva's Chamber [editor] source edit] Hrogar will stay in Alva's house and will likely be on arrival. It will be immediately aggressive, so a great Sneak skills, invisibility, a calm spelling, or some other such tactic can be employed if an armed showdown is to be avoided. Alva's brain can be found in the basement and in it, the Alva newspaper. Alva may or may not be presented depending on whether it is day or night. The Jump Journal of the Great in its plans and reveals that Movarh, a master vampire, plans on turning the city into what is equal to a bloody farm to cover its vampires. If Alva has when the headline recovered, he woke up with city flowers for the Movarh Lair. Show the Alva newspaper in Jarl [The Editor] Source Editor when returning to Jarl's with the newspaper and telling them that Alva was responsible for the fire, they will reward the Dragonborn. However, Jarl will then demand that the master vampire, Movarh, be dealt with. Slay the Vampire Master [source editor] Movarh at his time. As they left Highmoon Hall, a mobile and Thonnir in the lead gathered to help in taking retribution on the Vampires. In the northeast is Movarh's Lair where the Movarh Piquine lies in wait. The Visfolk can either be told to stay, as they will likely die, or Thonnir may be coming. The vampire forces serve as Guardians of the tiny cover of vampires. Movarh can get seated at a large banking table. Alva, after running the town, was found in a rear room with several rolls. It will usually be killed by patrols in female vampire that due to having no protective weapons and only its Vampiric Drainage accredited with dagger. Strategy [source editor] to kill the Vampire Master, one method is to retire in the cave. There is a point where the Master Vampire and his torso are not going past – the room with the Nord and Redguard bodies in an open grave is safe. Retiring at this point will allow dragonborn to heal themselves. Nord, Redguard, and the Vampire Tiralls (once killed) can sometimes be brought back to life temporarily by Movarh or other morgages and will start attacking, not standing until they or those who are risen to death. Alva can also be risen after the vampires kill him. The cloth vampire are too powerful to increase the Horde or Reanimate body spell, however, they can be pre-emptively raised with revenge to prevent Movarh from doing the same. If the Dragonborn has a high sneak level, it's possible to sneak up on an ugly on the left side when entering the cave where Movarh sits. From up there, he and the Vampire Tirall can shoot with a bench. If the Dragonborn chose the demand as active in the newspapers, there will be a demand indicator above Movarh's mind during the fight. The indicator remains visible when Movarh turns invisible, making it easy to target him. It can be easier to visit Movarh's Lair before starting the demand and cleaning it out. That way, when going after Movarh, one has to deal with him alone, and there will only be whatever he raised his dead back up. Once Movarh died and on the way out of the hole, the Dragonborn will see Helgi's flames. He's going to thank the Dragonborn, say he's ready to sleep, and disappear. Return to Jarl Morthal [source editor] Once Movarh was and his cover was eligible, reported back to Jarl to the reward of a reward. Besides the gold, Jarl will offer the title of the Pass of Hjaalmarch given that three people in the hold are helping with their problems. If the battle for Fort Snowhawk has already been completed, the title will already be available to the Dragonborn. If Kehfire is installed, Can Windstead Manor can be purchased through Jarl's intention for 5000. Target 70: Investigating Alva's 95 Morthal's Home Jarl asked me to investigate the fire that killed Hrogar's wife and child. The Vampire Alva had enslaved Hrogar and killed his family in a house fire. The Alva master of Lair Lair's plan of the Movarh to slave the entire city. Objective 95: Show alva's newspaper Jarl 100 Morthal's Jarl asking me to investigate the fire that killed Hrogar's wife and child. The Vampire Alva had enslaved Hrogar and killed his family in a house fire. The owners of Alva lair's Lair Movarh planned to slave the entire city. Trivia [source editor] If both Alva and Hroggar died during break-in, false from their home, even without witnesses, can earn a visit to hire thugs and a deal laid out by a dying Hrogar man. If Alva dies but Hrogar remains alive during the break-in attempt, subsequent attempts to speak to Hroggar will cause him to come immediately to attack. If Alva is kill before the attack on Movarh's Lair, then it is possible to find it there, if the attack occurs at night. However, it is treated as a treatment by Movarh and his group, and is easily killed by them if discovered, makes almost impossible to save him unless the vampire who patrols the killing area quickly. It's possible for both Alva and Hroggar to survive after finishing at the request. This can be done if the Dragonborn enters Alva's house at night (so Alva isn't there), and then avoid killing Hroggar. This is possible with a high level of Sneak and waiting for him to be faced away where Dragonborn needs to go. Alternatively, it's possible Hrogar wound up to the point where he's giving up and kneeling. Also, using a Spelling Calm or The Vampire's Seduction on Hroggar will make him non-hostile. Any method will provide enough time to rapidly retrieve Alva's dinner in the next room and exit the house. Hrogar should not be sued. He will be even non-hostile and will even thank Dragonborn once the demand is successfully completed, even though Alva will still live in the same house. This is almost