Bryce walker 13 reasons why season 3

This article is about the characters in the series. Maybe you're looking for book characters? 17 - 18 (Season 1)18 - 19 years (Season 3) Bryce Walker was the protagonist of 13 reasons. He was the main adversary for the first two seasons, responsible for the rape of Jessica and Hannah, and finally his ex-girlfriend Chloe. He comes from a wealthy family; his mother has a great legacy and his father is a wealthy businessman, Bryce has nothing short of parental love. In the third season, we learn from flashbacks in which Bryce tried to make amends and show that he wasn't a bad guy: by regularly taking news of Tyler after his assault and explaining in the final cassette for Jessica, especially his attempts at salvation. After being violently beaten and his arm and leg broken by Jacques Dempsey, Bryce is pushed into an evergreen river by Alex Standall, drowning under the gaze of Alex and Jessica. He met and helped Justin in elementary school and has been friends ever since. Series [Edit - Wikicode Edit] Season 1 [Edit - Edit Wikicode] Bryce appears several times in cassettes, where he usually behaves unbearable. When he does something to Hannah it's time to grab Justin's phone and post a picture of Hannah on the slide with his panties visible. Following Hannah's list of best Nas appearances, Bryce will touch this part of the store where Hannah often comes from, which will hurt her tremendously. In the hallway of Liberty High School, Bryce and his athlete were talking to Justin Foley about their date with Hannah the night before. When Justin showed him a photo of Hannah while slipping in the playground, Bryce grabbed his phone and sent a photo of Hannah to everyone at school, and he balzed at Hannah's easyness and rumors of prostitutes. early blow to his reputation. At Pep's meeting, the Liberty Tigers basketball team began the preseason and was the first step toward a return to the state finals, principal Gary Bolan said. Bryce, who won the Captain's Award this season, was called on stage to introduce the college team. He called this year's selection team after a short speech thanking him for receiving the award. When Bryce called Justin's name, he didn't show up. Jessica worried about him all day and didn't show up for the rally. After Bryce took Marcus and Jacques home. In fact, Justin was hiding in Bryce's pool house and playing video games to avoid the consequences of Hannah's recordings. Another memorable moment for him in Hannah's portrayal was that when she raped Jessica when she passed away, she was not conscious that Hannah was in the closet. He also reportedly broke Hannah's soul because he raped her in her hot tub, leaving fingerprint marks on her arms and back. He later confessed that he raped Hannah to Clay when he confronted her without knowing he was recording it, after a serious blow to Clay. Later, Tyler suggested to others that Bryce could be set up as a scapegoat to take the fall because his crimes are far more serious than they were committed. Despite the fact that this was seriously considered, Tyler was shot. Season 1 and 2 [edit] Take advantage of Jessica's absence from remaining at home, Justin ran away from home and Alex recovered from his suicide attempt, changing Jessica's story by saying he made her look like a liar and that she slept with him to cheat on Justin. Jack introduces Chloe Rice. The announcement of Bakers' trial in Season 2 [Edit - Wikicode Edit] worried Monty and he told Bryce that they should take care of Clay, bryce told him not to worry, bryce would meet Jessica and Alex later and wish him a happy comeback. He married Mr. Porter in the bathroom. As a result of Tyler's testimony, he threatens him because he talked about him at trial. He asks Chloe how this goes through training and how she manages Jessica and invites her to dinner with her parents. He and Monty mock Jacques because he cares for Alex, and Jessica looks at her precariously before his testimony. He is subpoenaed and hidden from his entourage. Marcus can be upset by his relationship with Hannah during his testimony. He and Jacques, Monty, and Scott Reed learn that the ballpark has been damaged. During a meal with his parents and Chloe, his father noted that he had chosen her well and that she would be useful in her testimony. He learns from the team that Justin has been seen but does nothing, and was surprised when he showed up at the restaurant to talk to Jessica, then filmed by a fainting Clay and Tony. He asks Chloe a question. After Jacques' testimony and his hidden relationship with Hannah, he laughs at him and can't fight back. He comes to wish Alex a birthday and asks if his mother planned the cake, and Alex calls him a rapist. Full of students. Later, he has forced sex with Chloe. The broadcast of the tape made