The tattoo was signed by tattoo artist Josh Lord from New York. You know what the words on Evan's collarbone say? Or is it a fake tat? It's a real tattoo, she says: When you lose touch with the inner still, you lose touch with yourself. When you lose touch with yourself, you lose yourself in the world. This is Eckhart Tolle's quote. I basically do this as a reference for myself! If any of the facts are wrong, please correct me! Feel free to add if I missed anything.1. Kanji Japanese symbol for familythe first is a kanji symbol for the family, kind of like a simplified version of the japanese word for the family to be 家族. 2. Taurus zodiac symboltribal signs of the zodiac are actually quite popular I think for tattoos because the bull is seen as male and a symbol of strength in general. However, one Chris Taurus (April 21 - June 21), a bull who in an interview he stated that it was for his mother because she is a calf (thanks beaprettycupcake!) There are many designs like this one, such as this one or this one. 3. Tolle quotealthough eckhart it is definitely hard to see (and I have not found a good picture of it), it says: When you lose touch with inner deadness, you lose touch with yourself, when you lose touch with yourself, you lose yourself World. Eckhart Tolle. I think it can also be an important aspect of the Buddhist faith (to find your inner unsouth).4 Tribute to his best friend (Matt Bardsley) Chris' best friend since childhood, Matt Bardsley, was killed in a car crash in the early 1920s. As a tribute, Chris got a tattoo that reads: in the loving memory of the bardley with me always. This painting definitely doesn't make it justice.5. Women don't really have a good story for this, so if someone does, feel free to add it. The tattoo is on his upper right shoulder and reads loyalty. Letters brothers and sisters finally (what I know), Chris has a tattoo on his ankle with the letters scs, which are the first letters of his siblings names, Shanna, Carly, and Scott.
