Port townsend ferry stabbing

Assault deadly weapon charged by PORT TOWNSEND - One man has been charged with second-degree assault after he allegedly stabbed another man while they were travelling on a Kennewick state ferry. Christopher Haltom, whose age and hometown were not immediately known, was treated and released from Jefferson Healthcare Hospital in Port Townsend on Wednesday night, according to a probable cause statement written by State Patroltrooper Alisha Gruszewski. Gabriel Thomas Dignum, 22, was charged Thursday morning with Anna Phillips, jefferson county deputy prosecutor's office, second-degree assault with a deadly weapon, Class B felony and unlawful possession of a dangerous weapon, a serious misdemeanor, court documents said. Dignum's hometown was not immediately clear. Dignum's bail was set at $100,000 and his charges are set for September 18 in Jefferson County Superior Court, Philips said Thursday. Dignum changed clothes to avoid identification before leaving the ship, Gruszewski said. Dignum was originally booked into the Jefferson County Jail at 10:53 a.m.m. Wednesday's investigation into first-degree assault, class A felony, unlawful carrying a weapon capable of bodily harm, serious misdemeanor obstruction, obstruction of law enforcement, serious misdemeanor and violating community custody, Class C felony, according to the county jail list. Dignum was traveling with Katherine Abitia, an age and hometown unknown, on the Kennewick ferry to Coupeville on Whidbey Island in Port Townsend about 7:45 a.m.m when they reportedly got into a verbal altercation with Haltom, Gruszewski said. The argument escalated into a physical struggle and Dignum stabbed Haltom in the back with a knife, Gruszewski said in his report. There were two crew members aboard the Kennewick crew and treating Haltom's wound. 6:00 p.m. As the ferry docked, ferry staff and riders pointed out Dignum to PTPD officials, saying he matched the description except for his clothes, Gruszewski said. The clothes correspond to the original description were found in Dignum's backpack, and Dignum tried to hide the shirt, which also matched the original description under the seat of the patrol vehicle, Gruszewski said. A butterfly knife was found in Dignum's backpack and another knife was located on the ferry, Gruszewski said. Abitia tried to obstruct the officers and was booked into the Jefferson County jail, Gruszewski said. Officers found illegal drugs in Abitia's backpack, but Dignum said the drugs were his, the soldier said. Abitia was released. Kennewick was on schedule on Thursday when it was locked in for investigation on Wednesday night. Final sailing on Wednesday was cancelled. _____ Jefferson County reporter Zach Jablonski can be reached by email at or by phone at 360-385-2335, ext. 5h Attack on a deadly weapon charged with PORT TOWNSEND - One man has been charged with second-degree assault after he allegedly stabbed another man while they were travelling on a Kennewick state ferry.
