Some tournaments also have live updates. 2020-21 Wrestling will be different - updated post-season structure The COVID-19 pandemic has changed everything in our lives, and the scholastic wrestling season 2020-21 will certainly be different from a normal season. Even before the pandemic hit, the PIAA decided to go from 14 to 13 weight classes in high school. But the changes needed only to have a season during a pandemic will be even more drastic. For starters, the schedule of almost every school has changed from its original plan. Tournaments across the state and across the country have been canceled or significantly shortened for this season. Many leagues and schools have decided to postpone the start of their season (some do not plan to start until January). Major post-season changes were recently announced by PIAA - check out the link below for all the details. And, of course, it remains to be seen whether fans will be allowed to watch wrestling live across the state this season. Many teams are expected to record and/or live stream their games this season. Hopefully everyone stays healthy and we get a whole season on the books that culminate in the state championships in Hershey. Everyone has to work together (wearing masks, washing their hands, etc.) as much as possible for the season to be a success. We have no doubt that the wrestling community in PA will do just that! We are working hard to load our database of rosters and schedules as quickly as possible. Due to all the changed schedules, if you have the updated schedule of your team, please send it to us (email@pa-wrestling.com so that we can get it published on the website. Good luck to all wrestlers and coaches this season! NFHS publishes new rules for the 2020-21 season; PIAA goes to 13 weights for high school On Tuesday, April 28, the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) has released its rule changes for the upcoming school ring season 2020-21. The biggest changes, where around weighing and loosening of the rules around hair length. The full list of changes can be found at the following link: 2020-21 High School Wrestling Rules Changes Address Weigh-In Procedures, Hair Length Restrictions (NFHS) The Wrestling Steering Committee voted on a plan that would change high school wrestling in the state to 13 weight classes. This plan was recommended for review by the PIAA Board of Directors at its next meeting on 20 May. The PIAA Board followed the usual procedure of reading and voting on the proposal in three consecutive meetings. At each of these three meetings, which culminated in their meeting on 15 July, the Board of Directors voted unanimously to move to 13 weights for the 2020/21 season. The new 13 weight classes for the high school are: 106, 113, 120, 126, 132, 138, 145, 152, 160, 172, 189, 215, 285 As you can see, there are no changes in the first 9 weights (up to 160) with heavyweight at 285 pounds. The other upper weights have been adjusted, with one dropped. Weight classes are expected to be reviewed after the season, with many believing the NFHS will change weight classes at this stage at the national level. #SanctionPA movement works to sanction girls wrestling in PA Currently sanctioned by the PIAA not officially girls wrestling as a high school sport in the state. The PIAA has said 100 schools must sponsor a girls' wrestling team before sanctioning it and creating a PIAA Girls Wrestling State Championship. SanctionPA is a movement that aims to grow girls struggling within the PA and achieve this goal of 100 schools as soon as possible. Visit sanctionpa.com today to find a lot of information on how to help you start a girls' program at your school. There's even a template document and template presentation that you can use in your proposal for your school. As part of the movement, 9 schools in PA have announced that they will start girls programs! Check out the link below for more details about the movement and which schools promote girls wrestling from 2020-21! 2020-21 SeasonPreview: Returning Wrestler It's never too early to start looking ahead to next season!
