Fallsview casino parking

1. Re: Parking at the Fallsview casino question, staying at the embassy 9 years ago Hello Jackie1011, Welcome to the NIAGARA FALLS TRAVEL FORUM. First of all, the prices are The Embassy Suites Hotel are the rate of... Parking here in NF is like any other big city in the tourist area in North America... it's just what it is... a fact of life. Embassy Suites like many Fallsview Hotels offer different rates charged for the on-site valet parking, and for those who charge for off-site parking (although some hotels offer a third option where an off-site auto-parks for an even lower rate). Parking at Niagara Falls is an EXPENSIVE period. It all comes down to real estate... there is only so much land on the escarpment overlooking the waterfalls... and hoteliers would rather build rooms on this strip of land than fill it with cars (much more profitable overall for them). Casino parking is probably the largest piece of disinformation in Niagara Falls. Free parking is almost nonexistent at Niagara Falls anywhere around Falls. And even paying $5 per parking, it's pretty rare. Parking at casinos is literally an outbreak of shit... depends on how much you bet... or what else is happening in the Casino. Sometimes one pays less ... sometimes one pays more. You have to play in order to qualify for any discounted parking. And your game should be done on a player card... stick the card to the Slot Machines when you play... or you have to get valued on a game table. Casinos don't tell their customers how much they need to play to qualify for discount/free parking. For all accounts the amount required can change depending on the time of day, day of week, etc. When you leave the Casino car park with your car... swipe over the players card, and tell you how much you have to pay (for that particular outing). The standard seems to be somewhere between $5 and $25 per exit. (FREE passes, but it seems to happen more often if one is a guest of the Casino Hotel Or if one is betting on the Casino a good deal on your vacation ... it also seems to happen more often on the older property of the Niagara Casino vs. the new Fallsview Casino). The high-end $25 is reflective of what's happening at the Casino... if you decide to leave when there is an event at the Casino, then you could pay that higher rate (it could be a nightly performance... or even a Special Brunch... thinking about Easter, Mother's Day etc) The inconvenience in the casino parking lot is out of place of the hotel being hosted in ... So you'll have to walk over there (from some hotels in the area it might be a bit of a hike), then do some play, get your car and drive back to the Hotel to continue with your plans (i.e. if you were leaving and packing up your luggage/belongings at the end of the trip) VERSUS... Parking at the Hotel, the Hotel, ¼The staff were very friendly and helpful. The disadvantage of using the casino parking lot is the amount you pay to park there is an outbreak of... and you don't know when you need to have last played on the card... of all accounts these are the variables that change (and the Casinos are not saying their formula for this calculation)... So in order to get the best parking fee you need to play right before you get your car out. The advantage is yes, even if you had to pay $25 to get out of the casino parking lot it would be cheaper than what most hotels are charging for a daily/nightly rate (but without IN& privileges Out... I have an advantage card from the players. If I just put $20 into a slot machine with my PAC and withdraw it would be enough or should I play for a while? Also how much is parking if you don't win it? Thank you Oct 1st, 2011 12:20 am whampoa Deal Addict 29, 2001 4793 posts 40 votes Toronto 1st, 2011 12:20 am heri0n wrote: Hey does anyone know exactly how much you need to play to get free parking at casinos? Also how much is parking if you don't win it? Thanks Fallsview Casino parking ranged from $5 to $10 depending on the day. They usually publish the price of the day's car park at the entrance. Free parking is $20 minimum, if asked they are very reluctant to say. But if you press on, that's the amount they'll shed. Free parking with the Players Card is good for the day (24 hours), entry and exit at any time. Mark77 wrote: This is not very nice.... and you're losing a lot of valuable knowledge if you ignore me. For example, if you play $20 on blackjack (table or machine makes no difference), earn $20 back and so break even, that's $20 that you played. That's why slot machines aren't the best options to use for free parking. Easier are the cause of the board game that have no way of determining how much you bet in total, just look at the amount or buy with and the length of time. I would suggest going to the big wheel, min $1 to play, buy for like $40. give them the players' card, and stay for like 5-10 minutes placing bets of $1-$2 on the 1:1 line, could lose $1-2 here and there, you also don't need to take a turn, but you'll have either free parking. or just go to the poker desktop and hand them over by saying, hey can u sign me and that should work. otherwise niagara casino, im pretty sure you don't have free parking. you still have to play there as well. So I signed up for the free players advantage card and asked about parking this past weekend. They said they just put in $20 to play and they would have to cover it. What they couldn't mention is that if you play the slots, you have to stay in the same machine to pick up the 'credit/point' to park. I took out the card early to change slots and didn't get the point. Halfway through I realized I didn't get a point. So I charged either $11 or what I had on my card and asked about the tables. Basically they carry the card to validate it for parking. I managed to show a new $20, but in the end. As soon as the guy behind walked away, I just bet the minimum table $10. I should have done this at first. Anyway, needless to say, i spend nearly $20 but no more. The same deal with fallsview, play $20 worth or rack up 1 point which is a better indicator since the card doesn't know money played just points.
