Rio Hondo University is a public community college in North Whittier, California. The university is named after Rio Hondo. Founded in 1960, the company mainly operates cities in Whittier, Pico Rivera, Santa Fe Springs, El Monte and South El Monte. Rio Hondo University offers 30 associate degrees, 60 associate degrees and 127 certificates for transfers guaranteed transfer to California State University. [3] Rio Hondo offers on-campus, online and suburban courses to all students. California's first community college to earn a bachelor's degree in automotive technology. Rio Hondo also provides pathway programs to law schools at one of california's top six law schools. It is edied by the Community and Junior Colleges Commission of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. In addition to this, it is also home to the Rio Hondo Fire Academy, Rio Hondo Wildlands Fire Academy, EMT Program, and Rio Hondo Police Academy. The university has been recognized for its services to Hispanic students. [4] The Historic Rio Hondo University District was established in October 1960, encompassing the boundaries of the Whittier Union High School District. [5] The board was established in April 1962 as it expanded to include the Elancho Unified and El Monte Union High School Districts. In May 1963, the board nominated Rio Hondo, a community college named after the nearby Rio Hondo River. [5] While voters in the District approved $12 million to build Rio Hondo University in October 1963, classes were temporarily held at Sierra and El Rancho high schools. [5] The current campus outside Walkman Mill Road opened for classes in the fall of 1966. [5] In October 2011, the Rio Hondo University Council adopted a budget that prohibited cuts, and neighboring community colleges were suffering from budget cuts across the board due to a lack of state funding. [6] In October 2011, Ted Martinez Jr. filed a formal complaint against three professors at the school who were active union leaders. He said they had suffered a stroke by creating a hostile work environment. [7] The President has asked the Board to hire consultants. The payment of $5,000, without being told by the board that it was an independent investigator on the allegations. The cost later blossomed to $40,000. Independent investigator Angela J. Reddock found that the allegations had no merit. Ted Martinez Jr. retired when the board upheld the investigators' findings. The action against the Rio Hondo Community College District was filed by the California Teachers Association for unfair labor practices.
