Feral druid leveling guide

Raegar posted on 5/12/2011, 12:37 Visto che qui sul forum non ho trovato nulla di simile e per noi livellini può essere utile quote una guida presa in internet che ho seguito per salire che trovate completa di immagini sul sito originale theworldofwarcrafters.blogspot.comCITAZIONEIntroductionDwdswewed. This is because of their sheer versatility that allows you to do just about anything you want; Whether it's tank, cure or DPS (melee DPS/ranged DPS), you'll even be able to surpass the other classes (most people say Druids do well in all roles but aren't the best on any of them – I disagree). In this guide I will focus on effectively and efficiently leveling a wild druid, including: rotations, talents, heirloom equipment and general tips. If you prefer go Balance, check out our Druid Balance 1-80 Leveling Talent Build (3.3.5)Beastspirit (Frostwolf)Table or ContentLeveling SpecTalentsRotationsTipsStatsHeirloom GearClass QuestsGlyphsAddonsLevElingThe fastest way to level a druid (without downtime) is Feral by subspeccing in Restoration for a few key talents. Balance has its own potential, especially after level 40 (when you pick up Moonkin Form and a number of other talents that drastically reduce your downtime), but are generally slower than Feral. If you decide to level as balance, go to our Druid Balance 1-80 Leveling Talent Build/Guide (3.3.5) TIP: [You (and probably should) always re-spec to Balance after lv 40] Level 10 - 19 is an exception. You take the slow bear gravel route and don't have to worry about a respec later (not really a problem on most realms) or speed up the process with Balance leveling for 10 levels (I recommend Starlight Wrath - 5/5, Moonglow - 3/3 and Nature's Majesty - 3/3). To do this you also need to invest in Intellect gear and heaps of water. Make sure you mark from Wild and Thorns refreshed for pulling.1 - 9:-Make sure you keep Mark of the Wild and item=19019>Thorns Thorns refreshed at all times.-Use Wrath of max range and when the enemy reaches you, Continue with melee.-When you obtain Moonfire use it once (and once only) after opening with Wrath (only if it's worth the mana).-When you obtain Beaking Roots, use it after opening Wrath. Then continue by applying Moonfire. Don't worry if the roots break.-Use a wand (or other weapon) with the highest DPS available, because you don't have any forms yet. Rotation: Wrath of max range and root the enemy. Bring Moonfire if it's worth the mana then continue using Wrath until the enemy reaches you, then go to melee it to death (if it's not already dead, that is). Make sure Mark of the Wild and Thorns are applied at all times. Wrath > Moonfire > Wrath (> Melee)10 - 19:-Use Wrath and apply Moonfire (if you need/want to pull).-Transform in Bear Form, use Demoralizing Roar and continue using maul where possible.-If you end a fight with more than 20 anger and enough HP, pull the next enemy with Growl and continue without shifting. Rotation: Wrath of max range and then adjust Moonfire if you need to draw range. Transform into Bear Form, use Demoralizing Roar and use Maul where possible.20 - 49:-Transform in Cat Form.-Use Prowl and stealth behind the enemy (if you need to pull range, do this with Faerie Fire (Feral) or Moonfire).-Open with Havoc once you learn it and if you learn Pounce use the place mentioned later.-If you opened with Pounce use Shred before the stun runs out (sometimes you have to use Tiger's Fury and then shred again).-Use Faerie Fire (Feral).-Apply Rake if you have it.-Use Claw until you have 5 Combo Points.-Use Ferocious Bite (or Rip if the fight is going to last longer).-You can activate Tiger's Fury at any time when you need extra energy and or damage.-If the target(s) is (are) not dead , re-add rake and continue the cycle from there. Rotation: Transform in Cat Form, Stealth Behind the Enemy (or Use Feral Charge) and open with Pounce (then Shred if you have 2/2 Shredding Attacks); Havoc if you don't have pounce. Use Faerie Fire (Feral). Apply Rake and use Claw until you have 5 Combo Points. Use Ferocious Bite or Rip if you don't have it and activate Tiger's Fury. If you face multiple enemies let the first target bleed to death while starting the cycle of Rake on the next enemy.50 - 69:-Same as above, but:-Instead of using Claw until you get 5 Combo Points, use Mangle.Rotation: Transform into Cat Form, Stealth behind the enemy (or use Feral Charge) and open Pounce (then Shred if you have 2/2 Shredding Attacks). Use Faerie Fire (Feral). Apply Rake and use Mangle until you get 5 Combo Points. Use Ferocious Bite and activate Tiger's Fury. If you face multiple enemies let First target bleeding dead while starting the cycle of Rake on the next enemy.70 - 80:-Same as above, but:-You don't always have to start a fight stealthed (it's highly recommended though).