things worse, Bryce's locker was vandalized and 14 of the tapes were broadcast to the school's loudspeakers recorded without his knowledge by Clay. He was able to have a discussion with Justin and destroy his little respect for himself. In the ceremony, Marcus speaks of Bryce under pressure, revealing that he is protecting his rapist and running away. His father, trying to find a reasonable explanation, threatens him by joining Marcus and saying he made a big mistake. The next day, he takes Clay aside and threatens him because he thinks he's behind Marcus's blackmail. He met Sherry on the way to the clubhouse, smokes a cigarette and takes a picture of her without realizing that Clay and Justin are sending. During the game, he is confused and argues with Jacques, who has left the team. During his testimony, he testified that he slept with Hannah several times and raped him because Hannah wanted to stop him. He was congratulated by his teammates, but was attacked by Justin, Tony, Jack and Alex, causing a scuffle in the hallway. After the game, he watches Scott chat with Clay. He insists that Chloe will testify against her and that even if she changes her mind, she will have to rematch in Korean. He thinks about Hannah's rape and erection, and later his mother asks her to tell the truth and Bryce tells us more about Hannah's rape. In the evening, he hears a noise and stands outside, and finds Clay and Justin, armed with guns, trying to calm him down. Bryce wanted to call the police but Justin ordered him not to move, the latter managed to calm him down and Bryce recorded that they were nonsense and mentioned new witnesses for the trial and noted that he threatened Justin that he had something to lose. But he retorts that he has nothing to lose. Justin's testimony changes nothing, the high school is not responsible for Hannah's suicide, and he reconciled with Chloe. At the end of the trial, he is arrested by police on suspicion of sexual assault and threatens that Jessica has just made a big mistake. A month later, Bryce confronts Jessica at a closed-door hearing to apologize for her actions, and while Jessica wants to go to jail, the judge has a three-month probation disposition that sparked Lynie Jensen's ire, especially after the hefty sentence imposed on Justin. Bryce says he's changing and repeating high school for Jacques and will play on the pitch again next year. Monty came to him to say that Tyler was back, but Bryce doesn't care and understands that he is partly responsible for his situation, and he asks him to stay away. At a party he The dream they had and Clay being interrupted by coming to make sure Justin was ok. Bryce's Error (Reason 12)[Edit - Edit wikicode] Bryce is responsible for the rape of Jessica Davis and Hannah Baker. Appearance [Edit - Wikicode Edit] Bryce is medium in size and slightly less than he is, he has short brown hair and slightly pink cheeks. He often wore a white shirt, a blue sweater or a blue flannel shirt. It's a relationship [edited] Justin Foley [edited - Wikicode edit] Bryce and Justin met in kindergarten while the latter was fighting over ridicule. Bryce immediately came to the defense because the two are best friends. Justin could always rely on Bryce when he didn't have the money to buy shoes, food and even school supplies. The two also told the story with the girls, exaggerating the facts from time to time. But this friendship was shattered on the night Bryce raped Jessica. After the incident, their friendship was based on the fact that Justin was hiding the truth of Jessica, who lost consciousness during her attack. Justin will eventually confess to Jessica's rape. Justin admits he loved Bryce very much, even if he was no longer a friend, and vice versa. We know that when he was martyred in Hillcrest, Justin was the first person Bryce contacted with the anecdote [edited wikicode] Bryce is the only one mentioned on the tape, and we haven't heard from him. Clay confesses to Hannah Baker's rape before recording it without his knowledge and giving it to Mr. Porter. Of all the 13 reasons, Bryce is considered the most important, with tapes showing his complicity in two rapes. Tyler even points to this by suggesting that Bryce use it as a scapegoat, so he put a toe to others. Tony says the tape mentions others, but Bryce is responsible for Hannah's death, even though Justin sent him photos of Hannah taken throughout the school. Bryce started Alex's list and then assaulted Hannah to check on the objectivity of the list. Bryce deduced the identities of the two women from the photo and told Monty to repeat it to Hannah and Courtney. Bryce bets with Marcus if he can sleep with Hannah. Bryce taunted Jacques as Hannah pushed him away, furthering his anger. Bryce raped Jessica in the room where Hannah was hiding. Bryce raped Hannah.