impossible in most cases, as Alva floats into the Movarh Lair once leading it retrieved in and is killed by the vampires. The player can also pickpocket Hroggar too when he works to get the key to the house and break through when Alva is absent; this allows both the letter characters to stay intact. It is possible to take the newspaper to also leave Alva alive using a calm effect, for example the Voice of the Emperor. He will be standing in Morthal until the headline passes through jarl, after which he will flee to The Movarh Lair and either take sides with the vampires or be killed by them. It seems Hroggar will thank the Dragonborn and remain non-hostile as long as Alva didn't die at the dragonborn hand during the penultimate stage of the demand. If Alva's home is entered before they attack the Movarh Lair and during the day, he might be in his coffin in the cellular. If Sneak Dragonborn's skills are big enough, he can be killed in his brain before he attacks. Rare clothing can then be taken down. If Benor is the Dragonborn follower during that request he will still join the mobile. It will reunite the Dragonborn after the sequence outside the Lair Movarh. If Lair Movarh's entry before talking to the outside mobile, it won't follow. The Dragonborn must exit the air and talk to the people in the mobile before it will follow again. If Thonnir has spoken to outside Lair Movarh's, the dialogue will have the option to have him join the Dragonborn (including any followers) of the attack on the air. The other members of the house returned home. Jessica's wine is supposedly associated with Laid at rest [1] but it seems to have no us in whatsoever. You can find the wine inside Jorgen and Lami near the lumber mill in Morthal. If Thonnir is hit by the dragonborn crash, he'll start attacking back. Bugs[editor]edit source] This section contains bugs that are related to Laid to Rest. Before adding a bug to this list, consider the following: Please reload an old save confirm if the bug is still happening. If the bugs are still designed, please post the bug report with appropriate system model 360/XB1 , PS3 / PS4 , PC / MAC , NX , depending on which platform(s) the bugs were met on. Click to show the Jarl 360 cannot pronounce the Dragonborn Pass. That's avoiding being able to get Blade's at Hjaalmarch. PC 360 PS3 Helgi can't talk to the Dragonborn after Laelette's murder or when his coffin is activated. The request is still able to be completed once all the other steps are done, and Jarl will always provide the reward. To avoid that, Helgi's coffin must be activated immediately after killing Laelette and before Thonnir arrives at the corpse of his late wife, who fiercely progresses into the next part of the request. After killing Laelette, she may get up and start walking in place. It can still be searched and still regarded as the necessary mo confirmation that Laelette cannot turn hostile, and will not respond when the Dragonborn tries to talk to it confirmation is needed if Movarh dies before the mobile reaches the outside of the dungeon (and has a title dialogue where the Dragonborn nomine is to go to) the mobile will re at the entry dungeon confirmation needed Alva can turn hostile if it's a conversation and attack the Dragonborn as any other vampire would (and may possibly be helped by Hroggar if close to the house). Even if in self defense, retaliation and/or murder it will still count as a murder and in a necessary confirmation bounty confirmation when he leaves the cave after killing Movarh, the ghostly helgi will start talking, but occasionally he can disappear and his dialogue will be cut off. This can happen if the dragonborn attempts to start a conversation with him as he is speaking his dialogue.Confirmation is needed if Thonnir follows the Dragonborn to the grave, and then that this request is abandoned, it will continue to follow. This makes it hard to eat / kill, since a bug can arrive where it will not leave the Dragonborn service until the request is complete.confirmation needs PC PC PS3 if Alva dies at his house before requesting investigation of his house, the Alva newspaper may not appear. 360 PS3 When entering the cell at Alva's home, portions of the floor may be missing and replaced with a green background color. objects The missing floor, such as basket, might fall into the green section of the missing floor, disappearance, disappear, respond and collapse of the green section of missing repeatedly. If the Dragonborn walks on a section of the floor that disappears, it can slowly sink below the floor to the point where it is looking at the cellular under the floor. Walking back on a section of the missing floor would have allowed the Dragonborn to climb above the floor once again. Sometimes, if the cave is entered before speaking to the mobile, then Movarh kills with the quest to finish, the membership members will completely disappear into the game. The movarh lair will always have all his people reviewed after every required indoor visit.confirmation during the last steps of the request, upon meeting Alva in the vampire's tomb, he can't start combat. If it is attacked, the Dragonborn will provide a fine of 40.confirmation is needed now, the only way to avoid this problem is to break into Alva's house while it is sleeping there, thus avoiding witnesses. Movarh's body may disappear after speaking to Jarl Idgrod regarding him being killed. Die Thralling becomes impossible because of this, and putting additional items in his inventory will not prevent him from disappearing the necessary Confirmation Reference [Editor] edit source] † In Which the ID of jessica's wine is MS14WineAltoA.
