[9] Based on the best-selling novel by Deborah Ellis, the film was an international co-production between Canada, the Republic of Ireland and Luxembourg, and was given a limited release on 17 November 2017. [8] The film had its world premiere at the Toronto International Film Festival 2017 in September. [10] The breadwinner received a nomination for best animated feature at the 90th Academy Awards. Plot Parvana is an 11-year-old girl living in Kabul, Afghanistan, under the control of the Taliban. Her father Nurullah, a schoolteacher, was physically weakened during the Soviet-Afghan war; Because of the war, he lost his left leg and became a hawker. A while later, during dinner, he is unfairly arrested after a volatile young member of the Taliban, Idrees, believes he insulted him earlier while the two were selling goods at the market in Kabul. Parvana's family left without an adult male relative when her older brother Sulayman died years ago, leaving her, her mother Fattema, her older sister Soraya and her youngest brother Zaki without the means to support the family, as they are not allowed to go out without a male relative. Although Parvana and her mother try to go to jail, they are forced to return when a member of the Taliban beats Opffatte and threatens to arrest them if they are recaptured. After Parvana unsuccessfully tries to buy food while going out as a girl, she decides to cut her hair and dress like a boy and pretend to be Nurullah's nephew, Aatish, to support the family. Parvana often entertains By telling the story of a young boy on a journey to retrieve seeds stolen by the evil Elephant King. The trick works and Parvana is able to get both food and money. On the advice of Shauzia, another young girl who dresses as a boy to support her family, parvana goes to the prison, where her father is detained for trying to bribe the guards to let her see him. The plan fails, and Parvana is driven away. She works to save up more money to get a bigger bribe, taking on hard work jobs with Shauzia, who is trying to save enough money to escape from her abusive father. Meanwhile, Fattema is forced to write to a relative in Mazar-i-Sharif, offering Soraya up for an arranged marriage to one of her younger cousins in exchange for shelter and protection. Parvana also meets Razaq, who was with Idrees when her father was arrested; illiterate Razaq pays her to read a letter to him revealing that his wife, Haala, was killed by a mine on the way to a wedding. He befriends her and continues to meet her so she can teach him to read and write. Parvana and Shauzia take a hard work job, where Idrees is also present. He recognizes her, and after being hit abruptly by Parvana with a brick, tries to kill her as she flees with Shauzia. Parvana and Shauzia manage to hide, and Idrees are abruptly called away to fight in a war that has just begun, never to be seen again. When Parvana returns home, Fattema implores her to stop the dangerous trick, telling her that her relatives accepted Soraya and that they would be collected the day after the next. Parvana agrees with the condition that she visit Nurullah in prison to inform him where they will leave, since Razaq has a cousin who works there who will let her in. She tearfully says goodbye to Shauzia and promises they will meet in 20 years. But when Parvana travels to the prison, Fattema's cousin arrives early and forces them to come with him without Parvana, as the war has begun and the roads will soon be blocked. Fattema eventually stands up to his cousin in a furious manner, refusing to let him take them on, and he leaves the family stranded in the way. Parvana arrives at the prison where she finds Razaq. After Parvana reveals that she is Nurullah's daughter, Razaq informs her that his cousin has left to fight, but he will pick up Nurullah; The prison is being cleared of weak prisoners who are unable to fight, and Parvana testifies about their execution. A terrified Parvana gathers his courage to keep finishing the story of the boy as she turns into Sulayman, revealing that he died after picking up a toy in the street that was actually a landmine that exploded. Razaq is shot in the shoulder while rescuing the weak Nurullah, but is wounded outside of everything and reunites and daughter. Parvana takes her father away, where they will soon be reunited with the rest of the as the two continue the story, they told each other at the beginning of the film, Cast Saara Chaudry as Parvana / Aatish[8] Soma Bhatia as Shauzia / Deliwar[8] Ali Badshah as Nurullah[8] Noorin Gulamgaus as Idrees and Sulayman[11] Kane Mahon as Kiln Owner[12] Laara Sadiq as Fattema[8] Shaista Latif as Soraya[8]is as Wizard / Woman in the Courtyard Kawa Ada as Razaq[8] Ali Kazmi as Darya / Fruit Juice Vendor / Jail Warden[12] Mran Volkhard as Mega Phone / Market Seller[8] Reza Sholeh as Stall Seller / Fruit Seller / Guard Man On Bike / Teenage Boy #2[8] Production In May 2016 it was announced that key animation for the film had begun. [8] The breadwinner was a co-production between Aircraft Pictures in Canada, Melusine Productions in Luxembourg and Cartoon Saloon in Ireland. The breadwinner was executive produced by Angelina Jolie, who worked with director Nora Twomey to bring the novel to the screen. Twomey is an Irish animator, director, screenwriter, producer and voice actor. She is also a founding partner of Cartoon Saloon, an Irish animation studio based in Kilkenny that made the main animation for The Breadwinner. Music The film's music is composed by brothers Mychael and Jeff Danna. Its palette of timbres sway between the harsh, to emphasize real life sequences, and the more colorful to illustrate the parallel fantasy story. Performers include a young girls choir whose participation was organized through the Afghanistan National Institute of Music. [13] Reception Box office The film earned $17,395 its opening weekend in North America. As of August 30, 2018[update], the Breadwinner has earned $313,215 in the United States and Canada, and $1,544,296 internationally for a worldwide total of $1,857,511. [7] Critical response On review website Rotten Tomatoes, the film has an approval rating of 95%, based on 104 reviews, with an average rating of 7.88/10. The website's critical consensus reads: The breadwinner's stunning graphics are matched by a story that dares to confront sobering real problems with uncommon - and richly rewarding-honesty. [14] On Metacritic, which assigns a normalized rating to reviews, the film has a weighted average score of 78/100, based on reviews from 20 critics that indicate generally favorable reviews. [15] Kenneth Turan of the Los Angeles Times gave the film a positive review, writing The Breadwinner reminds us once again that the best animation takes us anywhere and makes us believe. [16] Vanessa H. Larson of The Washington Post gave the film three and a half of four stars, praising the animation while criticizing the story for being hard to follow at times. [17] Mark Kermode, writing for the Guardian, gave the film 5/5 stars. [18] Awards Award Date of Ceremony Category Recipients Result Ref.
