Greenville county schools calendar 2016-17

Posted: Monday, April 4, 2016 Greenville County Schools is out of its 2016-17 calendar. The calendar 2016-2017 has been on hold until the State Department of Education (SDE) test dates are announced. The first day for school students is Tuesday, August 16. The last day of school is Friday, May 2, 2017. State law requires that school districts start school no earlier than the third Monday in August, and the calendar must include 180 days for students and 190 days for teachers. The 2016-17 holidays are: Labor Day, September 5; Election Day, 8 May 2008 Thanksgiving break, November 23-25; Winter break, December 19-23 and 26-30; Martin Luther King Jr., January 16; President's Day, February 20; Spring break, April 10-14; May 29th. The last three days of school, May 31 - June 2, are half a day for students. During the school year, students do not attend the day-to-day school, which is 13-14. The three school makeup days that exercise are: Makeup Day #1, March 16; Makeup Day #2, March 17; and makeup day #3, April 17. These days change students' school days when days are missed earlier in the school year. Make-up days that are not used will be for school holidays. The commissioner shall designate the school calendar after receiving recommendations from a calendar committee composed of parents, teachers, principals and the region's staff. The Commission will develop a recommended calendar based on input from parent groups, school faculties and other groups of employees. E-mail this page. Print this page. Greenville County Schools released a very preliminary school calendar for the 2015-2016 school year. That's preliminary because many dates in spring can change depending on when the state Department of Education sets statewide testing dates, said Oby Lyles, a school district spokeswoman. The school district typically releases its calendar in January, but delayed it by more than two months in hopes that it could better down shape if testing dates were planned, Lyles said. The state is to award a new contract to a testing company after a state procurement official ruled the state did not comply with its procurement rules when it signed a five-year contract with ACT Inc. The new offer for state tests is unlikely to be granted until the fall, so test dates won't be set until now, the school district said. It can affect spring break, school makeup dates and even the end of the school year, Lyles said. The dates in the calendar affects families to make spring break holiday plans, schedules for day care or preschool centers and many other activities.