-When you fight multiple enemies use Savage Roar.Rotation: Transform in Cat Form, stealth behind the enemy (or use Feral Charge) and open with Pounce (then Shred if you're 2/2 Shredding Attacks). Use Faerie Fire (Feral). Apply Rake and use Mangle until you get 5 Combo Points. Use Ferocious Bite and activate Tiger's Fury. When facing multiple enemies, use Savage Roar after the opening, apply bleeds and let the first target bleed to death and start rake's cycle on the next enemy. TipsInstances:- Always keep Mark of the Wild on everyone and Thorns on the tank.- Save your rebirth for when the tank or healer falls during a boss battle/script.- Learn to change roles in battle, especially if you're DPSing. Off Tanking and even Off Healing can both be done just as well with this spec while leveling (healing to Outland).- Consider putting together a healing gear set for when you are called upon to heal in the outland and beyond. Just look for leather and cloth will spell power and intellect. Solo:- If you need to heal, just shapeshift out in Caster Form and cast Rejuvenation and Lifebloom; the HoT's (Heal over Time) of these two instant cast spells will outweigh the DPS of a solo mob + Lifebloom has a special extra healing after it runs out or otherwise taken away from you (with a purification for example). If you are dangerously low on HP, Use Regrowth for these spells.- If you don't get the cure, use Nature's Grasp for an instant carrot and back away about 10-25 yards, or use Barkskin to avoid being interrupted - or both.- To help with healing in the middle of a fight, either transform into Bear Form and use Bash or cast Nature's Grasp and leave after the enemy is rooted.- When killing a tough crowd/elite, First cast all three HoT's (Regrowth, Rejuvenation and Lifebloom) on yourself, transforming into Bear Form, cast Barkskin and use Feral Charge.Professions:- Skinning and mining are the best options money-wise and give handy buffys to HP and Crit as well.- Herbalism and Alchemy are also good professions for a Druid should you want to stick within role-playing boundaries or want to have a production appeal. There's a lot of money in Alchemy market and.- Skinning and Leather processing are the best choice if you want to make your own gear, but most of the gear that Druids from Leatherworking will use is BoE anyway, so I'd leave this to the shamans, hunters and villains.- First aid is a great profession for everyone; healing lessons included. Learn it, level it, love it. Dual Spec: Druid you have multiple options for a dual spec. It's worth picking up dual spec at level 40 if you have a main to fund it; finance; at level 40 is quite expensive for a first time player.- A Resto dual spec will allow you to heal cases while leveling more easily; Especially if you have some caster gear.- A Feral (Tank) dual spec will refuel slightly easier in instances and let you try AoE Bear Grinding.- A balance dual spec will give you the ability to level in a different way and take a break from Feral if you want.- A PvP dual spec will make battlefield leveling (battlefields give no experience on Molten-WoW) much easier and enjoyable. On PVP-Realms (all Molten-WoW ones included), this can also help against some other faction members you might find on your adventures. StatisticsLook for statistics in the following order: Agility > Stamina > Strength > Critical Strike > Attack Power > Intellect.1. Agility: Needed for Crit, Armor and Dodge. Also gives Attack Power in Cat Form (1 AGI = 1 AP in Cat Form).2. Endurance: Needed for Health.3. Strength: Needed for Attack Power (1 STR = 2 AP).4. Critical Strike: Needed for increased Crit chance.5. Attack Force: Needed to increase rough damage.6. Intellect: Needed for Mana for emergency heals and transforms. Heirloom GearThes are not must haves, but they do greatly improve leveling speed/convenience. [NOT recommended for Sargerass/Deathwing/Neltharion(/Warsong)] TIP: [They are soulbound to account, which means you send them via the email system to another character on the same account]Heirlooms (search here for the names): -> available through the Points Shop (watch tutorial our video tutorial HERE)- Stained Shadocraft Tunic -> 50 Voting Points (Chest)- Stained Shadocraft Spaulders -> 50 Voting Points (Shoulders)- Reused Lava
