Moby Dick My Side mountain Native Son Story Mortal Instruments Books quizzes - Wings of Fire What Wings of Fire Dragon Are You? Quiz introduction This is my first quiz so enjoy! Take my Dragonett destiny you are after you're done with this quiz. What kind of Wings of Fire are you? The quiz introduction to Clay, Glory, Tsunami, Starflight and Sunny has never left the cave where they were raised. They should be the Dragons of Destiny who should save the world from a terrible war. Mostly they just feel useless. The guards, the dragons who raised them, are probably in doubt, too. The tsunami gets in trouble all the time. Sunny doesn't have that poisonous bark at the end of the tail that every sand wing has. Starflight has no prophetic and telepathic nightwing abilities. And Clay once exceeded expectations and went down that hill. Glory, the Rain Wing, was never part of the prophecy, but replaced Skywing. The war only began when a scavenger (aka a person) killed Queen Oasis and left all three of her daughters fighting for the throne. First Sister Burn decided she needed help to destroy her other sisters and recruit an army of Mudwings and Skywings. Another sister, Blister, is a wise person who decided to merge herself with Seawings. Blaze is the pretty one who decided to ally himself with the icewings (a terrible choice). It would only exacerbate the problem if one of them were queen. Dragons feel terrible. They've been trapped in a cave all their lives, and there's probably families out there wondering where they went. They're anxious to run. Slowly different escape devices have been crossed out of their list. Dragons always take care of each other. But when a shady character begins to interest Dragonets, escaping begins to mean life and death. Death.
