Click here to download the GO 10th Pay Review Commission that said that the scheme does not require any further changes and it can be further implemented as outlined below in the 10th Pay Review Commission G.O.38, automatic advancement Scheme indicated (1). The existing special grade SPP IA/ SAPP IA/ SPP IB/ SAPP IB/SPP-II/SAPP-II may be continued to a special degree after 6 years, SPP-IA/SAPP-IA after 12 years, SPP-IB/SAPP-IB after 18 years and SPP-II/SAPP-II after 24 years. (2). The application of the automatic promotion scheme may be continued until promotion, the Commission recommends that existing incumbents may be exempted from such higher qualifications as to be eligible for special promotion duties under automatic promotion (3). The benefits of wage fixation under F.R.22-B continue to increase iv. When service rules are relaxed to allow regular promotion, they should v. Certain categories, such as Attender, Dafedar, Jamedar, and Record (4). Where the rules on the provision of services are amended to designate additional qualifications for promotion, the Commission recommends that existing established operators may be exempted from such higher qualifications that they can be assigned to special promotion positions under automatic senior positions (5). Where the rules on the provision of services are relaxed in order to allow for regular advertising, they should be automatically extended to the automatic progress scheme in order to extend the benefits of SPP-IA/SPP-II. The benefits of the automatic progress scheme continue to level XXV and include it in the revised scales, i.e. Rs.49,870 to 1,00,770. The revised scales of earnings for 2015 are set out in Annex I. The scales of the automatic progress scheme covering the categories of last class posts, record assistants, Roneo operators and drivers are set out in Annex II. The scheme is considered to have entered into force on 1 July 2013 and from 1 July 2013. In the revised pay scales, the wages paid under this scheme will be paid in cash from March 2015, payable in April 2015. As regards wage locking in arrears under the A.A. scheme on revised pay scales, orders will be issued separately between 2 June 2014 and 28 February 2015.
